SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (UPI) — The killers of a wealthy eye surgeon and four other persons left a note near his blazing mansion declaring "World War 3" against those who "misuse the environment."

Sheriff's deputies revealed Wednesday night they had found the note tucked under a windshield of slain Dr. Victor M. Ohta's red Rolls Royce.

Deputies also announced they were hunting three "hippie-type" persons, one a woman, as suspects. Shot and killed were Dr. Ohta, 47; his wife, Virginia, 41; their sons, Victor Taggart, 11, and Richard Derrick, 12; and the physician's secretary, Mrs. Dorothy Cadwallader, 38. The mansion was set afire and firemen found the bodies.

FEAR REPRISALS

The mass killings recall the Sharon Tate case for which the Charles Manson hippie "family" is being tried in Los Angeles. The sheriff's department feared reprisals against hippies who have established 25 communes in this mountainous area south of San Francisco.

As deputies hunted for three persons seen near Mrs. Ohta's stolen station wagon after the deaths, undersheriff Paul W. Tara pleaded that "sober judgment . . . prevail over any emotional reaction."

The note's contents were:

"Today World War 3 will begin as brought to you by the free universe.

"DEATH PENALTY"

"From this day forward anyone and or company of persons who misuses the natural environment or destroy same will suffer the penalty of death by the people of the free universe.

"I and my comrades from this day forth will fight until death or freedom, against anything or anyone who does not support natural life on this planet, materialism must die or mankind will."

It was signed: "Knight of Wands, Knight of Cups, Night of Pentacles and Knight of Swords," with the "K" omitted once.

Mrs. Ohta's station wagon, stolen near the blazing mansion, was abandoned in a railroad tunnel near a state park and struck by a spur-line locomotive. A person whom deputies refused to identify reported seeing three persons near the wagon after the slayings.

PARK MANHUNT

Volunteers and law officers searched on horseback and with dogs through the state park with 100-foot high redwoods adjoining the tunnel where the station wagon was found.

Sheriff James said three sets of "barefoot footprints" had been found beside a stream near the tunnel and that a white van had been noticed in the neighborhood before the station wagon was found.

The body of a bound and shot gasoline station attendant, Thomas Dececco, 19' was found 18 miles away from the tunnel at Saratoga. Deputies would not speculate whether there was a connection.

Church Bombed Prior To Policeman's Rites

No One Injured By Blast

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A bomb exploded outside a church today as mourners, including 300 policemen and Mayor Joseph Alioto, gathered for the funeral of a police officer killed in a shoot-out with a bank robber.

No one was injured when the explosive device, planted in shrubbery about three feet from the front door of St. Brendan's Catholic Church went off with a blast which shook the church and surrounding houses.

CHURCH'S LOCATION

Some mourners, police and reporters had already started filing into the church, walking a few feet from the bomb, when the explosion occurred at 9:47 a.m.

There were about 50 to 100 persons in the church at the time. Others were outside and still others of the mourners, including Alioto, were in the cortege a few blocks away.

Hamilton's flag-draped coffin, carried by six uniformed policemen, was brought into the church about 10:45 a. m. and the funeral was held as scheduled.

ON THE WAY

The funeral cortege for Patrolman Harold L. Hamilton, 32, shot to death at a Wells Fargo branch bank Monday, was on its way from the funeral home for the services, scheduled at 10 a.m.

"It sounded like a terrible bomb," said a teacher at St. Brendan's school next door. Across the street, Mrs. Edna Peters, said the explosion shook her house.

The blast discolored the front of the stucco-faced church, built in California mission-style with a red tile roof and barred windows.

It did little visible damage to the outside, but Chief Al Nelder said it may have done "extensive damage" to the underpinnings and the walls.

Police and firemen swarmed over the building and sealed off the area. Policemen discounted reports by a resident of "two men" seen fleeing the site and said they believed the bomb was a timed device which had been planted hours earlier.

"We're going to make another fast search of the building and then go ahead with the funeral to show these bums they can't scare us out," said Alioto, his voice shaking with anger.

He blamed the explosion on a "psychotic crew" of terrorists. "We're going to stop this nonsense," he said.

Although there were no serious injuries, some reporters were struck with flying dirt and small debris. Mrs. Peters said something was hurled across

Two U.S. Generals Are Held Prisoner By Russ

MOSCOW (UPI)—An aircraft carrying two U.S. Army generals "violated the air space" of the Soviet Union and is being held in the Armenian city of Leninakan, Moscow Radio said today.

The radio report said the U.S. Air Force Beechcraft U8 propeller driven plane carried four men — the two generals, a U.S. Air Force major and a Turkish Colonel on a flight from Turkey.

The two generals are Maj. Gen. Edward C.D. "Pony" Scherrer, 57 of Shawneetown, Ill., and Brig. Gen. Claude Monroe McQuarrie Jr., 45, of Ft. Benning, Ga. Both are attached to the U.S. military assistance program in Turkey.

A Pentagon spokesman said in Washington the Soviets informed the U. S. Embassy in Moscow that the generals' plane landed safely in the USSR, that the occupants "appear to be well" and that the plane "strayed off its course because of bad weather."

The incident came at an unusually touchy period for relations among the United States, the Soviet Union and Turkey.

The Soviets are campaigning vigorously for the extradition of two Lithuanians who hijacked a Soviet AN22 passenger plane to Turkey last week. The Soviet press has sought to establish a connection between the hijackers and the U.S. intelligence service.

Leninakan, where the plane landed, is a city of 150,000 persons just across the eastern border. It is 575 miles east of Ankara and about 125 miles northwest of Jerevan, the capital of Armenia.

Tass said "the competent Soviet authorities have been instructed to investate the circumstances connected with the above mentioned violation of the Soviet Union's state frontier by a plane of the U.S. Air Force.

Novato Gets Priority For Bypass Plan

SACRAMENTO — The $14 million freeway bypass for Novato was budgeted today for fiscal 1971-72, but construction start may be delayed until early 1972 because of a lack of cash, state highway engineer John A. Lagarra said today.

"The project is in the list and has a high priority on the list submitted to the state highway commission," Lagarra said. The commission, meeting today, is expected to act on the engineers list, he said.

Cash flow alone will determine when the project goes to bid, if approved by the commission, he said. If there is improvement in the cash situation, the project could go to bid as early as the first of next year, Lagarra siad.

Novato City Councilman George C. Quesada, City Mgr. Charles A. Brown and Nathan E. Dean of the Novato Chamber of Commerce yesterday asked the commission to speed up the Novato project and Brown later reported that it might be delayed until the spring of 1972.

Last May the Novato council approved an agreement with the state division of highways for the Atherton Avenue-San Marin Drive interchange, but in June ordered public works director Clifford E. Temps not to sign the agreement. The council wanted to change the design to stop a 125-foot cut in the hill west of the interchange.

Alan S. Hart, district engineer in the San Francisco office, today said that the state has all the agreement with Novato that it needs to go ahead with the bypass. Timing of the bids will depend on when the money is available, he said.

Nixon, Gromyko Meet In Private

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko met today for a private discussion which the President hopes will ease the Middle East crisis and eliminate the possibility of a direct confrontation between the two nuclear super-powers.

Sitting in on the meeting were Secretary of State William P. Rogers; Nixon's national security adviser, Henry A. Kissinger, Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin and a Soviet interpreter.

Among items on the Nixon-Gromyko agenda were the new U. S. Indochina peace plan and limitation of strategic nuclear weapons.

At the United Nations, Gromyko said Wednesday no "artificial conditions and demands" should be attached to the resumption of Middle East peace talks.

Gromyko, in a hard-line speech at the United Nations 25th anniversary commemorative session, apparently referred to Israel's demand that violations of the Suez Canal military standstill zone by Egypt be rectified before the talks resume.

However, Gromyko took what diplomatic sources said was a "startingly different" tone during a later speech at a secret U.N. Security Council meeting. They said his speech was virtually free of polemics.

It was the first time in history the Security Council met in special conclave with 11 foreign ministers and a president debating the international issues of the day. Rogers, representing the United States, told the gathering President Nixon's latest Vietnam peace

Rose Resigns Tiburon Job For Laguna Beach Position

Lawrence D. Rose, Tiburon's city manager for more than six years, has resigned to accept a similar position with the City of Laguna Beach, the Independent-Journal learned last night.

Rose, 50, the senior city manager in Marin County in terms of length of service, will assume his new duties Dec. 1. He plans to remain at his Tiburon post until the week of Nov. 23.

Rose's letter of resignation will be submitted today and action is expected at the Tiburon City Council's meeting next Monday.

Rose said the Laguna Beach offer provides an "opporutnity for professional growth." The city of Laguna Beach is much larger than Tiburon and he will be in charge of approximately 200 city employees.

The Laguna Beach post pays $22,000 a year. Rose's Tiburon salary is $18,500 yearly.

Rose went to Tiburon from Carmel in 1964, a month after Tiburon was incorporated. He was Carmel city administrator and city clerk from 1956 to 1962, and publisher of the Carmel Pine Cone from 1962 to 1964.

LAWRENCE D. ROSE
Going to Laguna Beach

Rose and his wife, Billie, have three daughters: Cynthia, 18; Marilyn, 16, and Laurie, 7.

"We certainly hate to see him go," said Tiburon City Councilman Albert H. Sennett, "but I realize this is the name of the game for city managers if they want to progress."

Sennett said Rose apparently learned of his appointment only yesterday afternoon and that he notified the councilmen by telephone.

Sennett said the council will consider naming a temporary city manager at next Monday's meeting until a full-time manager can be sought out and hired.

Bridge Board Sets Stage For Major Bus Link In North Bay

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

A committee of Golden Gate Bridge District directors last night set the stage for going to bid on a $9.3 million system of 152 buses linking communities from Sausalito to Santa Rosa with San Francisco.

The joint transportation and finance-auditing committee, with 10 of the full board's 18 members present, voted unanimously to recommend the action to the board at its Oct. 30 meeting.

The vote came after an hour of strong opposition from several directors who dropped their arguments after San Francisco Supervisor Peter Tamaras endorsed Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring's recommendation that the bids be authorized .

The opposition was led by Stephan C. Leonoudakis of San Francisco, who is facing reavpointment to the bridge board by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors. Leonoudakis, however, predicted that the committee's recommendation would not pass the full board.

Of the 10 directors present, seven were voting members of the committee. The members included Marin Supervisor Michael Wornum and William R. Lucius, mayor of Healdsburg, who flew up from Los Angeles just to attend the unusual night meeting.

The committee also recommended taking over Marin County's subsidy of the feeder bus service to the Tiburon ferry, run by Marin County Transit Systems, and recommended subsidizing a charter bus between Mill Valley and the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco.

The committee's action on Luehring's recommendation to go to bid on the buses included expansion of the system to Santa Rosa. It originally was to have terminated at Novato, with expansion north set sometime in the future.

Lucius, however, argued successfully that initial service to Santa Rosa was "absolutely imperative," not because the profitable longer runs would offset the deficit, but because the service was needed.

Luehring's recommendation called for going to bid on 112 to 132 buses initially, with an additional 20 buses, built in 1965, to be leased from Greyhound. He said Greyhound had indicated it may provide the buses at a "very nominal" charge for up to three years.

Luehring said this would leave room in the bus system to start buying gas turbine models when they become available in 1973.

Leonoudakis and several others argued that Greyhound should be pressured into paying the district to have the district take over the red-ink operation, but Luehring noted that both Greyhound and the California Public Utilities Commission's staff have said Greyhound will not "pay one cent to buy out" of the service.

Luehring estimated that the annual net loss of the system would be $914,000, including all

About King Tap

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy authorized a tap on Martin Luther King's telephone in 1963 partly to avoid political problems with FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, according to an article published Wednesday in the Atlantic Monthly.

Author Victor Navasky said Kennedy also thought the tap would prove King was not influenced by Communists and that such proof would prevent the issue from being raised against the pending civil rights bill.

The magazine said Navasky drew the conclusions after a six-year study that included interviews with Kennedy and King, both of whom were assassinated in 1968.

Navasky said subsequent published reports of extramarital sex activities by King had nothing to do with the Kennedy-authorized taps. He said these reports stenmed from electronic bugs installed by the FBI or local police without the specific authorization of the attorney general.

Duel Of Honor

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (UPI)—Steel clanged against steel for four tense minutes Wednesday while a cabinet minister and a senator hacked at one another with sabers in a duel of honor.

Then Industry and trade Minister Julio Maria Sanguinetti, 34, and Sen. Manuel Flores Mora, 47, sheathed their swords on doctors orders.

They were satisfied—each had drawn blood. Doctors stopped Uruguay's first duel in 12 years when Flores took a slash on the right forearm. They pronounced the senator unfit to continue. Sanguinetti also suffered a scratch on the arm during the encounter.

Typhoon Toll Soars

MANILA (UPI) — The Philippines Red Cross appealed today for worldwide help as the death toll from two back to back typhoons soared above the 1,000 mark. It called it the worst disaster to hit the Philippines since World War II.

A spokesman said typhoon Joan, which hit Monday, killed at least 525 persons and that 169 were missing and 912 injured. Typhoon Kate which struck the following day killed 501 persons, injured 76 and left 312 missing.

The two typhoons devastated two large sections of the archipelago and inflicted damage to crops and property estimated at more than $100 million.

Drug Controversy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The manufactarer of a controversial diabetes drug says many scientists and doctors disagree with a study reporting adverse conclusions about the product.

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA), however, says it accepts the study's conclusion and plans to advise doctors not to perscribe the drug except in cases where other specified treatmenst cannot be used.

The drug is tolbutamide, trade named Orinase and used by about 800,000 diabetics.

The controversy concerns two conclusions of a $7 million scientific study. One was that Orinase coupled with a diabetic diet is no more effective than the diet alone. The second was that, of the patients studied, there was a higher incidence of fatal heart disease among Orinase users than among diabetics on a diet alone, or those on a diet plus insulin.

Press Throttled

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—The publisher of O Estado de Sao Paulo, one of Brazil's leading newspaper, has accused his nation's military government of throttling the free press in Latin America's most populous country.

Julio de Mesquita Neto made the charge at the opening of a nation-by-nation review of the hemispheric press during the annual meeting of the Inter-Americn Press Association (IAPA) ending Friday.

Newspaper executives from Central America, Argentina, Colombia and Uruguay said their nations enjoyed virtual freedom of the press.

There was no discussion of the Venezuelan press. "I suppose that is because the press is free in that nation," said James Copley, IAPA president and president of the Copley newspapers.

Terrorists Silent On Diplomat's Fate

Hopes were raised Wednesday when police received three calls from an anonymous person claiming to represent the Cross kidnapers. The person said the FLQ was "interested" in a government offer to fly the kidnapers to Cuba in exchange for the safe return of Cross, but subsequent checking led police to "doubt the authenticity of the calls..."

In addition, police checked out and found to be bogus an alleged FLQ communique dropped in the community of Chateauguay, 15 miles west of Montreal, late Wednesday night.

The last authentic communication from Cross and the FLQ arrived Sunday.

In two notes—one addressed to the authorities and one to his wife—Cross warned police his life would be endangered if they continued to search for him.

An accompanying communique from the FLQ threatened to execute Cross if the government did not meet its demands to release 23 members of the terrorist organization held in Quebec jails. It added, however, the terrorists "hoped to save the life of Cross."

Federal Minister of Regional Planning Jean Marchand said on a West Coast radio show Wednesday the government proclaimed the War Measures Act to prevent the FLQ from disrupting Montreal's civic election next Sunday.

Marchand said it was feared the FLQ would accomplish this by bombings, shootings, more kidnapings and the "dextrous deployment" of the FRAP party opposed to the present administration of Mayor Jean Drapeau.

Quebec Justice Minister Jerome Choquette said because of huge amounts of FLQ material seized in police raids since Friday, the more than 300 suspected FLQ leaders and sympathizers in jail probably would be held for 21 days without charges.

Guerrillas Traded For U.S. Lives

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—A plane arrived here today with four leftist guerrillas released by the Costa Rican government to prevent the murder of four U. S. citizens aboard an airliner hijacked to Cuba.

The identities of the U. S. citizens have not been disclosed.

A special LACSA DC6 plane flew the released guerrillas to Mexico City from San Jose, Costa Rica. Six secret servicemen accompanied the guerrillas.

The Americans were among 44 persons aboard a LACSA airliner hijacked by guerrillas on Wednesday.

A Costa Rican government official said that when the Costa Rican Airlines plane landed on the Colombian island of San Andreas to refuel the hijackers passed a note to authorities threatening to kill four Americans aboard and blow up the aircraft in Havana if the guerrillas were not released.

Officials said the pilot of the hijacked airliner reported it had been seized at gunpoint on a domestic flight that originated in San Jose.

The craft departed from Havana after refueling on San Andreas where officials said 3 of the 44 persons aboard were allowed to disembark.

Trademark Is Out For Peace Symbol

Pilot Tried To Turn Game Plane

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI) — Co-pilot Ronald G. Skipper has testified he tried to turn a chartered plane carrying part of the Wichita state university football team when he realized the plane couldn't make it over the Continental Divide.

Skipper, 34, testified Wednesday at a federal inquiry into the circumstances leading to the crash Oct. 2. Thirty persons were killed.

He said the twin-engine Martin 404 had a normal flight from Wichita to Denver where it made a refueling stop and took over flying the airplane from pilot Danny E. Crocker who was killed.

Skipper testified he told some of the passengers they were "going to see some beautiful scenery."

There was more than sufficient room to make a 180-degree turn and fly back down the valley, he said. But the aircraft began vibrating, and we put the nose down and shortly thereafter we crashed, he said.

War Deaths Hit 5-Year Low: 124 In Three Weeks

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. military sources said today American combat deaths in the last three weeks fell to the lowest level in five years.

The U.S. Command said 40 Americans lost their lives in Indochina fighting last week, the second lowest death toll for any week this year. This brought the three-week death toll to 124, which sources said was the lowest for a 21-day period since 104 GIs were killed in action from Oct. 10 through Oct. 30, 1965.

The weekly figure compared with 46 Americans reported dead the previous week. The lowest total this year was 38 for the week ending Oct. 3, the smallest number of combat deaths in almost four and a half years.

It was the 16th consecutive week the U.S. Command reported less than 100 Americans killed in action. The total U.S. war dead since Jan. 1, 1961, now stands at 43,861.

U.S. military sources said 33 American service personnel were reported dead last week from non-combat causes such as illness and accidents. The total of such deaths now is 8,692.

South Vietnamese spokesmen said 256 government troops were reported killed last week and 858 wounded. The numbers compare with 335 killed and 845 wounded the week before. Unofficial figures now show a total of 109,249 government troops killed in combat since the start of 1961.

U.S. spokesmen reported a total of 1,083 Communists killed last week by Allied forces, the lowest figure since 1,055 in the week ending Aug. 22. A total of 677,043 Communist are now claimed dead by all Allied forces.

On the Cambodian war front, Cambodian air force T28 fighter-bombers bombed Communist troop concentrations south of Phnom Penh for the third consecutive day as a part of an operation to open Highway 2 southwards to the Vietnamese border.

Two units of a 10-battalion government task force moving down the highway ran into firefights at Chambak, 21 miles south of Phnom Penh, and at Kirivong, 72 road miles south of the capital and only three miles from the Vietnamese border. Air support was called in at both places.

A government military spokesman said Cambodian troops carried out sweeping operations around Tang Kauk, 52 miles north of Phnom Penh,

Child Development Center Runs Into Financial Snag

By WAT TAKESHITA

Marin's Child Development Center in Tiburon, which is treating 21 emotionally disturbed youngsters at a cost of about $90,000 per year in private funds, will have to close in January unless it gets financial help.

This report came last night from Mrs. Robert A. Bastian, director of the center, which is located in a leased building at Westminister Presbyterian Church at 240 Tiburon Boulevard. She appealed to the Marin Mental Health Advisory Board for help.

Mrs. Bastian said the center, which treats neurologically and emotionally disturbed children between 2 and 7 years of age, has received about $200,000 from the Babcock Foundation in the last six years, but this money ran out last June.

A $40,000 grant from the San Francisco Foundation this year has kept the center open thus far, but another $31,000 is needed to run the center through this fiscal year ending in June 30, 1971.

"With existing funds, we'd have to close on Jan. 1," declared Mrs. Bastian.

She said parents of the children pay for a portion of the cost, and she has managed to scrounge around for private funds to keep the center going. "But you can't expect the private sector to continue forever," she declared.

Dr. Paul A. Steinman and Jack D. Williams agreed that the center is offering valuable services and must be continued.

Dr. Steinman moved that the advisory board "express complete support" of the center and ask the county supervisors to dig up funds to permit its continued operation. Dante Bagnani seconded the motion.

"If the motion carries, are you authorizing a program change?" asked Thomas F. Campanella. He explained that if the program is to be changed, the county supervisors would want to know what other services would be cut back to squeeze out the $31,000.

Dr. Steinman's motion lost by a 2-5 vote.

Donald Barkdale then moved that J. Jay Shinohara, assistant director of community mental health services, come back with a definite recommendation on what can be cut from the mental health services program or personnel to raise the $31,000.

Methadone Treatment For Heroin Addicts, Alcohol Center Studied

The use of methadone to help heroin addicts and a detoxification center for acute alcoholics are among projects under consideration for the 1971-72 Marin mental health program.

These and four other new projects were presented for consideration last night to the Marin Mental Health Advisory Board by Dr. John S. Guerrant, acting director of the Marin Mental Health Center, and J. Jay Shinohara, assistant director of the community mental health services.

The methadone program won strong support from Dr. James R. Prest. "I support it enthusiastically because this is about the only effective method of control." He acknowledged that methadone substitutes one addiction for another, "but methadone is a controllable addiction."

Dr. Guerrant said methadone is a substitute addiction but does not interfere with a person's normal activity.

In the alcohol detoxification program, Dr. Guerrant said seven or eight beds could be set up for "drying out" acute cases and 20 beds for treatment of less acute cases.

The four other programs listed by Guerrant and Shinohara were: psychiatric day care for children 2 to 7 years old; vocational, social and recreational program for the mentally retarded; psychiatric day care for children 8 to 12 years old; children's in-patient services where severely disturbed children can be hospitalized up to 30 days.

Only a few children would be involved in this program, and space might be purchased in institutions like the McCally Clinic in San Francsico, said Dr. Guerrant. Details on these programs and estimated costs have not been worked out but will be presented at the next meeting, said Dr. Guerrant.

Neither Guerrant nor Shinohara would hazard a guess. "We can give you sime meaningful figures in about two or three weeks," replied Dr. Guerrant.

The Mental Health Advisory Board also:

HALF-TIME HELP — On a motion by Jack D. Williams, voted 5-1 to recommend the hiring of a half-time clerical worker to gather and compile statistical data for the community mental health services office. Mrs. Mishkind, the lone dissenter, said she would not vote for more staff help until the value of the statistical data can be shown.

DRUG CONTROL — On a motion by Dr. James R. Prest, recommended unanimously that a drug abuse control plan for the county be referred to the mental health advisory board before such a plan is approved. AB 1990 requires each county of more than 40,000 population to draw up a drug abuse control plan during this fiscal year.

Guilty Pleas To College Bombing

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Two Negro youths pleaded guilty Thursday to recklessly or maliciously possessing explosives in a bombing at San Francisco State College that injured one of them.

Robert Podesta, assistant district attorney, said he would move for the dismissal of remaining charges — possession of explosives and conspiracy against Timothy Peebles, 21, and William Pulliam, 25.

The pair had been charged with attempting to bomb the college's Creative Arts Building while greater rights for blacks were being demanded of the college.

Judge Robert Drews set Nov. 18 for hearing probation reports, sentencing on deciding on Podesta's motion.

Both are free in $31,250 bail each.

War Reporter To Speak At College On Vietnam Issue

A woman war correspondent, who jumped into battle zones with Vietnamese paratroopers and covered Southeast Asia for 17 months, will give her views of the war next Wednesday at the College of Marin.

The talk is sponsored by the college and by Marin Professionals for Peace, headed by Dr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Gutstadt of Ross. Speaking with Mrs. Emmerich will be Tevenick Koujakian, an expert on China with the Stanford Research Institute.

Marin Professionals for Peace was organized last May after the Cambodian invasion.

Two other programs are scheduled by the group, also at 8 p.m. at Olney Hall. On Nov. 10, three Vietnam veterans will express their feelings on the war. On Nov. 24, Dr. Bernard Diamond and Dr. Nathan Adler, both University of California instructors, will discuss "Violence Abroad, Violence at Home: Are They Related?"

Rock Bands Will Perform At Dance

Rock bands Clover and Nazgul will perform at a dance at the Ignacio Ballroom in Ignacio tomorrow at 8 p.m.

Civic Center Security Measures Leave Agencies Looking Elsewhere

Since no night meetings are allowed at the Civic Center until further notice, all organizations which formerly met there at night must find other locations.

Some have found temporary meeting places, and many are still looking for space. If suitable space cannot be located on regular meeting nights, the meeting schedules may have to change for some agencies.

Daytime meetings at the Civic Center and Hall of Justice will continue as in the past, except that they cannot go beyond 6 p.m., when the buildings must be cleared.

The following agencies will meet as usual:

Marin County Board of Supervisors — Each Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the Civic Center.

Marin County Planning Commission — Second and fourth Mondays from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Marin County Zoning Administrator — Usually the first and third Mondays at 10 a.m. at the Civic Center, either in the planning commission chambers or the planning department conference room.

Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission — Meets at 2 p.m. on the second Wednesday in the planning commission chambers. (Next meeting is Nov. 4 because Nov. 11 is Veterans' Day).

Personnel Commission — Meets on the third Thursday at 3 p.m. in the supervisors' chambers.

The following agencies are looking for or have found new meeting places:

Juvenile Delinquency Prevention Commission — Now meets from 4 to 6 p.m. on the third Wednesday at Marin General Hospital.

City County Planning Council — Will meet until further notice at the County Superintendent of Schools office in Corte Madera. Meetings are held at 8 p.m. on the first Thursday.

City-County Services Committee—Normally meets on the third Monday, which is Nov. 16, at 8 p.m. Meeting place is not yet determined. The Nov. 16 meeting may be called off if a quorum is unlikely.

Marin Local Agency Formation Commission — Regular meeting is the second Wednesday at 8 p.m. Since the next meeting falls on Veterans Day, it will be deferred until Nov. 18, at Ross Town Hall. A special meeting is set for 8 p.m. Nov. 4 at Ross Town Hall to discuss a proposed county service area for police services.

Marin Aviation Commission — Normally meets on the first Tuesday, but not on Nov. 3 because that is election day. It was once postponed to Nov. 10, but that date may be changed to Nov. 2 or Nov. 9. Place of meeting is not set. Some commissioners are considering meeting at the county airport at Gnoss Field.

Human Rights Commission — Meets on the second Thursday, Nov. 12, at 8 p.m. Meeting place will probably be San Rafael High School. The commission has applied for space at the high school, but confirmation has not been received.

Family and children's Services Advisory Committee — Will continue to meet at 8 p.m. on the third Tuesday. Last meeting on Oct. 20 was held at the Co-Op in Corte Madera.

Marin Youth Commission — Meets on the first and third Tuesdays of each month at 8 p.m. In November, however, meeting dates will be Nov. 10 and Nov. 24. The Nov. 10 meeting will be held at the Catholic Social Services office at 179 Los Ranchitos Road, San Rafael. The youth commission is still looking for a regular meeting place.

Marin Council for Civic Affairs — Last Wednesday of each month. Next meeting is 8 p.m. Oct. 28 in room 182 at Redwood High School.

Music Library Group To Meet

Sonoma State librarian A. S. Pickett said the main attraction of the meeting will be the college's new phonolibrary, which includes a bank of 15 phonograph turntables, nine tape decks and 21 individual listening stations.

A musicale by the music department faculty will be presented.

The Beetle goes for a low $1840*.
The Super Beetle, a whopping $1984*.
What do I get for more money?
The Super Beetle (on the bottom) is the most advanced Volkswagen ever. It offers nearly twice as much luggage space. A more elegant, fully carpeted interior. A smoother riding suspension system. A shorter turning radius and improved brakes. (For the 84 other improvements, see your favorite VW dealer.)
What do I get for less money?
The regular Beetle (on the top) offers what the 16 million Volkswagens sold so far have always offered: Probably the most sensible way of getting from place to place ever devised by man.
Do the two cars have anything in common?
Yes.
First off, there is a striking physical resemblance between the two of them.
Second, they both boast new, more powerful engines made to last even longer than the fabled VW engines of old.
Third, they are both backed by 25 years of small-car-making experience. In other words, you know what you're getting.
Is that supposed to be a dig at all the other new small cars that are being introduced for the first time this year?

Curbs On Prosecution In Violence Case Are Sought

I-J Special Report

FAIRFIELD — Defense attorneys in the trial of seven men accused of felonies during the violent demonstration outside the Independent-Journal on Valentine's Day, sought today to limit the prosecution's case.

In a motion which Judge William E. Jensen took under submission in Solano County Superior Court, the defense asked that Marin Deputy Dist. Atty. Joshua W. Thomas be restricted to presenting evidence and testimony immediately surrounding the arrests of the seven men. The motion, which was opposed by Thomas, came as the trial entered its third day.

Defense attorney Robert D. Carrow, joined by his two colleagues, Robert Y. Bell and Carl B. Shapiro, argued that the arrests shortly after 1 p.m. Feb. 14, had no connection with a disturbance early that morning which resulted in breakage to most of the windows in the I-J plant and the setting afire of an I-J delivery truck.

Carrow said depositions given by policemen indicated there was a peaceful interlude between the morning disturbance and the outbreak of violence in the afternoon which led to the arrests. To allow testimony arising from the morning incident would "seriously prejudice" the defendants, Carrow asserted.

Thomas contended, however, that the morning incident was not isolated. He said the day's events, which arose as a result of a labor rally called in support of striking printers at the newspaper represented a continuing effort on the part of all union people to see that the Independent-Journal did not publish."

"The evidence will show that as soon as the crowd (estimated at more than 600 persons) reached the building, the first thing they did was break out every window at the ground level," Thomas said.

"Our position is that nothing else could happen to the building itself that had not happened already, unless pickets made an attempt to enter the building."

Referring to the hiatus between the morning and afternoon incidents, Thomas said, "They were just waiting for an opportunity to do any further act to prevent the I-J from carrying on business that particular day."

Thomas said limiting testimony to events surrounding the arrests would be "prejudicial to us."

In another development today, Judge Jensen named Dennis Crowley of San Jose, member of the International Typographical Union as interpreter of prosecution testimony for two of the defendants who are deaf-mutes — Nimmes H. Shelton, 40, of San Francisco and Joe E. Reese, 31, of Hayward.

Crowley is awaiting trial, also in Solano County, on a charge of conspiring to break windows of I-J advertisers. He was arrested by sheriff's deputies with two other printers in the Strawberry Shopping Center June 3.

Thomas said he would not object to Crowley interpreting in sign language the testimony of others, but would protest Crowley interpreting the testimony of Reese and Shelton, should they be placed on the stand. Defense attorneys agreed that Thomas could choose his own interpreter once they did take the stand.

Union Harassment Stepped Up; Bettini Declines To Take Part

Three trucks were prevented from making deliveries, two businesses suffered stinkbomb attacks, a photographer was assaulted and the windows of two businesses were smashed as a union boycott against Marin County continued yesterday.

Meanwhile, Mayor C. Paul Bettini of San Rafael said "the strike is a private matter and should be resolved by the parties concerned through means that are readily available to them."

In Central Marin where hit-and-run Teamster pickets have concentrated their efforts since Oct. 8, no pickets were reported by police agencies or stores this morning.

During yesterday's picketing, however, two men in front of the Independent-Journal assaulted I-J photographer Roger A. Bockrath as he tried to take their picture at 2:50 p.m. Police issued a warrant for the arrest of a man identified only as Ricardo Garcia and for a companion.

Unidentified persons stinkbombed the classified advertising section of the I-J to the amusement of pickets and also dumped the foul-smelling substance in the Emporium in Northgate Shopping Center at 12:45 p.m.

Trucking firms said three trucks were prevented from making deliveries yesterday afternoon.

At 1:30 p.m. a truck from California Motor Express, LTD., of San Francisco, making miscellaneous deliveries was run out of the county. A truck from Willig Freight Line of Berkeley delivering to Rafael Glass in San Rafael was turned back by pickets at 2 pm., and a third truck from Alltrans Express of California was turned away between San Anselmo and San Rafael at 3 p.m.

In what appeared to be a return to earlier tactics against I-J advertisers, vandals broke showroom windows at Annex Motors at 8:29 p.m., Leon C. Felton Volkswagen at 7 p.m. and 8:31 p.m. The managers at Annex Motors, 535 Francisco Boulevard, and Felton Volkswagen, 601 Francisco Boulevard attributed the attacks to protest against their advertising in the I-J.

It was the fourth attack on Annex property and the third on Felton.

Mayor Bettini, speaking for the San Rafael City Council said, "We are deeply concerned about the economic, as well as the social impact that is burdening our city as a result of the prolonged strike. We urge the union and the Independent-Journal to initiate negotiations for settlement."

He declined, however, to intervene, calling the strike a private matter.

Mayor Bettini's statement was in reply to an appeal yesterday by Mayor Joseph L. Alioto of San Francisco that Bettini intervene in the San Francisco Typographical Union Local 21 strike against the Independent-Journal.

Noting labor violence that has accompanied the ITU strike, Alioto said, "Reverberations are being felt here in San Francisco as well as in other Northern California cities."

San Francisco was the scene of the murder of I-J employee Allan W. Daly who was shot July 4. Two San Bruno youths confessed their part in the crime and have been turned over to the California Youth Authority. Frank J. Thurber of San Bruno, accused of participating in the slaying, is awaiting trial in San Francisco.

Thurber is a member of a union affiliated with the typographical union on strike since Jan. 7.

San Francisco was also the scene of secondary picketing against newsprint shipments destined for the I-J. The National Labor Relations Board ruled the picketing an illegal secondary boycott.

Typographical union members and their sympathizers from throughout the Bay Area are facing a variety of vandalism, assault and rioting charges for acts connected with the strike.

Three typographical union members are awaiting trial Nov. 17 in Solano County Superior Court in Fairfield on charges of conspiring to damage the property of I-J advertisers.

Another ITU member, Henry Arthur Stacy, 60, of San Francisco is due to stand trial in Fairfield Nov. 4 on charges of firing a bullet through an I-J window and of having a loaded gun in his car.

In progress in Fairfield is the trial of seven ITU members arrested during the Valentine's Day riot outside the I-J building.

Proceedings against four teamsters arrested in San Rafael Oct. 12 on suspicion of tire slashing are pending in Marin Municipal Court.

As a result of the hit-and-run strike, criminal contempt charges have been filed in U.S. District Court in San Francisco against four Bay Area Unions by the National Labor Relations Board. Named in the petition are Teamster Locals 70 of Oakland and 85 of San Francisco, and typographical union and Longshoremen's Union 10 of San Francisco plus officers of each.

Sausalito Chamber Attacks Criminal Acts Around Strike

A resolution deploring criminal activity on the part of some union members involved in San Francisco Typographical Union 21's strike against the Independent-Journal was passed unanimously yesterday by the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce.

According to president Raymond L. Roy, the chamber went on record as "being highly disturbed by the illegal activity of union members, some of whom are not even from Marin County."

Roy said some Sausalito businesses have been affected by a secondary boycott by truckers of firms which advertise in the newspaper. "Some of us have not received our deliveries at all and some have been getting them late, Roy said, even though only one Sausalito firm, Big G Supermarket, has been picketed by supporters of the union which struck the I-J Jan. 7.

Monday four labor unions — the Typographical Union, the Oakland and San Francisco Teamsters locals and the San Francisco Longshoreman's Union, were charged with civil and criminal contempt in U.S. District Court in San Francisco.

The charges, filed by the National Labor Relations Board, accuses the unions and their officials of illegal boycott activity to force neutral businessmen to cease advertising with the newspaper.

Roy said the chamber felt Mayor Joseph L. Alioto of San Francisco was wrong Tuesday in urging C. Paul Bettini, San Rafael's mayor, to help negotiate in the labor dispute "without getting his facts straight."

"We feel the I-J should not have to negotiate with people charged with criminal acts, including murder," Roy said, adding: "We are not against organized labor, only opposed to criminal acts on the part of some people who call themselves labor leaders."

Russian River Water Study Is Approved

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state Water Resources Control Board today approved a $7,500 study of the bacteriological content of the Russian River, a popular resort area.

To be completed by the end of next summer, the study by the Department of Public Health is intended to test the effects of a new regulation effective next May 15 that bans the disposal of treated sewage into the river.

Man Denies Dope Charge In Mexico

I-J Special Report

TIAJUANA, Mexico — A 33-year-old Larkspur man has been transferred to Ola Mesa State Penitentiary after pleading innocent to a charge of possessing marijuana.

The accused, John A. Briscol, will remain in prison until his case is disposed of, because under Mexican narcotics law bail is not permitted.

Judgement and sentence, if he is found guilty, are required within one year. There is no jury trial in such cases nor any set hearing. The judge takes evidence as it is submitted by prosecution and defense until such time as he decides on guilt or innocence.

Briscol, whose Larkspur address is not known, was arrested Oct. 11 at a checkpaoint 90 miles east of Tiajuana on the Mexicali Highway. Police said they found 22 pounds of marijuana hidden in the rear platform of his truck.

The truck and marijuana were introduced in evidence Saturday in the hearing in Federal District Court here at which Briscol pleaded innocent.

Housing Panel Chastised On Director Hunt

About a dozen Marin City residents chastised commissioners of the Marin County Housing Authority and Redevelopment Agency last night for their failure to select an executive director for both organizations.

The anger flared after the commissioners emerged from a two-hour closed session and announced no decision had yet been made, according to Philip S. Ehrlich Jr., housing authority chairman.

One woman called the commissioners "crooks" and another charged they "had screwed us (Marin City residents) again. A man asked if the commissioners had not "betrayed the community."

Most of the protest came from individuals believed to favor Wallace K. Shepherd for the job. Shepherd, currently acting director of both groups, is one of three final candidates selected by a six-man screening committee.

Ehrlich said the closed meeting was called after the committee expressed dissatisfaction with the qualifications of the 77 original applicants and recommended the salary range for the post be increased to attract more applicants. The commissioners also met to consider whether the screening committee, in its final choices, had provided enough qualified candidates for a choice to be made, he said.

Ehrlich said most commissioners felt a larger number of applicants was needed and agreed the authority and redevelopment agency should attempt to raise the salary, presently $15,800 to $19,236.

According to Commissioner Vera L. Schultz, both agencies are sending a letter to the state Personnel Board — which sets salaries — asking the board to reevaluate the position and establish a higher salary range.

Today Mrs. Schultz made public the screening committee's report, submitted to commissioners last week. The report said the committee was "not overly-impressed by the general level of qualifications represented by the applicants" for the job of executive director.

The screening committee reported many applicants had no experience in public housing or urban renewal programs and others showed only limited experience. Some candidates were eliminated because "their limited experience" was obtaind in areas very different from Marin County and others were rejected because they indicated no supervisory experience, according to the report.

In its recommendation for a salary increase for the post, the committee explained that "competition for well-qualified experienced people in this field is keen."

Mrs. Schultz said members of both commissioners have asked to meet with members of the screening committee early in November to discuss their finding in reviewing the 77 applicants.

Mrs. Schultz said some commissioners felt well-qualified applicants were rejected by the committee during its initial screening process.

"I know some of the applicants were people with three and four years of experience with housing authorities on the West Coast," she said.

plan was up for discussion and was not put forward by Washington on a take-it-or-leave-it basis.

In his speech, diplomatic sources said, Rogers applauded the idea of high-level council meetings but held they should not be summoned periodically but rather specifically to deal with definite crisis.

Gromyko, at his earlier speech before the General Assembly, said U.S. and Israeli charges that Egypt and Russia had moved missiles into the standstill zone after the ceasefire were "trumped up allegations" designed to draw attention from the fact the United States and Israel were interfering with peace efforts.

Wornum, however, noted that this amount was matched by additional income from the increase of commuter books from $6.50 to $10 that was voted almost a year ago. "We're just the vehicle — it's the Marin commuter paying for it," he said of the deficit.

Luehring also noted that up to two thirds of the cost of the bus system could be met be federal funds under an application the district has pending in Washington.

He estimated that service would start eight months after a board vote to go to bid.

Leonoudakis claimed that all negotiations with Greyhound over the transition to district operation of the system had to be completed before going to bid. He also said "private enterprise" may be able to take enough passengers so that the district would need as few as 20 buses.

The district's transit manager, Donald White, objected that Greyhound was using about 100 buses for its "minimal" service in Marin alone, and that the larger fleet he and Luehring recommended was the minimum needed to improve service.

The district has $5.1 million on hand for its bus system, and will have $7.6 million by the end of the fiscal year, according to its auditor, Gordon E. Dahlgren.

Luehring also pressed hard for committee approval last night of his recommendation, arguing the only alternatives were "stagnation or more highways. It's going to take plenty of buses and plenty of ferries to do this job — and plenty fast," he declared.

Wornum, objecting to Leonoudakis's moves to shelve Luehring's recommendation, said that any further delay would "destroy the credibility of this district."

The subsidy for the Tiburon feeder bus, at $15 an hour, will be almost $3,000 a month, Luehring estimated. It would be operated under a one-year lease with a 30-day cancellation clause. The service includes two buses during weekday commuter hours.

The arrangement for the Mill Valley charter, or "club bus," would be with Community Enterprises of Petaluma. It also would serve Sausalito and the Presidio of San Francisco, arriving at the medical center shortly before 8 a.m. and leaving the center shortly after 5:30 p.m.

With a full bus, the subsidy would be about $150 a month, Luehring said. He proposed the experiment to see if this kind of service may be effective. It would be in addition to the regular bus system.

Firemen climbed on the church roof and searched it inch by inch. Police searched the inside thoroughly before giving the halted funeral cortege the goahead to continue.

Hamilton was fatally shot in a gun battle at a branch of the Wells Fargo bank last Monday. The robber suspect, identified as James Sanchez, 27, was wounded critically.

The 32-year-old policeman was the fourth killed in the line of duty and the seventh in the San Francisco Bay area so far this year.

Of the six previous police killings, four were blamed on deliberate terrorist executions of policemen. A San Francisco patrolman, one in Berkeley and one in San Jose were shot to death without provocation in the middle of the night.

A San Francisco police sergeant was killed last February in the terrorist bombing of a police station.

Mary Crawford, of Belvedere, a reporter for the San Francisco Examiner, said something "metallic" hit her shoe. She was 20 to 30 feet away from the door at the time.

Police later found a piece of clockwork-like spring lying in the street about 35 feet away, and newsmen said they found bent nails on the sidewalk. Another witness said, "stuff was falling all around."

Police Chief Alfred J. Nelder said the bomb was buried under the shrubbery. He said there were "no certain, concrete suspects."

"It was one of the most despicable things that could happen," said Nelder. "A man lays down his life doing his duty and we come to pay tribute to him at a mass and then someone does this.

"It just makes you wonder what we are coming to."

Teens To Discuss '71 Legislature

From the participating teenagers, eight Marinites eventually will be chosen to represent the county as senators, assemblymen, aides and in other roles at the mock legislative session.

FROM LOW TO HIGH — Its bulk shrouded by haze, Marin County's most obvious landmark —Mount Tamalpais—looms 2,604 feet above the drying mudflats of a Larkspur fill project between Magnolia Avenue and Corte Madera creek in the background. Unlike many of California's mountains, Tamalpais is not volcanic, but has been rising from what once was ocean floor, squeezed up by the tremendous pressures that also have created the awesome and sometimes death-dealing San Andreas Fault in West Marin.

TWIN MOUNTAINS — The still waters of Corte Madera Creek provide the majestic mountain — which would be considered merely a hill in California's more rugged areas — with a twin. It was not until 1862 that two men of the state Geological Survey team toiled up its slopes and measured it. They became lost in bone-chilling, wind-driven fogs that turned into snow even though it was the end of March.

Mood Of The Mountain

Conscientious Objectors Spark Denmark's Leftists

By HILARY BARNES
London Financial Times

COPENHAGEN — Conscientious objectors to military service in Denmark —to which Danish young men are object—have become one of the most successful arms of the Danish radical left.

In the last two years objectors who go on strike, burn down barracks and flood the authorities with demands for better conditions have become a familiar story in Danish newspapers.

Conscientious objection played no significant role in Danish affairs up to 1960. Since then the numbers have increased rapidly, especially since 1965. About 7 per cent of all conscripts are now conscientious objectors.

The Danish Objectors' Association calculates that if the trend continues for another five years, about half of all conscripts will be objectors. If objection only doubled from the current rate it would create severe problems for defense planners when linked to the high proportion, some 25 per cent, declared unfit for military service.

The authorities have helped the trend along. Formally in law, only religious objections count, but in practice political objection is acceptable, a fact which anti-NATO groups have seized on in their propaganda (Denmark is a member of the western defense alliance.)

Objectors know that the biggest threat they pose to the defense system is indirect. In a newspaper article recently, an objector said it was the fact that traditional supporters of conscription were now wavering that was a real threat

"We are on the way to abolishing conscription. We must make sure it is not replaced by a regular army," is the latest line of the radical left.

The main deterrent to conscientious objection is that it involves an alternative service that last 16 months, while military conscripts serve only 12 months, and the more opportunist objectors seek the longer service as a way out. Life as an objector is pleasant enough. After the first few weeks, spent in barracks and working in the state forests, they are stationed out as caretakers and similar jobs at theatres, schools, and museums which cannot afford to pay the wages of ordinary civilian employees.

Objectors work under favorable conditions. Conscription has never been popular, and in a permissive society it is less popular than ever. The authorities have responded to the changed attitudes. Danish soldiers may wear their hair long and off-duty discipline is lax. One can see long-haired conscripts sitting in public singing "We shall overcome."

The political climate in Denmark has never favored the spending of money on defense, and today the air is thick with proposals for defense reforms which would make defense cheaper, less effective—and more popular.

The most important of these proposals has come from the opposition Social Democratic Party, in office for 15 years until 1968, and the country's largest political party.

It wants conscription cut from 12 to five months, the conscripts forming local defense units only. The present standing army of about 13,000 men, mainly formed by conscripts, would be cut to an army of 7,000 regulars. The air force would have its air strength cut from 112 to 72 planes, all of them Swedish J 35 Draken fighter-interceptor type. The navy would lose its two fast frigates and four submarines and its biggest ships would be missile-bearing Motor Torpedo Boats. At the moment it has 18 MTB's not equipped with missiles.

The Social Democrats sent their proposals to NATO's northern command for comment, and were told that Denmark would not be able to fulfill its NATO role if the plans were adopted. Defense spokesman Kjeld Olesen was unabashed. "We are not going to be told what to do by the generals," he told the party congress. "the organization of the defense system is a political decision."

JESSE UNRUH, Democratic candidate for governor, responds to a question from Duston Harvey, UPI San Francisco bureau. Through this kind of "oral examination", issues are brought into focus, opinions sharpened, and the voter is provided a basis for comparing candidates, and finally, establishing his own position at the polls.

Harvey, a trained observer of the political scene, reports for United Press International which in turn reports for the Independent-Journal. In a very direct sense, as with all reporters, Harvey is your "lieutenant of the news" . . . your personal representative wherever news is made.

WHAT IS GOVERNOR REAGAN SAYING? George Shelton, UPI political reporter takes it down that you may take it in by reading the I-J. Asked to describe his work, Shelton said this: "I'm 33, and have been covering state politics now for more than nine years. After working for a couple of newspapers and graduating from San Jose State, I joined UPI in San Francisco in 1960 and was transferred to Sacramento the next year. "I've covered every legislative session since then, virtually every state political convention and statewide candidate since 1964. I covered the '66 Brown-Reagan campaign for two months straight on the road, the '68 Kennedy-McCarthy travels and the '68 national conventions. Suffice to say, it's my life work and I wouldn't trade it."

The race

How I-J/UPI reporters & editors keep up with the candidates to keep you up on the coming election

Perhaps the most important part of the election is that you, as a free citizen, are privileged to vote. Which makes it equally important that you should know for whom and for what you are voting.

To keep you thoroughly informed the I-J and United Press International are teamed in a major effort to cover the candidates for state and congressional office. UPI reporters are also I-J reporters, an extension of journalistic manpower to the political fronts throughout California.

As the candidates race one another, eight UPI reporters "race" the candidates. As George Shelton of UPI, Sacramento, puts it: "When we staff a candidate, we stay glued to him. That's an iron-clad rule. He never appears anywhere in public, and seldom anywhere in private, unless we are there."

Which means, to you the reader, that whatever Governor Reagan, Jesse Unruh, John Tunney or George Murphy do or say, you will be informed. You will get to know them, to assess their views and their stand on issues which will require your decision. And the same for other candidates.

It's not an easy job. But a newspaper is best-equipped to do it. It has the people. And it has the print. Combined, they provide you not with surface gloss but with a deeper perspective.

And that, we believe, is as meaningful to your vote as your vote is to the democratic process.

WHEN JOHN V. TUNNEY, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate speaks, you can be pretty certain that Dennis J. Opatrny of UPI will be taking notes. On assignments such as this, Opatrny stays with the candidate . . . listening, questioning, examining, keeping you thoroughly informed.

WHAT'S GOING ON IN SACRAMENTO? What legislative actions are in process which may affect you, the Marin County voter? At right, Bryce W. Anderson, executive editor of the Independent-Journal, gets the word first-hand from William T. Bagley, assemblyman for Marin & Southern Sonoma Counties. From interviews such as this, plus long experience in evaluating the political scene, Anderson sharpens the edge of editorial comment. The purpose is not to persuade but to reveal the meaning of issues and legislative actions. And such "meaning" means a more enlightened vote and most important of all: independence of choice at the polls.

"Were it left to me to decide whether we should have government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate for moment to prefer the latter. But I should mean that every man receive those papers and be capable of reading them."

Rockefeller Signs Papers On Angela

I-J Special Report

NEW YORK — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller yesterday signed extradition papers that would send Angela Y. Davis to Marin County to face kidnap and murder charges.

The fired University of California at Los Angeles instructor and a male companion were caught here following a two-month hunt for her.

Extradition hearings must now be held to determine whether the 26-year-old Black Panther will be sent to Marin to face the charges stemming from the Aug. 7 shootout at the Marin Hall of Justice that left four dead.

Although Miss Davis was not present when Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court, two San Quentin inmates and an accomplice were shot, Marin authorities allege that she bought the guns used in the convicts' escape attempt.

Under California law a person who purchases guns subsequently used in a capital crime is guilty of the crime.

Miss Davis was arraigned here last Thursday on the murder and kidnapping charges she will face if sent to Marin.

Sausalito Ferry Hits Debris; Is Sidelined

The Golden Gate Bridge District's Sausalito ferry was disabled yesterday when it struck a heavy piece of debris, putting it out of commission for the third time since the service began two months ago.

The district rented a vessel from Harbor Carriers for the commute hour runs until its own ferry is back in service, expected by Saturday.

Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring said the accident occurred on the 6:35 a.m. run out of San Francisco, and bending three of the five blades on one propeller. The ferry continued to run during the morning commute hours, but speed had to be reduced because of vibration from the bent blades, he said.

The ferry, the Golden Gate, is being repaired in an Oakland drydock, and its repainting will be completed while it is out of the water. Luehring said. Its annual inspection, due in February, also will be done now, "so we're trading some time down then for now," he said.

The cost of the repair will be covered by insurance, Luehring noted.

The reduced service will continue the 7:20 and 8:35 a.m. runs from Sausalito and the 4:15, 5:30 and 6:45 runs from San Francisco, he said.

Citizens Rally For Rejected Park Plan

A public meeting to support the Novato Industrial Park will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at the Los Robles Mobile Home Park Recreation Center on Bel Marin Keys Boulevard, Novato.

Kidney Unit Could Yet Be Accepted

Ray K. Bollinger, hospital administrator, said today that the Independent-Journal erred in a story yesterday when it reported that the hospital had refused the machine.

The matter, he said, has been referred to the Marin County Comprehensive Health Planning Council for a decision, because the hospital board cannot act without council approval.

A kidney machine was offered to the hospital by Joseph Alvarez of San Anselmo after the death Sept. 29 of his wife, Dorothy, whose life had been prolonged by use of the machine in their home.

On Oct. 2, Bollinger told the Independent-Journal: "In our long-range plans, there is a provision for a hemo-dialysis facility, but we really at this point do not have a place to house it."

Bollinger today objected to interpretation of that statement to mean that the Alvarez machine had been refused. Acceptance, he said is being considered.

"We must make certain we can properly utilize a kidney machine before we accept it and obligate the medical staff to organize a program of care," he said.

Engineers Endorse Water Bond Proposal

Marin Municipal Water District's proposed $11.5 million bond issue on the Nov. 3 ballot, has been endosred by the Marin Chapter of the California Society of Professional Engineers.

Bill Schmidt, chapter president, said the members Tuesday night approved the long-range feasibility studies, plans to improve distribution, and water supply goals of the district.

Kuchel Hits Miller On Mailliard Record

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Former U. S. Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel yesterday accused Russell R. Miller, Democratic nominee in the Sixth Congressional District, of "a ruthless, contemptible campaign of duplicity and deceit."

Miller is challenging the incumbent, Republican William S. Mailliard. The district includes Marin South of Novato and the western portion of San Francisco.

Kuchel, in a statement released by Mailliard's campaign headquarters, said that Miller's campaign material "falsely asserted that Congressman Mailliard has opposed, among other things, Medicare, voting rights, aid to education and draft reform.

"The exact opposite is true. Bill Mailliard supported and voted in favor of these issues in the House of Representatives," Kuchel declared, adding he served with him in Washington for 16 years.

Kuchel urged voters in the district, "in the interest of good government, to reject the falsehoods being circulated against Bill Mailliard and to reelect him overwhilmingly on Nov. 3."

Teens Give $200 For Miwok Mound

Two teen-agers have donated $200 to help preserve an Indian mound on the grounds of Miller Creek School.

Donald R. Thieler, president of the Miwok Archeological Preserve of Marin, said yesterday that the gift was made by Kathy Burke, 35 Upper Oak Drive, and Mark Ward, 34 Upper Oak Drive, San Rafael.

The teen-agers, both students at Terra Linda High School, earned the money with their "thread the needle" booth at the Renaissance Pleasure Faire.

Thieler said the gift will help build weather protection over the Indian mound. The preserve association is raising funds to turn the site into an indoor-outdoor museum.

Guardrail Work Bid Slated For Nov. 19

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The state Division of Highways has called for bids to install new highway guardrail and modify existing guardrail on Highway 101 in northern Marin and southern Sonoma counties, estimated to cost $58,000.

Bids will be opened Nov. 19 for work extending from 2.3 miles north of Atherton Avenue in Novato to the Todd Road overcrossing 1.2 miles north of Rohnert Park.

Civic Center To Post Warnings

Printed notices will be posted by tomorrow at each entrance to the Civic Center buildings, warning every person who enters that he "is subject to police search of his person and packages and must produce an identification upon request."

"Persons illegally carrying weapons or narcotics into this building are subject to arrest," the notice warns.

It is signed by the Marin County Sheriff's Department.

Seminar Set On Traffic At Schools

The Alto-Sutton Manor District Association will sponsor a seminar to seek solutions to traffic congestion at Alto and Edna Maguire schools in Mill Valley, the group's board of directors decided last night.

Sara S. Ruffner, publicity chairman, said the association will invite representatives of the Mill Valley School District, Cal-Fong Investment Corp., Marin County, City of Mill Valley and Alto-Richardson Bay Fire District to participate.

Cal-Fong will be invited because it will develop a 109-unit housing project in the Alto-Bowl behind the two schools.

Morning and afternoon traffic to the school already cause congestion, Mrs. Ruffner said, and the opening of the development is expected to increase the problem.

No date for the seminar was set pending notification of the agencies.

Novatan Dies In Crash Into Creek

A 33-year-old Novato woman, westbound on Novato Boulevard in heavy rain yesterday, was killed when her car ran off the road and plunged 20 feet into Bowman Creek.

Killed was Mary Lee Ferrarris, of 40 Ormond Court.

The California Highway Patrol said Mrs. Ferrarris apparently was driving too fast for the rain-slick street and failed to make a curve on Novato Boulevard, just west of San Marin Drive at 6:15 p.m.

Funeral arrangements were pending today at Keaton's Chapel of Marin in Novato.

Her death was Marin's 33rd traffic fatality this year, compared to 29 at this time last year, and was the second in two days. A 30-year-old San Rafael woman, Janet E. Manerud, was killed Tuesday when she was struck by a car while crossing Highway 101 on foot.

Defendant In Scopes Trial Dies Of Cancer

SHREVEPORT, La. (UPI)— John T. Scopes, the teacher defendant in the evolution "monkey trial" in 1925, died in a Shreveport hospital Wednesday night.

Scopes had entered the hospital July 1 for treatment of what he thought was a gall bladder infection. It turned out to be cancer. He was 70.

Scopes was a young teacher at the time of the trial in Dayton, Tenn., which was designed to test a Tennessee law against the teaching of evolution. The case gained worldwide attention because Scopes was defended by famed criminal lawyer Clarence Darrow. William Jennings Bryan, a three-time presidential candidate, was the special prosecutor in the case.

Scopes had been a geologist for the United Gas Co. in Shreveport until his retirement in 1965. He is survived by his widow and two sons, John T. Scopes Jr., and William Scoves.

It took 43 years but Scopes finally won his argument that he was legally correct in teaching evolution.

A unanimous Supreme Court decision last November that struck down an Arkansas law forbidding the teaching of evolution in the public schools contained the same basic issue as the famed Scopes "monkey trial" in the summer of 1925.

Scopes was found guilty of violating the law but the Tennessee Supreme Court overruled the conviction on technical grounds and the case never reached the U. S. Supreme Court.

The trial became part of the nation's legal folklore. In the 1950s, a Broadway play, "Inherit the Wind," was based on the events in Dayton and later it was made into a movie.

Burglar Lifts Loot From Locked Locker

A burglar took $600 cash and $1000 in credit card invoices and checks from a locked locker at Sarganis Shell Service Sunday, then placed a new lock on the door, San Rafael police said today.

The burglar took the money from a storage area at the 755 Second Street station between 8 a.m. and midnight, police said.

Teens Booked In Burglary Probe

Two San Rafael youths seen running near the scene of a reported burglary-in-progress at a bowling alley were arrested at 2:15 a.m. today on suspicion of burglary, according to San Rafael police.

Police said they arrested John L. Mott, 19, of 31 Lisbon Street, and John Lin Motta, 18, of 855 Francisco Boulevard, Apt. 2, after they were spotted fleeing down Louise Street behind the Country Club Bowl.

The night manager of the bowling alley at 88 Vivian Way told police someone had entered the establishment through a skylight, but had taken nothing.

The pair was booked into Marin County Jail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Weatherman Reported In Algiers

ALGIERS (UPI)—Algeria has granted political asylum to a young American militant believed to be Bernardine Rae Dohrn, 28, one of the FBI's Most Wanted fugitives.

A spokesman at the U.S. Black Panther Party exile headquarters in Algiers identified her as Bernardine Dohrn although there were reports it might be her sister, Jennifer, who is not wanted for any crime.

Bernardine Dohrn was sought by the FBI as a member of the revolutionary Weathermen for interstate flight to avoid prosecution for mob action, riot and conspiracy.

Algeria's latest offer of political asylum followed the arrival Tuesday of Timothy R. Leary, the foremost advocate of LSD in the United States. He escaped Oct. 12 from a California prison where he was serving 10 years for marijuana possession.

Leary, a former Harvard University lecturer, also was convicted Jan. 20., 1970, in Laredo, Tex., of smuggling marijuana into the United States from Mexico.

Under-16s Approved For Adult Library Use

The minimum age for students using the adult section of the San Anselmo library was dropped last night from 16 to 12 years of age.

Roy N. Fairchild, library board member, said today the reduction came after discussions with school officials indicated students are reading more sophisticated books now then when the former age limitation was passed years ago.

Formerly, students under 16 were required to use the library's downstairs childrens section, Fairchild said. Last night's action will permit students down to the seventh grade level to acquire a library card with their parent's permission.

Fairchild said the board also continued discussion on a recommendation to the city council for hiring a 10-hour-a-week employee at the library.

He said Lucy Palo, head librarian, was directed to continue interviewing applicants for the position and return a recommendation to the board at its Nov. 5 meeting.

Truck, Tools, Cash Are Taken

Burglars who broke into the Tam Fence Co. in San Rafael yesterday or Tuesday, took $1,500 worth of tools, $35 in cash and a one-ton truck, police said today.

Entering between 7:30 p.m. Tuesday and 8:15 a.m. yesterday, the thieves chopped open the cash register with a hatchet, then stole the tools and the truck which was locked in a fenced area of the fence company at 4486 Redwood Highway, police said.

The truck was a light blue 1966 Chevrolet, license V-71825, police said.

Student Leader Gets Jail Term

PARIS (UPI)—A Paris court today sentenced student leader Alain Geismar to 18 months jail on charges of incitement to violence.

The verdict on the third day of the trial of the 31-year old radical came as an estimated 5,000 police and gendarmes stiffened their alert in the left bank student quarter of Paris and around the Palace of Justice, where the trial was held.

Geismar, one of the leaders of the May-June 1968 student and workers' revolt, was found guilty of inciting to violence in a speech in Paris prior to Latin Quarter demonstrations last May 27.

Your kids should have the best education possible.

And in four years Governor Reagan has worked to increase State support of public schools by 43% —while calling for major reforms and realistic goals.

Here Are the Facts to Show That He Has Made Education His Number One Priority

During the first four years of the Reagan administration California's public schools have had the greatest increase in State financial aid in history.

More than $2.44 billion—50 percent of the State's entire general fund revenues—is spent on the schooling of our young people. The great part of these funds go to the elementary and secondary schools.

This is the record: in 1966-67, the State support of public schools (kindergarten through junior college) was $1.2 billion. This year Governor Reagan signed a budget which provides $1.75 billion.

That is an increase of $533 million a year—a 43 percent increase in financial support to cover an enrollment increase of about 12 percent. And, this is about $176.2 million more than the total dollar increase in school aid during the final four budget years of the previous administration.

State's Ratio of Support Has Also Increased in 4 Years

Governor Reagan supports the concept of at least a 50-50 ratio of State and local support of public schools. He is working to achieve that.

In 1959 the State's share was about 46 percent. From then until 1966-67, while the previous administration had a clear majority in both houses of the State Legislature, the State's share dropped to 41 percent.

Since 1967 that decline has stopped and under the Reagan administration, the State's ratio is pointed upward again, toward the 50-50 level.

Governor Reagan believes we must take more of the burden of school financing off of the homeowner's back through a broadly based state collected tax. We must also close the spread between the wealthy and the poor school districts so that every child will have an equal educational opportunity, and equal fiscal support.

A Need for Honest Reforms and Realistic Programs

Even though he has greatly increased State aid to public schools, Governor Reagan rejects the simplistic notion that money alone can solve all the problems of our schools. He has demanded honest reforms and realistic goals in the operations, the curricula and the programs of the system.

He created a 20-member Commission on Educational Reform (comprised of professionals and laymen) to find ways to achieve quality education, efficiently.

This year, partly as a result of the Commission's work, a major reform of California's much-criticized teacher credentialling system was enacted. The new measure simplifies —makes more relevant—the teacher credentialling system. And, it permits school districts to pick superintendents with managerial experience and ability.

Governor Reagan also signed a law restoring direct voter control of school tax ceilings, and supported and signed legislation making sex education courses voluntary.

He appointed an Advisory Council on Vocational Education which drafted a master plan to revitalize vocational-technical education;

—approved an Educational Research Commission to work with school districts to improve reading and math teaching, and —assisted in the formation of innovative bilingual teaching and textbook programs to help those children who have a language problem.

Governor Reagan Opposes Forced Busing of Children

Governor Reagan has consistently and vigorously opposed the forced busing of school children. This year he signed a major law which prohibits mandatory busing of school children without their parents' consent.

"Forcing children to be herded into buses and carted across town each day... is using kids as social pawns. It would siphon off millions of dollars which should be used for books and equipment and teachers.

"Quality education must be provided for every child —by bringing it to the neighborhood in which he lives, not the other way around.

"It will be the continuing policy of this administration to vigorously oppose—by all legal means—the forced busing of our school children."

Keep California moving ahead in the '70s.

Sonoma Hopefuls Draw Nearly Blank Audience

Sonoma County candidates offered their views in Rohnert Park last night, but few chose to brave the rain to hear them.

The candidates' night program sponsored by the Rohnert Park Chamber of Commerce drew only four persons who were not affiliated with a candidate or the press.

Even Philip L. Joerger, candidate for Southern Sonoma supervisor, didn't attend. The other five candidates presented brief talks and spent the evening trying to win each other's support.

Richard R. Day, Joerger's opponent in the supervisor's race, said his campaign was concerned basically with planned and controlled growth for Southern Sonoma.

"Up until now, Southern Sonoma has been developing by accident rather than by plan," Day said. He said he envisioned a sea of rooftops in the Petaluma Valley unless county officials begin to develop a sound plan for growth involving green belts and open space.

Day wondered aloud, "Where's Phil Joerger tonight?" and questioned whether his opponent would appear with him at any future candidate's nights.

Don Striepeke, candidate for sheriff, said he decided to give up his position with the state Division of Forestry to run for office when he found dissatisfaction among residents with the administration of the department and turmoil within it. He said he felt that a person from outside the department could better cope with internal problems.

Striepeke said that no real issues had developed between him and his opponent, Winfield Thibodeau, but that he was basing his campaign on his experience in administration and in directing large groups of men.

Thibodeau, a sergeant in the sheriff's department, said he has been in charge of the Guerneville substation since 1968 and has sen a decrease in the amount of crime along the Russian River.

Thibodeau said he would promote higher education among deputies and place emphasis on community relations, juvenile problems and drug education.

George L. Crane candidate for assessor, said he would take a strong stand with the state Legislature to give more local control of taxing to county assessors.

Crane, leader of the irate taxpayers committee, said he would bring economy and efficiency to the office.

His opponent, Ernest L. Comalli, said he had 19 years experience with the assessors department including the last four as assistant to Robert J. McMullen, retiring assessor.

Comalli said he was experienced enough to deal with all problems. He said the department had a good record he would continue and reported that 40,000 units were taxed this year with less than 1 per cent found in error.

Robbers Hit Market, Gas Station

Armed robberies, apparently unrelated, were staged at two central Marin locations late yesterday and early today, police reported.

The first was at 10:30 p.m. yesterday at the Stop and Go Market in San Anselmo where $410 in cash was taken by a man wearing a nylon stocking over his head and carrying a stub-nosed revolver.

Officers said the man entered the store as clerk Parker Sewell, 24, was working on business records at the cash register.

"Let me have all your cash and I don't want those goddamn checks," the robber was quoted by Sewell as saying.

After receiving the cash, the man described as a Negro, about 20 years of age, five feet, 10 inches tall and wearing blue overalls, struck Sewell with his fist and fled on foot from the store at 807 San Anselmo Avenue. Sewell was not injured, police said.

Attendant Warren Tadlock told police two men entered his station complaining of motor trouble in their vehicle. They then produced a pipe wrench and robbed him of $2 and the station of $1.25. They were described as caucasians about 20 years of age, and five feet, eight inches tall.

Name Is Same But With Hyphen

LONDON (UPI) — Former Foreign Secretary George Brown lefally changed his name Wednesday to George-Brown so he can be known by his own full name when he takes his seat in the House of Lords.

Brown was awarded a life peerage when he announced his retirement from politics after being defeated in last June's general election.

Inserting the hyphen into his name by deed poll means Brown can be known as Lord George-Brown and can sign his name, officially, the same as he always has done. There already is one Lord Brown.

Brown refused comment but a friend said, "He always wanted to remain plain George Brown."

Police Foil Attempt On Premier's Life

BEIRUT (UPI)—Police sources said Wednesday security units foiled an assassination attempt against Premier Saeb Salam this week by a man posing as a vegetable merchant outside the official's villa.

The sources said Youssef Anani, 22, was arrested and held on unspecified charges. He was armed with a submachine-gun when seized on Monday.

Measures B, C, H Backed By Corte Madera Chamber

Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce board yesterday endorsed Measures B, C and H on the Nov. 3 ballot.

Measure B seeks passage of a $16.9 million bond issue, and Measure C a tax rate increase of 25 cents per $100 assessed valuation, both for the Marin Junior College District. Barbara Packard, chamber manager, said the chamber board endorsed the measures after a talk by Supt. John A. Grasham.

William R. Seeger, manager of the Marin Municipal Water District, spoke and won endorsement of the district's Measure H, an $11.0-million bond issue for water district improvements.

The board yesterday also named its nominating committee for board vacancies.Named were Robert Satterthwaite of the Corte Madera Pharmacy, Richard G. Burns, a Corte Madera attorney, and Louis Malvino, a clothing store owner.

Student Leader Quits At U.C.

He said the ASUC was "structurally inadequate of self improvement" and demanded constitutional changes, including the election of officers on the basis of department or geographical representation.

Only Description: Dark Shoes, Socks

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Telephone lineman David Bauer, 25, was working inside a manhole Wednesday when he felt a foot on his hard hat.

"Keep your head down and give me your money," a threatening voice told him. He handed up $8.

Meg's Midi Brings Another Big Groan

LONDON (UPI) — Princess Margaret wore another midi-length dress Wednesday and it touched off another chorus of groans from British fashion arbiters.

"Oh, Margaret! Yet again," headlined the Daily Mirror under a picture of Queen Elizabeth's sister at Heathrow Airport leaving for a trip to Yorkshire.

"Your Royal Highness, you've got to be joking," said the Sun's fashion writer.

Another fashion expert said the princess at 5-feet-1 is too short to look good in a midi. When she wore a midi last week, one fashion writer compared her appearance with that of Calamity Jane.

Warrant Issued On Drug Possession

A bench warrant with bail set at $5,000 has been issued in Marin Municipal Court for William Donald Collins, 19, of 200 Posada Del Sol, Novato, who failed to appear Tuesday for a preliminary hearing.

Collins is accused of felony counts of possessing dangerous drugs and marijuana and a misdemeanor reckless driving charge. He was arrested by the California Highway Patrol May 8 on Highway 101.

Behr For Lottery To Aid Education

Peter H. Behr of Mill Valley, Republican nominee for state Senate, today proposed a statewide lottery to raise new revenue for education.

Behr made his proposal on radio station KTIM's "Sounding Board" in a panel discussion with the other two candidates for Senate — Democrat Michael R. Peevey of San Rafael and Esther Anne Smart of Larkspur, nominee of the American Independent Party.

Behr did not say how much revenue would be raised by such a lottery, but noted that they have been operating for several years in New York and New Hampshire.

Peevey termed the proposal "a gimmick," claiming that New York last year raised only $10 million from its lottery. California spent over $4 billion last year for education, Peevey noted, adding that Behr's proposal was "terribly misleading" because it could not raise enough new revenue to make a dent in such a large sum.

Mrs. Smart said the proposal "goes against my grain."

Behr conceded he did not know how much New York raised last year through its lottery, but challenged the accuracy of the $10 million figure cited by Peevey as "neither possible nor probable."

On other issues hit on by all three candidates, both Behr and Peevey supported Measure A on the Marin County ballot and endorsed Wilson Riles for state superintendent of public instruction. Measure A calls for total withdrawal of all U.S. forces from Southeast Asia by June 30, 1971.

Peevey, however, said that Behr's Solano campaign headquarters had barred use of Behr's name in advertisements for Riles,.

Mrs. Smart opposed Measure A and endorsed Riles's opponent, incumbent Max Rafferty.

Mrs. Smart characterized herself as "the only conservative running, although I am not too happy about the words 'conservative' and 'liberal.' I'm very liberal of heart, but not very liberal when it comes to spending other people's money."

She said that the Golden Gate Bridge District's move into the commuter transportation business was "just another deal to keep the district in existence." She instead favored "another bridge or two."

Peevey said that he was the only candidate with experience in both Sacramento and Washington, D.C., having served as an economic adviser to legislative committees in both capitals. He called for licensing automobile repair garages and for instituting no-fault automobile insurance, which he said would cut rates up to 20 per cent.

Peevey stressed his long devotion to conservation causes, a point picked up by Behr. "I endorse Mr. Peevey's intentions and sincerity on environmental concerns," Behr said, "but point to my own record of performance that goes back 10 to 15 years."

Behr noted that a coalition of Bay Area conservationists this week had endorsed him.

He called for a "modest" severance tax on the oil industry, but cautioned against putting the industry in California "at an unfair competitive advantage" with the oil industry in other states. Behr said that the elimination of the controversial oil depletion allowance would raise only $25 million a year, a small amount compared with a state budget of more than $6 billion. The whole field of depreciation, including on industrial equipment, needed revision, he said.

Behr, asked about his campaign spending, said that he expected to spend "half or less" of the $84,000 he spent in the primary election. Peevey and Smart called for strict limits on campaign spending.

New Book Tells Sailors' Secrets

HAMBURG, GERMANY — Like to know all the hot spots for sailors at worldwide port cities? For German-speaking people, a new book makes it easy.

The "Landing Guide for Overseas," a 370-page volume put together by Hamburg's Association of German Shipowners, was actually designed for sailors. But its corps of readers may well prove much larger.

The book presents detailed information about 262 port cities in 90 different countries. With much shorter docking times in navigation today, seamen need information on how to see things rapidly and the new guide aims at filling the need.

It is written by sailors and includes a veritable treasure of important travel tips — for example, what to buy where, standard rates for various services and goods, where to go to establish contact with the local inhabitants and where to go on picnics.

Shakespearean Woes Add Up To $3,100

The Marin Shakespeare Festival has reported a $3,100 deficit for this season, despite the largest audiences in the group's 10-year history.

Coupled with the red ink totaling $10,738 the festival inherited from its nine earlier years, total deficit now stands at $13,897, he reported.

Rawnsley blamed this year's loss on the arson which destroyed almost all of the festival's costumes, malicious mischief, theft of costly equipment and an accident which sent a tree limb crashing down and ruined much of the theater's lighting.

The season, with a record $20,287 from the box office and an additional $7,946 from performances of the musical "Brigadoon" as a tenth-season attraction, grossed nearly $50,000, Rawnsley said.

Rawnsley said yesterday that he will try to perusade executive director John Brebner to reconsider his resignation presented to the board Tuesday.

Otherwise, the festival directors expect to meet Nov. 3 to begin seeking a replacement.

Brebner, in addition to his longtime efforts for the Marin festival, is active with the Players' Guild in San Francisco.

Rawnsley deplored the season's costly misfortunes, saying that a profit for the year would have enabled the board to consider hiring help to lighten Brebner's duties.

He said the board may repeat in 1971 the pattern set this year, of inserting a non-Shakespearean musical into the season's offerings. Experiments with road trips outside the familiar confines of the Forest Meadows stage also may be repeated, he suggested.

Sunday Babies Not So Frequent Now

STUTTGART, GERMANY — Traditionally, Germans have believed that children born on Sunday were destined to lead particularly happy lives. If true, the number of the country's "happies" is declining.

Once on a par with other weekdays or even above par, Sunday births now account for only 10.7 per cent of each week's new babies, according to official statistics.

Changes in hospital working routines and home life among younger couples provide the key reasons for the Sunday decline. In all but exceptional cases, hospitals no longer try to induce births artificially on Sundays —formerly, a fairly frequent practice.

The change in German home life now finds housewives doing much less house cleaning. Saturday used to be the big cleaning day and husbands didn't help. The strain frequently induced labor and women gave birth to Sunday babies.

$300,000 Asked For 'Beatings'

OAKLAND (UPI)—A Berkeley minister and his wife filed a $300,000 suit Thursday, saying they had been "willfully, maliciously, unjustly and unlawfully assaulted" by police last July 4.

Rev. and Mrs. Richard York filed the Alameda Count Superior Court action against the City of Berkeley and policemen Carl Lipgens, David M. Johnson and Terence Bruiniers.

In their suit, they contend they were beaten when returning to their automobile after watching a disturbance on Telegraph Avenue.

York, an Episcopal Church priest, is pastor of Berkeley's Free Church.

No-Smoking Area In Planes Asked

SAN MATEO (UPI)—The San Mateo County Medical Society proposes a boycott of airlines that do not provide separate seating for non-smokers.

"Exposure to cigarette smoking is harmful to non-smokers," the society said Wednesday.

Dr. William Sayer, an allergist, declared for the group that "non smoking people who are exposed to cigarette smoke have been found in many instances to suffer unmistakable biological effects."

Fall Trash Bash's Last Free Pickup

The last free pickup of trimmings and debris in Novato's Fall Trash Bash will take place from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday at the east end of Rowland Boulevard, according to cochairman Renee Kiff and Barbara Munden.

John W. Rentz, fire prevention officer of the Novato Fire District, said that the ban on backyard burning remains in effect even during rainy weather and will remain in effect indefinitely according to the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District.

THE HOOTS AND cries of ghosts and goblins fill the dark cells in the basement of San Rafael's old County Court House which until recently held local lawbreakers and is now a haunted house. Stopping at the first cell on an eerie trip through the former jail is David Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth B. Howard who is being escorted by Mrs. Charles Jones Jr. The scene including a huge papier-mache skeleton was created by Patricia Larson. In another scene enclosed in a fluorescent yellow spider web Mrs. Douglas Ascher stirs up a brew beneath a big spider with blinking eyes. Frank's Place is the name of the scene featuring, of course, Frankenstein who seems to have cast a spell over Mrs. Kenneth B. Howard.

Ghosts, Witches And Demons In Town For Haunted House

A wierd assortment of inhabitants are moving into the old abandoned jail underneath the old Court House in San Rafael today, and by tomorrow they'll have fully taken it over as the seventh annual Haunted House of the Jolly Roger's Chapter of the Children's Home Society opens.

Ghosts, witches, demons and assorted ghouls will be ready to receive youthful guests beginning tomorrow at 3 p.m. in 28 professionally-decorated rooms done by chapter members and decorators.

The annual Halloween Haunted House will continue for Bay Area children's spooky fun on weekdays from 3 to 9 p.m. and weekends from noon to 9 p.m. until Halloween day itself, when hours will be noon to 6 p.m.

Last year some 20,000 persons dared to visit the haunted house, says chief witch Mrs. Charles O. Jones, Jr. of Jolly Rogers Chapter. Peter Pan Chapter of the Children's Home Society will run a refreshment booth during the visiting hours. All proceeds go directly to the Children's Home Society of California, a statewide private adoption agency.

Other chief witches for the event in downtown San Rafael are Mmes. Kenneth Howard, decorators and participating stores; Charles Massen, decorations; Douglas Ascher, publicity; Sid Stockwell, programs; Richard Miller, treasurer; Wayne Easton, posters and flyers; Robert Banfield and Phillip Roark, staffing; Noel McCarthy, tickets; James Sheaves, signs; Robert Taverna, reception; Paul Bates, prizes; Michael Winter, costumes; and John Colombo, clean-up.

The Court House jail entrance is located on A Street between Fourth and Fifth Streets, San Rafael.

The witch committee recommends the tour for children 6 or over.

They spent 10 days in England, chiefly in London, where Mr. Graham visited with his cousin, Dr. Irene Adams. The Grahams also visited his cousin in Britton Adams in Northern Ireland. Then they continued on to Scotland and the Continent, enjoying Paris and Lucerne especially.

Mass Korean Wedding Unites 790 Couples

SEOUL (UPI)—Church Master Sun Myung Moon asked, "Do you swear to love your spouses forever?" The answer rang 1,580 strong through the gymnasium normally used for basketball and boxing.

The event Tuesday was the wedding of 790 couples, some of them Americans. It was South Korea's largest mass wedding, and perhaps the largest mass wedding in the world.

The couples — 539 from Korea, 235 from Japan, seven from the Anited States and nine from West Germany, France, Italy, the Netherlands and Nationalist China — were members of the Holy Spirit Association for the Unification of World Christianity.

While a Korean navy band and an electric organ played wedding marches and hymns, the couples marched in, the men in grey suits and the women in white chima chogori, the traditional Korean costume. For some foreign brides it was their first time in the national dress and they looked a bit uneasy.

Hugh Spurgin, Kansas City, Kan., said he was "very happy" to be married. Spurgin, who now works for the Labor Department in Washington, D. C., said he and his bride, Miss Nora Martin, also from Kansas City, both joined the church about two years ago.

Another American, the new Mrs. Gladys K. Hoffman, 24, from Las Vegas, said "I'm very glad. It's a privilege to be here." Her bridegroom, Orthuis Hoffman, 34 also from Las Vegas, stood smiling beside her.

The grooms gave gold rings to their brides and received fountain pens as their marriage gifts. The ceremony closed with the couples singing a Korean folk song, "Arirang."

It took them another hour to file out, and then all took off in 40 hired buses for a honeymoon trip tour of Seoul and a music and dance festival.

THE COUPLES now are permitted to live together but not allowed to sleep in the same bed for 40 days.

The church, founded by Moon in 1951 during the Korean War claims to have 300,000 members in Korea, 60,000 in Japan and missionaries in 24 other countries. It held similar mass weddings in the past but none approaching today's 790 couples.

We watch out for the curves

Indeed we do, because half the race spends so much time looking at them! And if a dress, suit, or pants just happens to curve you in the right direction, then clothes will direct to you the right attention. So you see, it is a woman's world (which is softly rounded, too). With today's new more feminine styles, and our so carefully chosen selection, you will look, feel, and enjoy your natural birthright. Do come in. Explore with us the new softer geometry. With our clothes we can definitely prove that the straightest line between a bewitching "she" and an admiring "he" is — you're right, a curve!

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Johnny Horizon Clean Up Program Set Up By Interior Department

DEAR HELEN:

Your answer to teen-agers seeking help for their anti-litter program was excellent, but let's take it one step farther:

There is an organized program — the Department of the Interior's Johnny Horizon Program — that welcomes self-starting volunteers such as the young people who wrote to you. While it's aimed mainly at public lands administered by the Federal Government, it is equally applicable to state and local parks, forests, beaches and streams.

A new information pamphlet "How to Conduct a Clean-up Campaign" gives a step-by-step outline on setting up a Johnny Horizon Countryside Cleanup. This publication and other like material are available from: Johnny Horizon Program Coordinator, U.S. Department of the Interior, Bureau of Land Management, Washington, D.C., 20204.

For two years, Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel has designated a fall clean-up month for J.H. volunteers, with excellent results. May there be even bigger response next year — JOHNNY HORIZON'S HELPER AT THE USDI.

DEAR HELEN:

There is a girl at school who has a speech impairment. For this reason she is not too well liked because the kids think she is retarded which she isn't.

Anyway, I was talking to her when a girl comes up and pushes Ann down on the cement, for no reason at all, except to show how big she is. Ann got up and ran away. When you can't express yourself very well, I guess it makes you scared. When I found her, she was crying. This has happened a lot of times before.

She's really a sweet girl, but the kids who aren't mean to her just ignore her, and that's almost as bad. Even my good friends won't be bothered trying to help her. They think I'm a dumb do-gooder.

What can be done? — CONNIE

DEAR CONNIE:

Try another approach with your good friends. Tell them every group needs a project and suggest they make Ann theirs. Then — see how much you can bring her out in a year's time. Most young people these days are anxious to get involved in worthy causes. I can't think of a better one. Can you? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I have a little problem. I have been smoking for three years and can't stop though I've tried. Actually, I want to keep on smoking, but if my mother ever finds out, I'm dead.

How do I convince my mother that smoking is okay? She thinks teen-agers who smoke are all bad. — LUCY

DEAR LUCY:

People who smoke aren't all bad, but they might be dead seven years sooner than non-smokers — according to statistics.

Sorry . . . The only convincing I'll try is to say, "Don't let cigarettes take your breath away" — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

One Fashion House Plays It Safe With Hemline Below Knee

THE NATION'S fashion buyers are seeing costumes such as this during these weeks of showings for spring clothes held in New York through the first week of November. Here is the covered lady-like look from the Christian Dior-New York Collection. Reminiscent of a Sunday school picnic costume worn in the Gay Nineties, it features covered arms, a demure neckline, a modest skirtline and hat suitable for collecting strawberries. No minis appeared from Dior-New York.

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI)—A fashion house that plays hemlines the safe way for spring pegs most suit and costume skirts at three inches or a little more below the knee.

Along Main Street, USA, that length never went out of style with many matrons.

The real midi, which hit some customers like a lead balloon nationwide this fall, settles at calf or below calf level. That length didn't show in the Seymour Fox collection, except in coats.

"BETTER SAFE than sorry" was a theme the designer also stuck to in colors, basic designs and trimmings for the tailored spring suits, costumes and coats.

Fox was one of the firms opening spring collections through the first full week of November for the nation's store buyers.

The suit silhouette was strictly the ever safe Coco Chanel type. Narrow set-in sleeves, collarless jackets trimmed down front, around neck and ends of sleeves with fringe in many cases. Brass buttons, single and double breasted. Belted jackets sometimes. Patch pockets, usually four, most of the time.

SKIRTS WITH these suits had that side-closure look, the fringe or trim from jacket continued down the closure panel to accent it.

Not Many Fruits And Vegetables In Abundant Supply At Markets

WASHINGTON (UPI) —USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service reports that food shoppers will find a fair supply of meats, but only a few vegetables and fruits in abundant supply this weekend.

At meat counters, in the beef line, roasts and steaks will be special offerings. And in pork, bacon, ham, roasts will be the choice cuts in best supply. In poultry, the lone item in abundance will be broiler-fryers.

BEST OFFERINGS in vegetables include cabbage, carrots, onions, potatoes, and lettuce.

In the fruit department, only apples and grapes will be in abundance this weekend.

The Department of Commerce reports canned salmon, fish sticks and portions, and canned tuna will be in excellent supply.

Foods on USDA's plentiful foods list for October shoppers are fresh apples, apple sauce, apple juice, pork, broiler-fryers, dry beans, canned peaches, canned salmon, onions, eggs, potatoes, and dried prunes.

Here is a closer look at supplies of foods in the West:

IN WEST COAST markets, prices of beef loins and large and medium eggs are lower. Smoked pork was mostly lower, fresh pork mixed.

Fryers were higher in the Northwest.

Fruits and vegetables in best supply include apples, bananas, grapes, cabbage, carrots, onions, potatoes, and tomatoes.

Seafood buys to watch for in the West, according to the U.S. Department of Commerce, are canned salmon, fresh and frozen salmon, dungeness crab and crabmeat, snapper, dover sole, and Pacific oysters.

Food And Drug Use

NEW YORK (UPI)—Children who come home to warm homes permeated with the smell of good cooking are less apt to seek sensations such as drug-taking, in the opinion of author and social commentator Sam Levenson.

Levenson, who has written two best sellers on the simple virtues of life, is working on a third book which argues that the "synthetic, automatic, electronic, noise-infested, soot-laden, oxygen-free, peace-free" atmosphere in which children are raised promotes addiction.

"A home should smell like a home," Levenson said. "Children have got to touch, see and feel that they are home. Mothering requires smothering —children whose senses come alive at home do not need to take a trip in search of what is so freely available to them.

"We need to retrace our steps to the days when this kind of home was the rule and not the exception it is today. Too many children do not come home to something cooking in the oven. Over and over they say they 'come home to nobody all the time.' "

Levenson who wrote "Everything But Money" about life in the ghetto and "Sex and the Single Child" about the basic innocence of youth, does not consider the old-style home a universal panacea. But it can, he says, help eliminate the "boredom, loneliness, sense of personal irrelevance and leisure without purpose" that plagues the younger generation.

Fringe Benefits Absorbed By Decline Of Dollar

Nobody needs to be told right now that inflation has cut into the dollars they earn. The 1970-71 property tax statements that went out from the county treasurer-tax collector's office the past few days have done that.

Even the tax statements, however, fail in indicate just how far the dollar has been depreciated by the constant increase of the cost of everything.

THE UNITED STATES Chamber of Commerce has done that in a recent report on "How Your Dollar is Shrinking."

The dollar of 1942 — the first year of World War II — had shrunk to 68 cents in what it would purchase by 1949, according to the chamber of commerce's study. Eight years later, in 1957, it was down to 58 cents. And this year, it is worth only 42 cents. In other words, it takes about $2.40 today to go as far as $1 went in 1942.

THEN THE CHAMBER adds its shocker: If the rate of inflation that has prevailed since World War II continues, that same dollar in 1998 will be worth only 18 cents. That means it would bear about the same relationship to today's dollar that the one you get today bears to the "hard money" of 1942.

If inflation continues at the same rate, and the federal government provides no more services in 1998 than it does now (which would mean it would have to reverse a trend that has been going on longer than the inflation), federal spending in 1998 will rise to $907 billion. And the national debt will increase to $1.7 trillion — a figure which may be more impressive when written this way: $1,700,000,000,000.

A lot of things contribute to inflation. Basically, it comes from everybody's desire to get more and more for less and less. The human animal does not seem to be able to understand that this just never happens. When you receive more money for the same goods or services, the other fellow must also get more for his. The result is simply that you wind up in constant pursuit of an unattainable goal — and unsettle the economy in the process.

ONE THING that has contributed heavily to inflation is mentioned in another recent U.S. Chamber of Comerce report, its biennial study entitled "Employee Benefits 1969."

This shows that "fringe benefits" for American employees — Social Security, unemployment compensation, pensions, insurance, paid vacations, etc. — have increased 330 per cent since 1949.

That's the period, remember, that the dollar has fallen from 68 cents to 42 cents compared with 1942.

IN OTHER WORDS the economy has had to absorb a 330 per cent increase in benefits that don't show up in take-home pay while the dollar has been declining by about half.

The fringe benefits are to provide security — for periods of unemployment, disability, old age. They also provide more rest, more vacations, more holidays for workers. All these are fine, but . . .

These fringe benefits, the chamber's study shows, now make up 27.9 per cent of employer payrolls.

And that 27.9 per cent is almost exactly the same percentage by which the dollar has declined since 1957.

This is is not to say that fringe benefits should not exist. But like other illusory "more for less" gimmicks, they have a way cancelling themselves out by the inflation they help create.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Argument Against County Measure A

All voters would welcome any solution to the war in Southeast Asia that would guarantee the withdrawal of American troops as soon as possible with the least possible casualties, the prompt return of our prisoners of war, cessation of all hostilities, and self-determination for the Indo-Chinese. County Measure "A" calling for the withdrawal of all American forces by June 30, 1971 would accomplish none of these objectives. It provides no assurance that the withdrawal would not end in a second Dunkirk. Supporting arguments in the voter's pamphlet do not even mention our prisoners. Our withdrawal by a set date would not end the war and if carried out prematurely would neither guarantee that the Indo-Chinese would get self-determination nor that they would escape other slaughters such as occurred at Hue. Moreover, the Senate has already refused to tie the President's hands with a specific withdrawal date. (The proposal for a deadline six months later than that specified in this measure got less than 40 votes.)

Answer To Taxing Problems: Annex

For more efficient lower cost administration of government for everyone in Marin County in both incorporated and unincorporated areas, would it not be more dealistic to update ourselves with the annexation to incorporated cities of the contiguous unincorporated areas? Many of them are as densely populated as the incorporated sections of geographically single communites.

For instance, the Mill Valley-Homestead Valley-Tamalpais Valley-Strawberry geographically single community, but not governmental single community. How does one tell from looking at this geographically single community where one incorporated or unincorporated section ends and the next section begins?

Why should this one otherwise modern Mill Valley geographically single community remain, as far as governmental administration and costs are concerned, the same as in the horse and buggy days of long, long ago — still under two forms of government — county and city?

Without annexation by incorporated cities of contiguous unincorporated areas, it is impossible to clearly define pertinent aspects for governmental efficiency in administration to be maximized, and the cost for government paid for in a truly representative fair manner. One instance is the matter of police protection.

Observe U.S. Day, Not U.N. Day

What temerity some of our citizenry have in requesting a contribution from the board of supervisors for a United Nations Day celebration!

The UN has not managed to halt war, punish despots, or better the lot of millions of unhappy human beings now entombed behind the Marxist-Leninist iron curtain of the world . . .

Rather, with heart and soul, let us observe United States Day.

Church Youth Day Moving Experience

Bouquets for the young people who conducted Sunday's services at the San Rafael Presbyterian Church; and brickbats to those who criticized their appearances. It was a moving experience, beautifully done, with the participants speaking from their hearts — and their heads — saying what they thought and felt, not mouthing someone else's utterances. Each was an individual and each was attired to his individual taste. Had they all been in their "Sunday best" — neat, conservative dresses and dark suits, white shirts, ties and conventional hair styles — their message that we are too much involved with material things and not enough with the spiritual would not have been meaningful. Too bad some of the congregation were so concerned with the outer appearance that they missed the point of the services completely!

Incident Provides Tragic Example

Though it at first appears quite comical, the incident in which Gov. Preston Smith from Texas was involved (Independent-Journal, Oct. 14) seems to me another tragic example of mankind's increasing inability to communicate effectively. The governor was irritated by the noise, the students outraged by a 30-year sentence given to an individual for passing one marijuana cigarette to an undercover agent.

Surely no one would disagree that it is unpleasant to speak before an audience intent on chanting their own concerns. Likewise, it would be a gross understatement to say that 30 years for passing a marijuana cigarette is an excessive penalty.

According to the article, the governor had planned to say how hard he was working to include Texas youth in his administration. Though it may not have been possible at the time, the sincerity of his intentions could be demonstrated by listening to what the students were saying, rather than taking personal offense at the noise. Young people are no less courteous than their elders, but more intense and insistent that injustices be corrected. One must dinstinguish between agitation for the sake if agitation, and anger, borne out of frustration and anguish . . .

Brazil's Tribes Cling To Enclaves —Just Like Those In California

By JACK COOPER

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Among the fascinating mail that comes into this office is the Brazilian Trade Bulletin, put out by the Brazilian Government Trade Bureau, a department of the Brazilian Consulate General in New York.

It's about Brazil.

And we learn that a Brazilian named Katsuni Mochizuki has found out how to grow 14-pound grapefruits on his farm near San Paolo.

THERE IS SOME discussion of a 4,000-mile road the Brazilian government is to build across the Amazon country from the Atlantic Bulge at Recife to the border with Peru.

Observing that civilization with its comforts follows transportation routes, the government concludes that the reason the interior is so undeveloped and its people so poor is that much of the territory is too remote from the only present means of practical transportation, the Amazon River.

Hence the great road, and hence the article on how the government hopes to cope with the 30 clans of Indians along the route.

About 20 of these clans have had little contact with outsiders, the bulletin relates. Those who already take part in the ordinary economic activities of the region are expected to welcome the road, because it will bring good jobs and much higher living standards.

"But the rugged individualists among the Indians, who cling to the old ways," warns the bulletin, "may simply flee more deeply into the woods with resentment for the intruders."

The Apinajes, Paracnas, Araras, Suruis, Acurunas, Xicrins, Cacacoatis, and Caraibas "speak a variety of distinct tongues or dialects and refuse to have anything to do even with each other. . .

"In some cases, a clan of fewer than 100 men women and children will claim an area of 1,000 square miles as their territory, beating off trespassers from other clans."

THIS RECALLS the fierce battles of the El Monte Indians that held up the government of California's attempt to build a road from Los Angeles to San Bernardino. The tribe refused for 10 years to put its mark on a government treaty called a freeway agreement.

Or the great battle of the ferocious McClatchys, that almost succeeded in pushing a Sacramento freeway clear across a great waterway and into another county.

Or the continuing warfare of the Alioto and Christopher tribes of the great San Francisco clan, which speaks a distinct tongue and refuses to have anything to do even with the other clans around the Great Bay.

Repeated government attempts to poke a passageway through the matted and tangled undergrowth of their territory have been beaten off so that to this day this great barrier interrupts and impedes travel in the entire bay region.

Many of the rugged San Franciscos have fled deeper into the woods of Marin County, or even Contra Costa, where they are waiting for a train, but the impasse remains.

We wish our Brazilian friends better success.

Agnew, Like Nixon In 1958, Piles Up Credits In GOP Bank

WASHINGTON — Out of the uncertainties of this fog-bound campaign one thing seems certain: if the Nixon-Agnew strategy succeeds and the Republicans win control of the Senate and make substantial gains in the House, the swing will be farther to the right than any shift of direction in this century.

As was illustrated by an incident on Vice President Agnew's swing through Florida, it may be a sharper turn than even the architects of the strategy would like. Rep. William C. Cramer, the Republican candidate for the Senate, told an enthusiastic rally that he had once sat on the Vice President's right. And it takes some doing, he added, to be to the right of Agnew.

READING HIS prepared text, Agnew interpolated the remark that he wasn't far to the right and that he did not want to be put in any category of left or right. What Agnew succeeds in doing is to fire up men like Cramer, who outdo him in the rhetoric of the right. Cramer called for a law subjecting all federal judges, including the justices of the Supreme Court, to a review every six years. He promised as his first act, if elected to the Senate with a Republican majority, to fire Sen. J. William Fulbright as chairman of the foreign relations committee.

This last drew prolonged applause and cheers. Fulbright, school busing, crime, the news media of the eastern seaboard — these are sure-fire Agnew targets. School busing and crime in particular get the virtually all-white audiences on their feet cheering. They obviously take this as a promise of what will happen come next January.

THE PARALLEL between Spiro Agnew in 1970 and Richard Nixon in 1958 is striking. Vice President Nixon was barnstorming across the country in that congressional campaign as Agnew is doing today. The Nixon of '58 warned the voters who turned out to hear him that a Democratic Congress would socialize the country. He went so far that President Eisenhower felt compelled to restrain him.

The election that Nov. 4 was a disaster for the G.O.P. The Democrats won control of both Senate and House by the largest margins since the Roosevelt landslide of 1936.

Nevertheless, Nixon had amassed substantial capital in the Republican bank. He laid the groundwork with the party regulars for his nomination for the presidency in 1960 and, building on this base with his intensive efforts in more than 70 congressional districts in 1966, he was assured of the prize in 1968 long before the delegates went to Miami Beach.

THAT IS JUST what Agnew is doing this year. He has already gone into 20 states, some of them twice, and he will campaign in at least 10 more before election day. Win or lose on Nov. 3, he has become "Spiro the Hero," as the home-lettered signs have it, to party regulars throughout Nixon-Agnew country.

If Agnew has done nothing else, he has assured his place on the ticket in 1972. Assuming a second term for the Republicans, Agnew in 1976 will be 53 years old. A shrewd, calculating man who rarely makes any move that is not deliberate and carefully planned, he will be in a position to draw on the capital accumulated in the G.O.P. bank.

The circumstances in 1970 are quite different from 1958, when even a president who was a national hero could not provide coattails sufficiently long. The turn to the right is obvious. The Democrats are quarreling among themselves in many states, notably California. The wildly cheering rallies may not mean votes, but they mean Republican identity for the vice president and Agnewism.

WINDOW ON THE WORLD

Oct. 17: Bitter Anniversary For French Canadians

By PHIL NEWSOM, UPI Foreign News Analyst

For Canadians and Canadian Premier Pierre Elliott Trudeau Oct. 17 is to become an anniversary with a special bitterness.

It was the evening of Oct. 17, 1970, that the body of Pierre LaPorte, Quebec labor minister, was stuffed into the trunk of the same automobile in which he had been kidnaped a week earlier, and left for discovery the following morning along the banks of the St. Lawrence River.

It was on Oct. 17, two year earlier, that Trudeau had introduced a bill into the Canadian parliament making French and English the two official languages of the Parliament and the Canadian government.

LaPorte had become the first murder victim of French-speaking Quebec extremists demanding independence from the remainder of Canada.

THE BILL which Trudeau introduced in 1968 was a part or one of Trudeau's highest priority programs — to guarantee, the language and cultural rights of French Canadians everywhere in the country and to eliminate a problem which a Royal Commission on Bilingualism and Biculturism had labelled in 1965 "a national crisis."

Trudeau, himself a French Canadian, won national office as an outspoken opponent of Quebec separatism and since has poured hundreds of millions of Canadian development dollars into Quebec province to erase the feeling among Quebecoise that they are second-class citizens.

Once a favorite among Quebec dissidents, Trudeau since taking office in June, 1968, has found himself the target of flying bottles and such epithets as "Trudeau to the gallows."

AMONG QUEBEC province's approximately five million French-speaking inhabitants, the separatists are in a minority, and in that minority is another called the "Front for the Liberation of Quebec."

It is the far-left extremist wing of the separatists which, since its first appearance in 1963, has taken credit for bombings and armed robberies that have taken six lives.

The group is said to advocate a Cuban-style revolution and is strongly anti-United States.

Montreal police say they smashed a plot last June to kidnap the United States consul-general in Montreal and that earlier they foiled a plot to kidnap the Israeli consul and trade commissioner.

TRUDEAU HAD declared his great fear that civil disorder in the United States might overflow the border into Canada. Instead, it came to him from inside his own country.

The LaPorte killing will leave deep emotional scars on the whole of Canada.

Only Solution To America's Curse: Give Away The Hope Diamond

WASHINGTON — There is a great deal of soul-searching going on in this country as to why things have gone wrong. The Democrats blame the Republicans. The Republicans blame the radical-liberals. The students blame the Establishment. The Establishment blames Doctor Spock.

The one thing everyone seems in agreement on is that we're in a mess. The only thing no one is in agreement is on how we got into it.

I CAN NOW reveal the exact date and hour when things started going downhill in the United States. I can also reveal, for the first time, the reason why.

On Nov. 10, 1958, at 11 a.m., a small brown package insured for $1 million was delivered to the Smithsonian Institution. Inside was the famous Hope diamond, a gift to the United States from Harry Winston, one of America's famous jewelers.

The Smithsonian was thrilled to have such a beautiful stone to display to the public. But what the American officials did not take into consideration was that the diamond had a curse on it — it brings bad luck to anyone who owns it.

HERE ARE JUST a few of the things that happened to people who possessed the Hope diamond:

Louis XIV gave it to his mistress, Mme. de Montespan, and immediately abandoned her. The king himself contracted an incurable disease and finished his reign in disgrace.

The beautiful Princess Lamballe wore the diamond and was beaten to death by a mob during the French Revolution. Her head was paraded before Marie Antoinette, her closest friend. King Louis XVI, who inherited the stone, and his lovely Marie didn't fare any better.

The diamond was missing for several years. Then it turned up in the possession of Wilhelm Fals, a Dutch diamond cutter. Fals died of grief when his son Hendrik stole it from him. Hendrik committed suicide.

Francois Beaulieu, a Frenchman who owned it next, died of starvation after selling it to an Englishman, David Eliason, who sold it to an Irishman named Henry Thomas Hope.

THE DIAMOND was sold at auction to Jacques Celot, a jeweler who went insane and committed suicide. A Russian prince, Ivan Kanitovski, also owned it at one time. He was, as everyone knows, stabbed to death. Catherine the Great is said to have worn the diamond, and she died of apoplexy.

After that, it was just one bad-luck story after another. One of the female owners, after living high on the hog, was reduced to working as a scrubwoman for $2 a day in a shipyard.

A Spanish owner drowned in a shipwreck. A Greek broker who sold it to a Turkish sultan was killed with his entire family when his car went over a precipice in the mountains. When the sultan gave the gem to his favorite wife, she stabbed him. The McLean family, who owned the diamond before Winston, didn't come out of it too well, either.

The Hope diamond has brought nothing but grief to its owners, and whoever accepted it on behalf of the United States in 1958 did this country a great disservice.

ANYONE WHO recalls what went on before 1958 and compares it to what is going on now knows we made a mistake.

The question is: What is the solution?

One suggestion is that we present the Hope diamond as a gift to the Soviet Union. President Nixon could drop it off on his next trip to Europe.

If the Russians refuse to accept it, there's always the Red Chinese. What better way of showing we want to be friends with the Chinese than to give it to Mrs. Mao Tse-tung to wear in her naval at the next rally in Peking Square?

Write your congressman before it's too late!

Memorabilia To Historic Society

Marin County Historical Society has been given the original volumes of county mortgage and lease records, according to Frank E. Gali of Ignacio, society president.

The memorabilia of decades-old Marin transactions was donated through action of the Marin County Board of Supervisors and County Recorder Noel T. Giacomini. County officials have retained microfilms of all the old files.

Galli reported the gift to the society in the October issue of the society's bulletin. He said the society hopes to publish the bulletin on an annual basis.

Financial needs probably will lead the society's directors to raise dues, Galli said.

Moneylending Measure Aimed At Loan Sharks

By ROBERT P. LAWRENCE
(Second of four articles)

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Loan sharks are the target of one of three measures on the Nov. 3 general election ballot affecting moneylending, interest rates and property taxes.

Sponsored by Assemblyman Charles J. Conrad, R-Sherman Oaks, Proposition 19 makes loan sharking a felony, rather than a misdemeanor. It will "strike at the second largest source of revenue of organized crime," Conrad argues.

"The poor, members of minority groups and small businessmen are the most likely victims of this criminal practice. These individuals, unable to secure loans through normal channels, fall prey to the loan sharks who may charge interest rates up to 150 per cent a week," he says.

Other money measures, Propositions 10 and 13, would exempt big loans to corporations from state interest limitations and increase the property tax exemption for disabled veterans.

Proposition 19 makes it a felony punishable by up to five years in prison for an unlicensed lender to lend money at rates over the limit for such loans.

"Why should a bank, savings and loan, or industrial loan company be able to charge people three times for their money just because the state says they can?" he asks.

"The money still comes from the pockets of low and modest income people whose only crims is not having enough money to be able to pay the sudden heavy cost of medical, home, or automobile expense."

Since the measure changes an initiative statute, it needs voter approval.

Proposition 10 would exempt loans of over $100,000 to corporations and partnerships from a clause in the state Constitution which limits the interest rate to 10 per cent. Loans by banks, savings and loan associations and other commercial lenders are already exempted.

Entertainer Art Linkletter, chairman of "Yes on Proposition 10," signed the voters' pamphlet argument for the measure, along with Assemblyman Paul Priolo, R-Pacific Palisades, who carried it through the Legislature, and Sen. Joseph Kennick, D-Long Beach.

They argue thatthe proposed amendment is needed because of the "urgency of bringing new capital into California to prevent a serious slowdown or complete collapse of the construction industry."

In 45 states loans are allowed at higher rates than in California, they say, and "if California is to be competitive in attracting investment money for real estate development, passage of this measure is imperative."

Opposed is Assemblyman William Campbell, R-Hacienda Heights, who argues "it is the consumer who suffers the most from today's high interest rates, not corporations."

"It is time for the voters to demonstrate that our concern should be directed toward strengthening the usury laws to protect the consumer, rather than catering to the needs of big corporations," the lawmaker says.

Proposition 13 would increase from $5,000 to $10,000 the property tax exemption granted on the homes of veterans who have lost the use of both legs. The exemption would also be extended to their widows.

It would affect about 860 disabled veterans, according to Syn. George Deukmejian, R-Long Beach, author of the proposed constitutional amendment.

He says that with the aid of federal funds many of the veterans have built homes specially equipped with wheelchair ramps and other equipment.

But rising property taxes have "placed many of these paralyzed veterans in such a bind that they may be soon be compelled to sell their present specially built homes — unless some relief is provided. When approved, this constitutional amendment will provide that relief," Deukmejian says.

New Peugeot 304
The balanced machine.

Introducing the Peugeot 304. A car with the heart of a lion. The Belfort Lion: symbol of Peugeot's 80 years of designing, building, racing, and improving cars.

A rear-heavy car is no better. On sharp curves, the tail end tends to swing out and you lose control.

To tip things in your favor, Peugeot developed a balanced machine. There's as much weight over the front wheels as over the rear wheels. Like in super-expensive sports cars.

As a result, you get all the benefits of front-wheel drive without a heavy front end. Definitely a sporting machine.

What's more, you get a four-door, family sedan with four-wheel independent suspension, Michelin radial tires, rack and pinion steering, disc brakes, and a four-speed all synchro stick set-up on the floor. Plus spacious trunk and fully reclining bucket seats.

Jean Stein's Clay, Mirrored Glass Decorative And Serious

By LAURA DEVENDORF

The earthiness of clay and the silvery sophistication of mirrored glass combine in Jean Stein's idea-rich exhibit, "Ceramic Reflections." These mirror and clay constructions which are being shown through Nov. 28 at Anima Munda, 352 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, bring out the better aspects of both materials. And they also prove that when an idea is good it can assume many postures from purely decorative to more serious forms.

"In mirrors," Miss Stein states, "I found a way to bring leaves and sky into rooms —an endless extension of vision."

In practice, her statement comes to mean much more than that the mirrors reflect nature literally. Each mirror's frame is also thick with a sense of natural matter. In each, there is a rawness of texture and a color as rough as earth and stone.

Wall hung and hand mirrors have eroded frames of clay built of flattened blobs or strips, some cut with a single circle or oval, others showing rows of them and still others having complex variations of these forms. Some look as though they were made from those odd leftover bits of dough which escape the cookie cutter. While others have an almost accidental natural imagery of leaflike etching or reeds and twining threads of clay growing over them.

The most abstract and purely sculptural of Miss Stein's ideas come in her pedestal mounted boxes. These neat, crisp shapes all have circular openings in their sides backed by mirrors or opened to expose a mirrored lining.

At almost an opposite pole are Miss Stein's pendants and fobs which she hangs from beaded strings. About them she says, "These tiny mirrors are amusements derived from the custom of 16th Century Italian ladies to wear decorated mirrors at their waists."

Her most serious piece, and certainly the most important one from which to grow, is a large construction built from mirror-lined frames, matted with planks and organic outgrowths of clay. Its repeating inner images suggest many, even more complex and intriguing possibilities. And while her other pieces achieve her purpose of bringing "leaves and sky into rooms," she should come even closer to the "endless extension of vision," she seeks, when she develops the mirroring images of the ceramic world she alone creates.

As good as these current pieces are, someday, they could be just a very sensitive and interesting beginning.

Hub Board Finds Small Windfall

The San Anselmo School District board, considering revisions in its fiscal 1971 budget, has discovered a small windfall of about $16,000, according to Supt. W. Kenneth Lowry.

Lowry said yesterday budget transactions showed the board had overestimated its expenses by $11,234 and underestimated its income from the state by about $4,500.

Lowry said the $11,234 comes from money budgeted for teachers' salaries and overestimates on capital outlay for equipment.

Lowry said the $16,000 was reallocated by the board thus: $4,305 for inservice education, $5,700 for instructional supplies, $3,600 for psychological services, $900 to reersves and other items totaling about $1,200.

The San Anselmo School District board also:

COMMITTEE — Asked for community volunteers for a committee to outline district education goals and programs. Service, civic and homeowners groups will be asked to submit names for the committee, which will be selected Nov. 3.

DELEGATE — Supported David D. Ring, Tamalpais Hgh School District trustee, as regional delegate to the California School Boards Association.

MEASURES — Voted support of the Marin Junior College District's measures B and C on the Nov. 3 ballot.

A strong responsible voice for MUNICIPAL JUDGE

It's time to cut out delays in bringing an accused to trial. The strongest deterrent to serious crime is the knowledge that justice will be swift and sure. Case-weakening postponements and needless stalling benefit only the guilty. Our courts must not tolerate this abuse of our system.

It's time to make sure that proven violations of criminal law result in prompt and proper sentencing. A good Judge meets his responsibility to administer justice effectively.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

THIRD SECTION — SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1970 — 19

BEERY BOOTY — Barry Simpson displays a trophy of his continuing hunt for old beer bottles, a John Weiland found in the ruins of an old Santa Rosa distillery. It and about 1,000 other bottles share the collector's bedroom in his San Rafael home. (Independent-Journal photo)

IT'S THE CONTAINER

What's In A Bottle Of Beer? Nothing For This Collector

By LARRY MOWELL

To most people the most desirable element of a bottle of beer is the liquid inside. To Barry Simpson, 16, the container is what counts.

Not old enough to put his money on the bar legally, the San Rafael High School junior has contented himself with gathering about 1,000 bottles and cans dating back to the last century.

Sitting in his bedroom at 93 Jewell Street, San Rafael, surrounded by his containers, Whitbread Brewmaster coasters, Kirin Beer ashtrays, Blatz Beer placards and books of matches from pubs and beer joints like Maxie's Gyp Joint in Benicia, Barry to of amassing the treasures stuffed into his room during the last year.

While visiting a friend in Omaha, Neb., in the summer of 1969, he noticed a display of five or 10 bottles his friend had collected.

That set him to scouring the countryside for Happy Hops lager beer bottles made for Grace Brothers of Santa Rosa, Volga Beer bottles from Red Bluff and pre-1900 Olympia bottles as well as modern brands.

"It became so much fun that we did it all the time," Barry said.

Most of his older bottles of John Weiland of San Jose, Acme Beer of San Francisco and Grace Brothers were discovered during an August trip to the demolished Grace Brothers distillery in Santa Rosa.

To take home the 300 different bottles, he said he had to hitch-hike to Santa Rosa and back five times.

One of his prizes, an Olympia beer bottle made between 1896 and 1900, was found after digging deep into a pile of rubble.

He said he has developed a sleuth's eye for traces of key finds usually hidden in abandoned dumps.

His search for new and different labels and shapes also leads him to breweries and old bars in San Francisco.

Age hinders the hunt in these quarters, however. "We walk by, see a display of old bottles, start to walk in and 'Out', he said, imitating a bartender.

Rummaging through roadside litter, dumps, decaying beer joints and distributors has produced one of the first Budweiser cans — one made in 1936 — and a Rainier Ale can of the same vintage plus an ABC Supreme bottle with a neck label which heads "Buy U.S. War Bonds".

Although successful in finding Western beer containers, he had to use other methods to augment his foreign section.

Eighty-six other bottles and cans were obtained more routinely, he said. He paid an adult friend $26 to buy the various brands. The friend, of course, drank the contents "with a little help," Barry said.

He used to go collecting about three times a week, but as the collection has grown his hiking efforts have slackened.

Though he goes on field trips less often, he said he is still on the lookout for new specimens. When his parents visited New York City recently, he asked them to bring him a Schaefer's beer can.

He said he also writes to breweries and looks in old magazines searching for new specimens.

With his collection now including a specimen of every brand of beer he knows of made in the state since 1930, Barry has turned his efforts to the San Rafael Beer Club.

Since collecting the waste products of bygone drinking bouts isn't yet as popular as football and home cooking, Barry's club has only one other member, 14-year-old Jeff Cooper, a fellow student at San Rafael High School.

What will he do with the cases and cases of beer cans and bottles in the future? He talked dreamily of a museum for his collection and continuing to collect when he is 80.

Drama Season Opener Is Set

A contemporary version of "Peace" by Aristophanes will open the fall drama season at Sonoma State College next Thursday.

The 6 p.m. performances will be held outdoors on the quad of Stevenson Hall on Oct. 29, 30, and 31.

Under the direction of William Sherman, theater arts chairman, 20 students will present the Aristophanes' satire on destruction and the futility of costly foreign wars.

The production will include music and a buffet feast for both the actors and audience. Tickets may be reserved by calling the Department of Performing Arts.

Which Town Will Offer To Help?

The Marin County Juvenile Delinquency Prevention Commission yesterday appointed a committee to seek a community willing to work towards a solution of juvenile crime.

Rev. James C. Upshaw, commission chairman, said today formation of the committee was at the suggestion of the Marin County Juvenile Justice Commission because "problems can't be solved by hiring larger (police and probation) staffs."

Upshaw said the commission will seek out just one community to start an experiment to make residents aware delinquency problems have to be solved within the community with community people and resources, not solely through police agencies.

"We sense the futility of trying to solve the problems of juveniles in a delinquent society by employing more staff," said Upshaw.

The commission is not going to try to solve the drug and vandalism problems of the entire county, he said, but rather "find one community which is seeking our help."

"We want a job that is possible to start with," he continued, "one we can cut our teeth on — a situation that can be handled."

In a letter to the commission, the juvenile justice board suggested the commission approach the communities of Marinwood, Sleepy Hollow or Santa Venetia.

Upshaw said the committee, which will be headed by Natalie G. Lewis, will consider those communities but others as well.

If the commission finds a community willing to donate time and resources to work with troubled youths, the commission would then act as a guide and information source.

Deputies Emerge Victorious In Drug Suspect Tussling

Two sheriff's officers trying to arrest a woman in connection with an alleged marijuana sale won out in a shoving and grabbing match yesterday with her attorney in the Hall of Justice.

Deputy Alfred Teixeira said that when he told Loretta A. Loveland, 25, of Fairfax — who was visiting the hall — that she was under arrest on the marijuana charge, attorney Marvin Cahn followed her out of a courtroom.

"I'll be her attorney," he said, and then told her to hand him her purse. A scuffle over the purse ensued, according to Teixeira, who said that he and another officer finally wrested the bag from the attorney. During the tussle he said Cahn, a portly man, jabbed at him.

She was booked on suspicion of sale of marijuana and possessing it for sale and posted $1,875 bail. She is to appear in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow.

Miss Loveland is charged in connection with an alleged sale which led to a raid on a Fairfax house Tuesday night where 10 adults and two juveniles were arrested.

Heroin Suspect Is Arrested

A 20-year-old San Rafael youth stopped because of an outstanding traffic warrant was arrested yesterday on suspicion of possessing heroin and having it for sale, according to San Rafael police.

After stopping David A. Fried of 225 Tiburon Boulevard on Verdi Street at 2:15 p.m. for a $46 San Francisco warrant, a police officer discovered nearby a plastic bag containing seven balloons of white substance.

Fried was booked into Marin County Jail in lieu of $6,250 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Strawberry Cove Still Needs Shoreline Permit

The Independent-Journal incorrectly reported yesterday that Strawberry Cove Apartments received the final go-ahead Tuesday from the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

The developer still must secure a permit from the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, which has jurisdiction over a band of shoreline to assure public access to the bay.

An unresolved question, according to BCDC sources, was whether the project may in fact also need a fill permit since there is some question as to whether it impinges on the bay itself.

Demos Irate, Hit Message About Taxes

Irate Democrats charged today that the tax message mailed to all Marin County taxpayers, along with the tax bill, contains language that is "highly partisan" in favor of Gov. Ronald Reagan.

However, County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, himself a Democrat, said he believes the words "governor's tax program" used in the message merely identify particular tax reform bills and does not boost the governor's candidacy. Under that interpretation, Maloney said he sees nothing illegal in the wording.

The controversial message is a statement prepared by auditor-controller Michael Mitchell for the Marin County board of supervisors. It says in part: "It is unfortunate that the governor's tax program did not pass, which would have somewhat alleviated the situation (high tax rate). Additionally, it must be stated that, as far as the county portion of the tax rate is concerned, the board of supervisors did not raise taxes, but rather, the Legislature did by shifting responsibilities to local authorities without funds to finance those responsibilities . . . "

Democrats contend that many tax reform measures were introduced in the Legislature, and singling out "the governor's tax program" is a highly partisan political maneuver.

Maloney said he would interpret the statement as merely identifying Assembly Bills 1000 and 1001 (the govenorr's tax program, pushed by Assemblyman William T. Bagley of San Rafael) and not as a move to push the candidacy of Reagan.

"It's like saying the Collier-Burns Act helps finance highways," said Maloney. "You'd merely be identifying the act, not plugging for Mr. Collier or Mr. Burns."

Maloney conceded that a less controversial wording would have been to say, "It is unfortunate that the legislature did not approve tax reform measure Z."

Simmons Will Lead City, Town Group

Corte Madera City Councilman Robert P. Simmons was elected last night as chairman of the Marin County Council of Mayors and Councilmen by a 6-5 vote.

Simmons defeated San Anselmo City Councilman James F. Reed and will serve as the council's chairman for the next 12 months. He succeeds Novato City Councilman J. Wayne Womack.

Last night's balloting was held in secret for the first time in the council's history. In the past, balloting has been done openly.

The secret ballot precedure was adopted on a motion by San Rafael Councilman Harry A. Bargier, seconded by Larkspur Councilman Neil Brixon.

Although the count of last night's election was announced, it was not revealed which city voted for whom.

In another election, San Rafael City Mgr. James McCown was elected to the Centralized Police Services Council by a 7-4 vote over Belvedere City Mgr. William Cavelli. This vote, too, was by secret ballot.

The council also nominated Dean N. Meyer of Mill Valley, A. W. Gatov of Kentfield and Denis T. Rice, Tiburon Mayor, to serve on the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission. Since only the three were nominated for three positions, no balloting was necessary.

Prior to last night's voting — held at Corte Madera's Rafters restaurant — San Rafael City Councilman John A. Miskimen sought to change the council's bylaws to a one-man, one-vote concept rather than giving each city one vote, but his proposal was rejected by the majority of members who said it would result in a "weighted" council.

Corte Madera City Councilman Holmes S. Norville summed up the general attitude when he said: "Such a move would result in a city being penalized when some of its members couldn't show up, say, because of business committments or bad weather."

The Marin County Council of Mayors and Councilmen also:

LEASH LAW — Held over a request from Mill Valley to endorse a leash law in the county's commercial areas.

PLANNERS — Deferred action until the Nov. 18 meeting any action of suggested legislation by the city planning staff coordinating committee regarding tighter regulations on lot splits by land developers.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned the meeting until Nov. 18 when the council will meet in Fairfax.

Bennett Backed In BOE Contest

WOODLAND (UPI) — Paul Leake, retiring member of the state Board of Equalization, announced today his endorsement of attorney William Bennett to succeed him.

Bennett, a former member of the state Public Utilities Commission, was opposed in the Nov. 3 election by Ernest Kettenhofen to replace Leake as the 3rd District representative.

Youth Luau At Marinwood Friday

Samoan knife dancers, Tahitian, Maori and Hawaiian dancers will perform at the Marinwood Community Center at 7:30 p.m. Friday, at a luau for youngsters from 5 years through teen-age.

The "Keiki Luau" will celebrate the community center's fifth anniversary.

The community center staged a similar luau for adults last weekend, and reported it was a full-house success.

Parents may make reservations for their youngsters by calling the community center. The luau is open to all Marin youth.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Oct. 22, the 295th day of 1970.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Saturn. The evening stars are Venus and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1836 Gen. Sam Houston was sworn in as president of the Republic of Texas.

In 1968 the Apollo VII astronauts splashed down after an 11-day earth orbital flight.

A thought for today: German poet Painer Maria Rilke said, "A good marriage is that in which each appoints the other guardian of his solitude."

Clarification On Memberships

A story on the Marin Symphony Guild's membership drive published in the Independent Journal Oct. 7. erred in saying that memberships cover admission to the three concerts of the Marin Symphony Orchestra.

Mrs. Robert L. Schultz, guild president, explained yesterday that memberships in each of six classifications cover first call on season tickets and next year's reserved seats for both the Marin Symphony party and concert previews and admission for the entire family to dress rehearsals of the orchestra.

Complete information may be obtained by telephoning the guild office in the Ross Valley Savings and Loan building San Anselmo.

West Makes A Social Error Of Laughing Before End Of Play

How loud should you laugh when you have five trumps and a sure side trick against an opponent's slam? The latest book of etiquette advises you to limit your crowing to a sympathetic smile if you're playing against a very muscular gent or against a very able declarer. When today's hand was played, West made the social error of laughing out loud, but South laughed last.

LOW TRUMP

South won the first trick with the ace of diamonds and led a low trump to dummy's jack. East discarded a club, and West permitted himself a broad grin. This was going to be good!

South led dummy's jack of hearts for a finesse, and West chuckled happily as he won with the king. Then West led another diamond, forcing South to ruff. Now West practically danced a jig on his chair: he had more trumps than South!

A KEY PLAY

Undaunted, South led a dummy's queen, a key play. Then he returned dummy's low heart and continued to lead high hearts, discarding dummy's clubs when West failed to ruff.

COULDN'T RUFF

West couldn't afford to ruff because dummy would overruff and return a trump. South would then draw trumps and claim the rest of the tricks. When West discarded on the fourth and fifth hearts, South was able to discard three clubs from the dummy.

Now South could lead his last club and ruff in the dummy, winning the rest of the tricks with high trumps in his own hand.

MODEST SMILE

South had the pleasure of smiling modestly as he pointed out that he would have gone down if he had failed to cash one top club before leading the hearts. West would discard his club at the first opportunity, and then declarer would be unable to win the club trick that he needed for his slam.

ANSWER: Bid two spades.

Despite the fine trump support and the singleton, the hand is not quite worth a jump to four spades.

Hearing Set In Marijuana Case

A preliminary hearing has been set for Tuesday in Marin Municipal Court for Robert Gerald Benson, 18, of Novato, accused of possessing marijuana when arrested Aug. 1 in a Novato apartment.

The case of a co-defendant, Glen Arthur Nichols, 19, of San Rafael, has been transferred to Juvenile court.

No charges were filed against the residents of the apartment, Francis Stephen Meagher, and his wife, Anne Christine, both 19, who were arrested with Benson and Nichols.

1970 BUICK SKYLARKS
Air Conditioned
$3495

Brand new '70 Skylark coupes with comparable equipment such as air conditioning, power steering, V-8 engine, radio, heater, tinted glass, deluxe wheel covers, white wall tires and vinyl interiors that sold new for over $4300.

These three cars — each with slightly over 5,000 miles — are absolutely spotless inside and out. If they didn't have our license plates on these cars — you couldn't tell them from new.

The purchaser of any of these '70 Buicks picks up 4-years and 44,000 miles of the GM new car warranty. Two of these cars are gold and one is chocolate brown and all have contrasting light beige vinyl interiors. 0Z107183, 0Z107173, 0Z107182.

'Y' At Top Best Check For Aquarius

By SHERMAN WALKER

The constellation Aquarius is spread over a large section of the sky without any formation to help identify it. The most characteristic part is the small Y at the top which represents the water jar he is supposed to be carrying.

In many cultures this section of the sky was thought to be a lake. No reason has been found but a few theories have been suggested. In some countries the sun passes through this constellation during the rainy season.

To locate the water carrier in the sky, face southward at 9 p.m. and look at the region of the sky that is less than one-half of the distance up from the southern horizon to overhead.

In Egypt there were legends that the floods of the Nile were caused because the water carrier dipped his water jar into the fountain that fed the Nile and caused it to overflow.

Practically all of the fish or animals of the sky that are associated with water are in this area. Hydra, the Sea Serpent, Cetus, the Sea Monster, Delphinus, the Dolphin, Pisces, the Fishes and so on. This agrees with the idea of Aquarius being a lake.

On the western side of this figure there is a misshapen dipper which supports the water idea. At the junction of the bowl and handle is a famous star called Sadal Suud (Beta Aquarii). Its name means the Luckiest of the lucky.

Travelers Say Tanks On Syrian Frontier

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Travelers arriving in Beirut today from Damascus said an armored buildup is taking place near Syria's southern frontier with Jordan, buti t was not known if the tanks were from the Syrian army or manned by Palestinian guerrilla units.

One European who drove from the southern border town of Derra to the Syrian capital late Wednesday said he met 21 tanks loaded on transporters heading south. He said the tanks, in groups of six, were still leaving Damascus as he entered the outskirts of the capital.

There was no indication the tanks planned any attempt to cross the border, and some military sources in Beirut said it was possible they were making a show of force on the Syrian side of the frontier following clashes in north Jordan between guerrillas and King Hussein's troops.

Brig. Abdel Hamid Hilmy, Egyptian chief of the Arab Truce Commission, and a spokesman for the Palestinian Central Committee, denied that any Syrian troops or guerrillas had crossed from Syria into Jordan. The spokesman also denied any Syrians had crossed into Jordan during the civil war.

Syrian tank units entered Jordan during the recent civil war, almost provoking U.S. and Israeli armed intervention. The use of tanks to aid the guerrillas also provoked a serious government crisis in Syria between civilian and military wings of the ruling Baath political party.

Travelers reported strict security on the outskirts of Damascus and persistent report that the Syrian-backed Al-Saiqa guerrillas were being subjected to severe checks at roadblocks. The Saiqa guerrillas have close links with the Baath civilian wing which is reported losing ground in Syria's internal power struggle.

In other Mideast developments:

—Egypt's new government under President Anwar Sadat mapped plans for a program that would put the people first including improved public services and methods of solving the problems of ordinary people. Premier Mahmoud Fawzi was named to head the planning and economy committee.

—Israel said an Israeli army patrol opened fire on a group of curfew violators who ignored an order to halt in the Gaza Strip Wednesday night. A spokesman said one woman was killed and five persons with her were arrested for questioning.

—The Lebanese 99-man Parliament gave a vote of confidence today to the newly formed 12-man cabinet of Premier Saeb Salam.

LAW IN ACTION
From the State Bar Of California

Jail Sentence Without Trial

A person can be penalized without a trial if he is guilty of contempt of court: if he does something or fails to do something which tends to hold up, embarrass, or keep a court from discharging its duty. Lawmakers can limit how a judge may punish a person guilty of contempt.

As a rule no judge can impose punishment for public criticism of his actions. Such criticism is free speech, our courts hold, and rarely is it an "imminint peril" to the due administration of justice.

Judges and courts are "public figures or public institutions" which are properly subjected to comment. As one court held, the law presumes a judge can take it and has "the judicial stamina, backbone, and fortitude to withstand criticism."

The judge has summary power to keep order, and, if need be, to punish those who create disorder, but is always subject to review by a higher court. As a rule the judge warns offenders before he holds them in contempt.

Writing a nasty letter to a judge accusing him of corruption may be contempt. In one case a defendant yelled at the judge, "Cardinal Mindzenti received a fairer trial from the Russian Communists than I received from this court." The judge held him in contempt. In still another, the judge saw a bailiff making love with a woman juror. He ordered the bailiff to lock himself up or pay a big fine.

A tardy witness, juror, or lawyer is in contempt. At most, California courts can sentence a person to five days in jail and fine him $500. The penalty can be greater, when, for example, a defendant defies a court order. Thus the court may order a husband to get a job and support his children. If he willfully refuses, the judge may order him put in jail until he decides to obey.

Federal law allows punishment of 6 months in jail for contempt. There is a pending question whether such a person is entitled to a jury trial before he can be jailed for 6 months or longer. (Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.)

Drug agents said they sized $11,000 worth of pot, hashish and cocaine in the raid. Two juveniles at the house at 43 Manor View Drive were booked into juvenile hall.

Sides Rest In Brodnik Case

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — After 58 days of arguments, both the defense and prosecution rested their cases Thursday in the trial of six youths with Spanish surnames who are charged with murdering a policeman.

The six are accused of killing patrolman Joseph Brodnik on a San Francisco street while he and his partner, Paul McGoran, were conducting a stolen property investigation.

Before the jury was dismissed until next Monday's closing arguments, the defense by subpoena brought out that a prosecution witness, David Caravantes, had been granted a favor by the district attorney's office.

Police Seize 176 Pounds Of Hashish

ROME (UPI)—Police seized 176 pounds of hashish addressed to an African diplomat Wednesday night in what officers said was the breakup of an international drug smuggling operation extending from the Middle East to the United States.

Police said the top grade Lebanese hashish was in four suitcases addressed to Fulton Dunbar, 32, third secretary of the Liberian Embassy in Rome. Police said the hashish was only passing through Rome and ultimately destined for the United States.

Ladies' Hats For Winter Are Smart, Not Extravagant

DUESSELDORF, GERMANY — Smart, but not extravagant. Those are the key marks of headwear for the coming winter collection by French designers.

Choice selections were recently modeled for trade experts here and in Cologne in a sneak preview.

By and large, the collection consists of three lines — the Casatschok (named after one popular dance form), the Charleston (bringing a second into play) and the sporty, elegant Spanish look (which was left out of the dancing word play).

Gunmen Critically Wound Commander Of Chile's Army

SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI)—Gunmen shot and critically wounded Chilean army commander Gen. Rene Schneider today in an apparent assassination attempt just 48 hours before Congress was to confirm Marxist Salvador Allende as president.

The army chiefs of staff met immediately after the attempt on Schneider and it appeared likely that a military alert or a declaration of some form of military law would be applied until after the congressional vote.

Schneider was rushed to a military hospital for emergency surgery. An army high command communique said he was in serious condition. Lame duck President Eduardo Frei and Gen. Vicente Huerta commander of the Carabineros national police, rushed to the hospital.

Later, Allende went to the hospital for a first hand report on Schneider's condition. He condemned the attack and warned that if immediate steps are not taken, there will be more assassination attempts.

Political sources said they believed reports of a meeting between Allende and Schneider was the motive for the assault. Schneider formally denied the rumors but hardline military officers consider it a form of "moral cowardice" for an officer to appear to seek political favor with future presidents.

It was the first actual political assassination attempt —if that is what it proves to be —of the embittered electoral campaign and its aftermath. Police said they had no immediate clue as to the political orientation of the assailants.

Police said Schneider was shot in the neck but Christian Democrat Sen. Juan de Dios Carmona, a former defense minister, told newsmen at the hospital Schneider received three revolver bullets—in hte neck, the lower abdomen and in the arm—and that doctors were optimistic because no vital organs were hit.

U.S. Rebukes Communists For Threadbare Propaganda Slogans

PARIS (UPI)—U.S. Ambassador David K. E. Bruce told Communist negotiators today the United States was ready to discuss an eight-point Viet Cong peace proposal a s well as a plan set forth by President Nixon but that the Communists were resorting to threadbare propaganda.

Bruce's statement deploring the lack of "reasoned discussions" followed a Hanoi charge at today's negotiating session that the Nixon plan refused to negotiate a complete withdrawal of U.S. troops but instead was aimed at a prolonged American occupation of South Vietnam.

Bruce, for the second consecutive week, told newsmen after the session that "we of course do not take these hasty generalizations (by the Communists) as their final answer."

Instead of joining in a search for a negotiated settlement at the peace table, Bruce told the Communist negotiators, "Unfortunately, you have chosen instead to denounce the President's proposals in their entiretly, resorting to threadbare propaganda slogans rather than engaging in reasoned discussion."

Calling the Communist response "flatly negative," Bruce said, "Your continuing reiteration of your own one-sided demands and preconditions, constitute a disappointing and unreasonable attitude. They show clearly the contrast between our respective approaches to these talks and which of the two sides at this table truly desires an early and honorable end to the war."

However, Bruce made it clear the United State is ready to discuss the Communist proposals as well as its own if the other side shows a willingness to negotiate.

"We intend to pursue our proposals vigorously as the basis for serious negotiations," he said. "We are also prepared for serious discussion of the proposals you have made as well as your own proposals."

Hanoi negotiator Xuan Thuy said Hanoi still "entirely rejects" the Nixon plan.

He said Hanoi rejects the Nixon plan because not only has Nixon stood fast on a position already rejected by the Communists but "he has this time linked the question of the withdrawal of GIs to an over-all settlement of the Indochina problem."

"That is why the new element in the proposition of Mr. Nixon resides in the fact that he has added a new condition for the withdrawal of troops, all the while maintaining the criteria already put forward," Thuy said.

"Thus, this fact alone suffices to unmask Mr. Nixon's intention to leave behing an important portion of American troops for a prolonged occupation in South Vietnam."

Sonoma Lifts Ban On Open Burning

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors has lifted the summer's ban on open burning in the county.

Two Youths Plead Guilty In Burglary

Two 19-year-old youths charged with burglarizing a Tiburon residence April 1 as well as concealing stolen property from the home pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to the stolen property count.

Changing their pleas were Stephen John Pappas, of San Francisco and Arthur George Metzger of no known address. Metzger also pleaded guilty to the second degree burglary of a Panoramic Highway residence last December.

Judge Jospeh G. Wilson sentenced Pappas to six months in jail to run concurrently with a term he is serving in San Francisco.

He referred Metzger to the probation department for a pre-sentence report and set sentencing for him for Nov. 25.

The two youths and a third 19-year-old, Reade Collins Backer of Ross, were arrested when a deputy sheriff noticed their car being driven erratically on Tiburon Boulevard.

Backer earlier pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor count of receiving stolen property and was given a jail sentence.

All three told the deputy they were heroin addicts.

THE MIND DRUGS

Controversy Grows Over Injections Among Children

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

The controversy over school children being treated with mind drugs by duly qualified physicians stirs unease in many medical statesmen and scientists.

Each year additional thousands of patients, including no small number of children, are being medicated with mind drugs. It is a fertile field for misunderstanding, errors in medical judgement, and attacks on the profession.

Mind drugs sales are a sizeable and growing part of total medicinal drug sales. They have been developed, in the main, over the last 15 years. There are now 62 of them but many are derivitives of others or near duplications or combinations. In 1968, the last year for which reliable statistics are available, $416,798,000 worth were prescribed.

The first ones were to control symptoms of severe mental illesses in hospitalized patients, and they have been phenomenally successful. Spurred on by that, pharmacological scientists developed the tranquilizers, less potent drugs for now-and-then mentally distressed persons who are not ill in any definable sense beyond that of mild neurosis. They include almost everyone.

These are the antianxiety, antineurosis and antidepression drugs. Any qualified physician can avoid their side effects, including addiction, by regulating dosage and watching over his patient with an eye toward timely withdrawal of the drug.

As everyone knows, anxiety and depression come to all of us when personal circumstances bear down heavily. Extreme and continuous anxiety and depression call for the specialized attention of psychiatrists.

Less extreme and more transient anxiety and depression are treatable by any doctor, by psychological as well as by medicinal means. Perhaps a doctor isn't needed at all: How very helpful sometimes are the sympathetic clergyman, the warmhearted friend, the understanding spouse, the passage of time.

That fact is at the root of the growing unease among medical statesmen and scientists as more and more doctors prescribe more and more mind drugs. They wonder how many are careful to prescribe only when the patient's distress really requires the use of drugs.

They wonder how many doctors limit drug treatment and make sure the patient doesn't become addicted. There are many small signs that countless persons are addicted to certain tranquilizers.

And what about advertising? Are doctors being egged into injudicious prescribing by the lavish ads of mind drug makers that blanket medical publications?

The advertising is technically excellent in its persuasive powers. Example: Picture of a serenely composed telephone operator at work. Text: "Inner calm. Better outlook. She's back on the board again, relieved of the excessive anxiety that has been keeping her from concentrating, decreasing her efficiency. Now — calmer and less preoccupied with emotional symptoms — she is once again able to perform at her usual capable level."

Another example: Picture of a frenzied, cigar-chewing, coffee-gulping, doughnut-munching business executive barking into a telephone. Text. "Frantic emotions. Frenetic stomach. Two good reasons for prescribing Librax. In a stressful situation this gastritis patient's anxiety helps produce and exacerbate a seething, churning acidulous stomach."

All this advertising is entirely proper, and the advertised drugs have been proved both safe and efficacious when correctly prescribed and taken. There is also no question that the advertising is effective. Drug trade authorities estimate the annual sale of mind drugs are well above $500 million, up some $80 million since 1968 — and that the annual advertising costs are around $20 million.

Mounting drug abuse is a popular symposium subject. In New York 1,400 doctors turned out recently to hear and question five well-known authorities, Drs. Donald Louria, Sidney Cohen, John Kramer, Soloman H. Snyder and Niles Bejerot.

The experts urged practitioners to unfailingly write "nonrefillable" on all prescirptions for mind drugs, so patients can't kept on supply themselves after doctors have taken them off medication. They were also urged to be sure the anxiety or depression justifies prescribing and to follow patients alertly through the course of treatment.

It is well know that "minor tranquilizers" and other legitimate mind drugs, especially the amphetamines and the barbiturates, figure in illicit drug traffic and are freely available, without prescription, to anyone who knows his way around.

Careless prescribing is to blame for only a small part of that. Carless and-or unethical druggists and manufacturers are blamed for a much larger part. Recently Dr. Charles E. Edwards of the Food and Drug Administration charged that some manufacturers of amphetamines produce much more than legitimate medical practice requires and thus encourage their illicit use.

On the other hand, leaders in the prescription drug industry, notably Smith Fline & French Laboratories and Pfizer, have expensive and aggressive programs to curb drug abuse.

The Food and Drug Administration is helping through its power to regulate the advertising and prescribing of medicinal drugs deemed unsafe or not efficacious. By recent order the prescribing of amphetamines was limited to three disorders. One is "behavioral disorders in children" which was the reason for prescribing them in Omaha. They can no longer be promoted as antidepressants.

FDA is also reducing the promotional claims for meprobamate, (trade-names: "Miltown" and "Equanil,") the "minor tranquilizer" best known to the public, and it is expected to soon limit indications for some of the others.

One claim for meprobamate which is now forbidden, and for several others is that they make the abstaining alcoholic less anxious and thus help him to stay on the wagon. In his expert review, Dr. Hollister said: "The early enthusiasm for antianxiety agents as interval treatments for alcoholics has been tempered by the fact that it is relatively easy to convert an addict from one drug to another."

Quentin Storekeeper Injured In Accident

Alquist To Speak At College Of Marin

Sen. Alfred E. Alquist of San Jose, Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, will speak at 10 a.m. Monday in the theater of the Fine Arts Building at the College of Marin.

His appearance will be sponsored by the Marin Peace Coalition.

Biologist Protests State Nod To Abalone-Hunting SCUBAers

A College of Marin biology instructor has charged that state Fish and Game Department recommendations to open the north coast to SCUBA divers seeking abalone will mark the "beginning of the end" of the shellfish in California.

In a letter this week to the fish and game commission, Dr. Gordon L. Chan said the department's recommendation was caused by "Small pressure groups of divers" who want to take the shellfish in shallow waters.

The marine biologist urged the commission to reject the department's recommendation during its meetings from Oct. 30 to Dec. 4.

"We have very little time to stop this," Chan told the Independent-Journal. He said the only way might be a massive letter campaign to the commission before it begins hearings on the question.

In his letter to the commission, Chan said fish and game regulations should be more restrictive, rather than liberalized, on the harvesting of abalone.

Besides recommending the commission not open the North Coast to the hunting of abalones with SCUBA gear, Chan registered disapproval of another recommendation which would open the abalone season all year. (The season is now closed, January through March.)

"I cannot conceive why the commission would even consider, or for that matter, vote for such recommendations that would deplete in a few short years a valuable natural resource of the north coast," Chan wrote.

Chan said his marine studies show abalones are in greatest abundance along the north coast (Fort Bragg to Eureka) at depths between 10 and 20 feet.

He said scuba diving at such shallow depths would quickly deplete abalone colonies. "Let them (SCUBA divers) free-dive for their food," Chan said.

Chan also predicted that once the north waters are opened to SCUBA divers, it won't be long before commercial diving is permitted. "Instead of supporting a maximum sustained yield of this organism, more permissive legislation will doom this natural resource into extinction," he wrote.

Such is the case in Southern California, where the effect of commercial divers, SCUBA sport divers and natural predators has reduced abalones to a point where they are "in the realm of being classified as uncommon," Chan asserted.

Guilty Plea Entered On Weed Possession

Mitchell Andrew Howie, 20, of Tamalpais Valley, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of possessing marijuana at his home Sept. 30. A preliminary hearing was set for Nov. 24.

Howie was arrested after a deputy went to his house because of neighbors' complaints about loud music. After the officer smelled what appeared to be burning pot, he returned with a search warrant and found a box of suspected marijuana.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Sometimes A Foreign Body Will Develop Within The Abdomen

Van Dellen

Now and then a foreign body develops within the abdomen. Several years ago a 33-year-old woman from Atlanta developed pain in the lower abdomen that was attributed to an ovarian cyst. Nothing was done because the pain subsided. And prior to the episode, she had three children via normal deliveries.

Two years later, the pain returned, and X-rays showed a stony mass in the left pelvic area. Repeated X-rays showed that it moved slightly. Surgery was advised and when the abdomen was opened, there was no left tube or ovary. On searching further, a "stony" ovarian tumor was found high in the abdomen. It had broken away from its mooring in the pelvis and was floating in the abdominal cavity. Fortunately, the lady made an uneventful recovery.

A GROUP of Palo Alto, Cal., dermatologists treated three individuals who developed a rare skin infection from tropical fish acquariums. The victims told of developing a cut or abrasion shortly before the onset of the eruption. Two of them cut their fingers while cleaning the acquarium. Apparently, the fish were infected with M. marinum.

The eruption consists mainly of numerous ulcerating nodules on the hands and arms which had been submerged into the tank after the person was cut. An unusual feature of the report was the rarity of the disease, considering how popular home fish tanks are.

PEOPLE WHO fear flying may be interested to know that a new organization has been formed to offer them help. According to Family Health, Fly Without Fear, which was founded in New York City, is expanding to other cities. Most of the victims also are fearful of heights, elevators, bridges, tunnels, and narrow places; they pay a heavy price for their phobia when travel is a big part of their jobs. Members find that their anxieties are not unusual and more common than believed. For a fee, the member attends several sessions that culminate in a group flight on a commercial air liner.

VITAL ORGAN CONGESTION

O.N. writes: What is visceral congestion?

REPLY

Viscera are the large organs within the abdomen. Congestion or too much blood may stem from inflammation, blockage of the return flow of blood to the heart, or from remaining on the feet too long (postural). Pelvic congestion occurs in women prior to menstruation due to glandular influences.

BORIC ACID

F.H. writes: I use boric acid quite often and was told by someone who should know that boric acid is harmful to the kidneys. Please advise.

REPLY

Boric acid no longer is used because it is not an effective antiseptic. Furthermore, many children have died when they drank it by mistake.

HEPATITIS AND PREGNANCY

C.E. writes: Is pregnancy dangerous to a woman who has recovered from hepatitis?

REPLY

No. We assume she did not have hepatitis in the first three onths of pregnancy.

WOMAN LOOKS OLDER

Mrs. J. P. writes: Why does a woman in hre 30s and 40s always seem to look older than a man the same age?

REPLY

Agnew Tags Another Demo As One Of Those 'Radicals'

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (UPI) —Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, starting another cross-country campaign tour, said today "a little band of unwilling men who dominate the opposition Congress" has been fighting the Nixon Administration every step of the way.

"In the last six weeks I have been moving quietly about the country, suggesting softly to American voters," Agnew said, "that the time has come to rid Congress of the radical liberalism that is deliberately and consciously frustrating the mandate the American people gave President Nixon in the fall of 1968."

Agnew applied the "radical liberal" designation to Rep. John C. Culver, the only Democrat in the Iowa delegation in the House of Representatives. He endorsed the candidacy od Republican Cole McMartin, a broadcast newsman, and said "any television newscaster who gets my endorsement has got to be quite a guy."

Agnew said Culver "does not speak for Iowa." He compared Culver with other political figures "who do not speak for their people at home because they are too busy reflecting the political views of their soulmates in Georgetown and Manhattan."

"Respect for America, respect for law, respect for the dollars you earn—that's what this administration has been fighting for," Agnew said in prepared remarks.

Agnew was to speak in Tucson, Ariz., later in the day, and in Hartford, Conn., Friday, and return to Washington Saturday.

Violence In Middle Class Pointed Up

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Two University of California sociologists report a survey has convinced them middle class Americans are just as violent as poorer ones.

"The middle class is not only as likely as others . . . to have engaged in physical aggression, but to have done so as often," Rodney Stack and James McEvoy said in a report made public today.

"If anything, the middle class is more prone toward physical assault (punching, beating, slapping) than the poor'" they added.

Police statistics indicate more violent family arguments and other hostility among the poor, but the sociologists doubted that, too.

"We suggest that altercations among the poor are simply more likely to become police matters, that the middle class persons have recourse to friends and professional counselors," they noted.

They also said that "the privacy of the middle class lifestyle preserves an illusion of greater domestic tranquility."

The survey for the National Commission on the Causes and prevention of Crime also showed that a fifth of all Americans approve of wife slapping "on appropriate occasions."

—58 per cent agree that "human nature being what it is, there must always be war and conflict."

Asked how they would react if the "government has just arrested and imprisoned many of the Negroes in your community even though there had been no trouble," only 18 per cent said they would protest non-violently and 9 per cent said they would react violently.

Stack, who works on the Berkeley campus, and McEvoy, who is at Davis, said they had questioned 1,176 persons late in 1968. Theirs was a "representative national sample of adult Americans," they said.

Sevareid Replies To Opinion Critic Agnew

NEW YORK (UPI)—CBS newscaster Eric Sevareid, in a reply to Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's commentator examination proposal, said Wednesday if people didn't know where he stood after 30 years in the business, he could not see how examinating "government types would solve the supposed riddle."

Agnew, mentioning Sevareid and Howard K. Smith and Frank Reynolds of ABC, proposed Tuesday in Chicago government officials examine news commentators to determine their "opinions and prejudices."

Sevareid, on the CBS Evening News with Walter Cronkite, said Agnew's "phrase, 'people of that type' hurts a bit; we certainly don't think of Mr. Agnew as a type; we think he's an original."

"What really hurts," Sevareid said, "is the thought that maybe nobody's been listening all this time.

"If after some 30 years of thousands of broadcasts, hundreds of articles and lectures and a few books, one's general cast of mind, works and all, remains a mystery, then we're licked and we fail to see how a few more minutes of examination by government types would solve the supposed riddle."

"Mr. Agnew wants to know where we stand. We stand—or rather sit—right here, in the full glare," Sevareid said

"We can't use invective and epithets, can't even dream of impugning the patriotism of leading citizens, can't reduce every complicated issue to yes or no, black or white and would rather go to jail than do bodily injury to the marvelous English language," the newscaster said.

"Another reason may be that we have to think our own thoughts and write our own phrases," Sevareid said. "Unlike the vice president, we don't possess a stable of ghost writers . . ."

Romney's Word To Auto Industry

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Foreign manufacturers threaten to dominate the American auto market as they now dominate the electronics industry, according to Housing and Urban Development Secretary George Romney.

"If the auto industry continues to cost themselves out of the market, they're going to find themselves in the same position as the electronics industry in this country," Romney said here Wednesday.

"Japan now controls that industry," said the former president of American Motors.

Romney, a former governor of Michigan, noted that Ford Motor Co.'s iPnto uses imports for its engine, transmission and some other components.

Intelligence Of Negroes, Genes Linked

HOUSTON (UPI) — Nobel Prize winner Dr. William Shockley said Wednesday Negroes in the North are more intelligent than those in the South and attributed it to the ratio of Caucasian genes.

Shockley said the intelligence kuotient (IQ) of Negroes may increase with the ratio of Caucasian genes to Negro genes at about a rate of one IQ point for every 1 per cent of Caucasian genes.

In a paper delivered to the National Academy of Sciences, Shockley called for more study into the possibility this thesis may be correct.

The National Academy has refused to sanction Shockley's theories or support his pleas for additional research.

Shockley said the gene which may increase the IQ of Negroes is a blood type which was missing from the original slave population but found in 43 per cent of all Caucasions.

Inherent in Shockley's presentation is the idea genetics, rather than environment, is the main factor for determining intelligence.

Shockley quoted an article by Professor T.E. Reed which said the average Negro in Oakland, Calif., has 22 per cent Caucasian genes while a survey of blacks in two Georgia counties showed they averaged 11 per cent Caucasian genes.

Shockley, who won the Nobel Prize as co-inventor of the transistor, said a study of pre-induction mental tests for persons entering the armed services backs up his contention Negroes with fewer Caucasian genes have lower IQs.

Shockley has contended for four years Negroes have inferior intelligence because of their genes and each generation of negroes is less intelligent. He claims the average IQ of Ngeroes dropped five points as compared to whites between 1918 and 1966.

Tiny Tim Plans To Return To England

LONDON (UPI)—Tiny Tim, who interrupted his British tour and went home after being heckled, will return to Britain Sunday to resume his appearances, his agent said Wednesday.

The entertainer was upset when a member of the audience jumped on the stage during a performance at the Batley Variety Club last week and objected to his renderings of "There'll always be an England" and "Land of Hope and Glory."

McCormack, Meany Hit Economic Policy, Cite Living Cost Hike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Nixon administration insists its economic policies are succeeding despite a steep rise in the cost of living and the highest level of unemployment in almost seven years.

"I do not in any sense feel discouraged," said Paul W. McCracken, chairman of President Nixon's council of economic advisers, following Wednesday's announcement that the increase in the cost of living last month was more than double the advance for August.

House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., called on Nixon to impose the wage, price and credit controls which Congress authorized earlier this year.

"Despite all the campaign rhetoric of administration spokesmen, the truth about soaring inflation is reflected in today's government statistics," McCormack said.

AFL-CIO President George Meany called for election of a Congress "which will adopt policies and programs — despite administration opposition which will achieve full employment, fair prices, realistic interest rates and make the economy healthy again."

When the August consumer price index showed a living cost increase of only 0.2 per cent, the smallest advance in 20 months, Herbert Stein, a member of the Council of Economic Advisers, told newsmen the administration's economic policies had defeated inflation.

Following the announcement that the index increased by 0.5 per cent in September — a rate about as high as the inflated days last winter — McCracken insisted that monthly fluctuations should not be overemphasized.

"I have cautioned on a great many occasions that we have to be very careful about monthly wobbles in the data," he said. "If next month the figure turns out to be an extremely good figure, that same caution will be pertinent then."

McCracken said that when the figures are taken three months at a time, the pace of inflation has dropped from a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 6.3 per cent in the first quarter to 5.8 per cent in the second quarter and 4.2 per cent in the third quarter. He predicted inflation in the fourth quarter, which began Oct. 1, would be slightly less than the third quarter mark.

If prices rose for a full year at the September pace, the annual increase would be more than 6 per cent.

In his White House news conference, McCracken declined to discusss unemployment which an earlier government report placed at 5.5 per cent of the work force last month.

Asked by newsmen if the administration's economic policies were working McCracken replied: "There is no question but what the evidence is clearly in the affirmative."

When a newsman asked what an indication of failure, the former University of Michigan economist answered, "Well I just can't conceive of anything that would suggest that."

McCracken said he was not satisfied with the present rate of inflation but he said, "We have made real progress and I am delighted to see the visible progress that we have seen through the year."

Judge Absolves Nudist Policeman Of Bare Charges

BALTIMORE (UPI)—A policeman has a constitutional right to be a nudist in his off-duty hours, a federal judge ruled here.

The ruling reversed a decision by tte Baltimore Police Department. The department declined to hire its top application because he belonged to a nudist camp.

U.S. District Judge Edward Northrop said the decision violated the constitutional rigat of free associatiion of John Jerome Burns, 30, of Glen Burnie, as the American Civil liberties union had argued in the case.

Northrop ordered Bruns placed on the force within seven days. In his 26-page opinion, Northrop said "bare allegations" that Bruns would have difficulty investigating indecent exposure and pornography cases were insufficient to disqualify him from the force.

Forest Would Seek Curbs On The Press

Joseph A. Forest of Novato, Democratic nominee for state Assembly, yesterday said that, if elected, he will push for legislation to prohibit newspapers from publishing the names of minors arrested for misdemeonors "and other nonserious crimes."

Forest, addressing a student audience at Redwood High School, said the practice by newspapers prejudiced the cases of such young persons, blemishing their public record before any juvenile court proceeding, according to a press release from Forest's campaign headquarters.

SPEAKER — Retired Army Maj. Gen. William F. Dean will speak at the annual Eagle recognition dinner of the Marin Council of Boy Scouts at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the officers' mess at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Mulford Files Libel Suit Against Stark

OAKLAND (UPI)—Don Mulford, Republican assemblyman seeking re-election, filed a $5 million libel suit Thursday against Fortney H. Stark Jr., the Security National Bank president.

Mulford contended a letter by Stark "defamed" him during the campaigning.

Mitchell Defense May Call Calley Testimony On My Lai

FT. HOOD, Tex. (UPI)—Lt. William Calley, the most prominent of the My Lai massacre defendants, may be among the witnesses called by the defense in the court martial of S.Sgt. David Mitchell.

The defense, caught by surprise when the prosecution rested its case Tuesday against Mitchell following testimony from only three witnesses, asked for and received a delay in presenting its arguments.

Defense Attorney Ossie Brown was scheduled to call his first witness after the court martial reconvened today. 1:30 p.m. EDT today.

UPI has learned Calley, facing trial at Ft. Benning, Ga., on charges stemming from the My Lai massacre, may be one of the witnesses called by Brown, who said he planned to open his defense by calling a former member of Mitchell's Vietnam unit. Calley was Mitchell's platoon leader when their unit allegedly swept through the My Lai village on March 16, 1968.

Mitchell, 30, is charged with assault with intent to murder 30 Vietnamese at My Lai. Calley faces charges of murder of 102 Vietnamese in the same incident.

Brown was expected to present at least one witness who will testify that Mitchell was not at a ditch where the government contends he committed the assault.

Three prosecution witnesses placed Mitchell at the ditch where about 30 Vietnamese were shot, but only one of the three—Charles Sledge of Sardis, Miss.—said he actually saw Mitchell shoot at the civilians.

Prosecution testimony had been expected to continue through most of this week. But prosecuting attorney Capt. Michael Swan abruptly rested his case after calling only the three witnesses who were on the stand a total of five hours.

Sledge said he watched as Mitchell and Calley shoved the old men, women and children into the ditch, then fired into the group with automatic weapons.

Novelist Goes To Jail Wearing Coat And Tie

SANTA ANA, Calif. (UPI)—Truman Capote, who has researched some of his books including "$n Cold Blood" in prison interviews, surrendered to the county jailer Wednesday to begin a three-day contempt of court sentence.

Capote, dressed in a suit and wearing a tie, did not say a word as he was taken to a cell separated from other inmates.

The novelist was found in contempt Monday by Superior Court Judge Byron K. McMillan for failure to appear as a witness at the penalty phase of a murder trial.

Two days of a five-day jail sentence were suspended on the condition Capote pay a $50 fine.

The author was subpoenaed to testify in the penalty trial of Joseph Morse, convicted of killing a fellow San Diego jail inmate. The case was switched from San Diego to here on a venue change.

Wet Napa Course For Kaiser

Nicklaus Predicting High Opening Scores

NAPA, Calif. (UPI) — Jack Nicklaus, playing "reasonably well" despite trouble making club selection, began defense of his title in the $150,000 Kaiser International Open Golf Tournament today figuring in advance he won't shoot a very good round.

Nicklaus, winner of the British Open, Piccadilly Match Play and the Byron Nelson Classic this year, shot a three under par 36-33—69 Wednesday in the pro-am prelude to the tournament. He said he couldn't remember ever playing in such heavy air.

HIGH SCORES

"The ball just wouldn't go," said the Golden Bear, "and I honestly think scores in the first round will be a little higher than they should be."

Nivklaus' prediction was based on the fact that the Silverado Country Club's two courses—the north and south—are wet from rain earlier in the week and from rain Wednesday night.

"It's not so much the wetness," said Nicklaus, who won the 1969 Kaiser title in a four-way playoff with Billy Casper, George Archer and Don January, "but the heavy air. I can't remember ever having played where the air was so heavy. Ordinary seven iron shots now are six iron shots and even then I was short a couple of times."

TOP STARS

Nicklaus faces the usual lineup of tour stars in the Kaiser, among them the three men he beat in last year's playoff plus PGA champ Dave Stockton.

Missing from the cast, though, are Arnold Palmer and Tony Jacklin. Jacklin, the U.S. Open champ, beat Palmer Sunday in the French Tournament of Champions and both decided to pass up the Kaiser.

Nicklaus, committed only to playing in next week's Sahara and the Heritage Open as of the moment, said he played about as well as he could in the Kaiser Pro-Am considering the weather.

"If the weather clears and the course dries out a little," he said, "then I think we will see the scores improve. But I honestly don't think anyone is going to burn it up in the opening round, including me."

TWO COURSES

The Kaiser will be played over Silverado's two courses today and tomorrow with the field teeing off from both the first and 10th tees. The field then will be cut tot he low 70 and ties for the final two rounds which will be played over the north.

The north course plays to 36-36—72 and is longer at 6,613 yards. The south is pegged at 35-37—72 and stretches 6,559 yards.

"Both are playing long now," said Nicklaus. "A man who can hit it out should do better than the one who can't."

That means the long-hitters stand a better chance. Besides Nicklaus the long hitters here are Martin Roesink of Holland, Rod Funseth and John Schlee. Roesink and Schlee shot five under 67s in the Pro-Am and Funseth had a four under 68.

DRAMATIC

Last year's windup was about as dramatic a finish as there was on the PGA tour. Nicklaus, Casper, Archer and January all wound up with 15 under par scores of 273. On the first extra

FOOTBALL STRATEGY TALK

Warriors In N.Y.

The game at Madison Square Garden will wind up a three-game, three-night, three-city trip for the Warriors, who are tied for third in the Pacific Division with a 2-2 mark.

In Atlanta Wednesday night, Lou Hudson hit a field goal and free throw in the final 30 seconds of play to give the Hawks a 102-100 victory over San Francisco.

Hudson's clutch points ended what had been a close battle. In the final 12 minutes, the Hawks never led by more than two points.

Walt Hazzard paced the Atlanta scorers with 29 points and Hudson pumped in another 24. For the Warriors, Jeff Mullins led with 19 points and Joe Ellis came off the bench to add 15.

Buddy Sullivan Takes Over As Head Pro At Marin Club

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Buddy Sullivan, a golfer who tried to scoop out some gold from the PGA pot six years on the tour, is now the resident professional at Marin Country Club in Novato.

Sullivan, 39, replaced Wally Murray, who went out of business after being with Marin Country Club for about a year.

A scratch golfer since age 15, Sullivan is currently top point winner out of 300 professionals in Northern California weekly tournaments and because of this gets an automatic spot in the Kaiser International tournament this week on the Silverado course in Napa.

Being in a Professional Golfers Association official event such as the Kaiser will be nothing new to Sullivan who was on the pro tour from 1956 to 1962. He came an eyelash away from winning top prize once, in the 1962 Tucson Open. He tied for first with Dave Hill and Tommy Bolt but lost to Hill in a playoff.

During that tournament he cracked the course record with a blazing round of 61, one of six course records he still holds. In addition to the Tucson Golf Club mark he has current records at Peach Tree Country Club in Marysville (62), Butte Cfeek Country Club in Chico (65), Baywood Country Club in Arcata (65) Presidio Club in San Francisco and Massalion C. C., Ohio, (64).

Now he's setting his sights on the Marin Country Club course record, and it's a good one — a 63, fired by Donald Thompson on Sept. 27, 1964.

In 1961 Buddy was low qualifier in the U.S. Open, firing a two-round score of 134 to make the elite field.

A native of Sacramento, Sullivan started out by caddying at Del Paso Country Club, a swank private club in that city. He also worked at a driving range, helping out professional Tom LoPresti. When LoPresti moved to Haggin Oaks municipal course in Sacramento, Sullivan went, too.

"I actually had thought about being a court reporter," Sullivan said, "but I changed my mind and went into golf. I turned pro at 19. I guess that's really what I wantedt o do all along."

He moved to Chicago in 1954 and was assistant pro under Bill Ogden for two years before going on the tour in 1956. His most recent job before coming to Marin was as head pro at Butte Creek Country Club in Chico. He's still commuting weekly and hopes to bring wife Merrylee and three children from Chico to Marin as soon as he finds a house. He's planning to live in Marin Country Club Estates.

Buddy's assistant pro is Chris Griffin who was with him at the Chico course. Sullivan is on the board of directors of the Northern California PGA for the term 1970-72.

A Costly Lesson For Bradshaw

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—A contrite Terry Bradshaw will not go home to Shreveport, La., again until his first pro football season is over.

"I learned my lesson," Bradshaw said after he was fined for missing practice Tuesday with the Pittsburgh Steelers. He said he was unable to get back in time for the practice after a visit to Shreveport.

STAYING

"I won't be going home again until after the season. I wouldn't leave again if he (Coach Chuck Noll) told me I could. We've won two in a row now and I don't want to do anything to spoil that."

The Steelers said Bradshaw's fine was "substantial." Bradshaw also said it was "substantial to me."

It was the second time in a week the team fined the No. 1 pro football draft choice. He was hit for $25 last weekend in Houston when he was five minutes late for a meal.

Bradshaw's failure to make practice followed an announcement by Noll indicating he would use the Louisiana Tech star more regularly at quarterback, abandoning his original game plan which switched Bradshaw and No. 2 quarterback Terry Hanratty.

PERMISSION

The Steelers had given Bradshaw and other players permission to leave the club following Sunday games, as long as they were back in Pittsburgh for Tuesday practice. Monday is a regular day off.

Bradshaw said the Shreveport airport was fogged in and he could not return on the flight he normally takes. He said a later flight was delayed and then terminated in St. Louis. He did not get to Pittsburgh until late Tuesday night.

"Terry called me Monday night and told me he was unable to get a plane out of Shreveport," Noll said. "He said something about being fogged in or something. That's no excuse for missing a practice."

The absence of the quarterback cost Bradshaw a chance to get a day's jump on practices in preparation for this week's opponent, Oakland, which played a Monday night game and took off Tuesday.

Japan's Ohba Is Flyweight Boxing King

Referee Enrique Jimenez, Jr., of Manila stopped the fight at two minutes, 16 seconds of the 13th round when the champion was floored for the second time and appeared incapable of defending himself.

Ohba, the WBA No. 1 flyweight contender, became the fourth Japanese to win the world flyweight title. The others were Yoshio Shirai, Fighting Harada and Hiroyuki Ebihara.

Ohba joined three other Japanese world champions at the present time. They are Hiroshi Kobayashi, the WBA junior lightweight champion, Yoshiaki Numata, World Boxing Council (WBC) junior lightweight title holder, and Shozo Saijo, the WBA featherweight champion.

Berkrerk failed in the first defense of the title which he won from Bernabe Villacampo on April 6 in Bangkok.

Seals Get A Little Closer

OAKLAND (UPI) — If it's any consolation, the California Golden Seals are coming closer to notching their first National Hockey League win of the season.

After dropping their first five games, the Seals picked up a point Wednesday night with a 2-2 tie against the St. Louis Blues, who moved into first place in the Western Division.

Hextall got his fourth score of the year at 4:25 of the middle period when he shoved in a rebound off Blues goaltender Glenn Hall's pads.

In the third period, Sabourin rammed in a goal at the 12:37 mark and Marshall tied it at 13.39.

Two Pacesetters Again Favored

Terra Linda and San Rafael, the only undefeated high school football teams left in the Marin County Athletic League, are both heavily favored to continue that way this weekend as the 1970 season reaches the halfway point.

The Trojans, who lead the league with three wins and no losses, meet the upstart San Marin Mustangs Saturday afternoon at 1 p.m. in the second game of a doubleheader at Novato High School. The resident Novato Hornets host Salesian of Richmond in the first game, a non-leaguer at 11 a.m.

Also on Saturday afternoon, San Rafael with two wins and no losses, travels to Larkspur for a 2 p.m. game with the winless Redwood Giants.

The MCAL's other teams, Drake and Tamalpais, clash tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at San Rafael High School. Both teams are 1-2 in league play.

In games outside the MCAL involving Marin and Sonoma counties, San Rafael Military Academy plays at Emeryville tomorrow at 3 p.m., while at 8 p.m. Rancho Cotate (Rohnert Park) plays Cardinal Newman in Santa Rosa and Petaluma entertains Hogan of Vallejo.

Saturday afternoon, Sonoma State College is at Oregon Tech, and Saturday at 1 o'clock Marin Catholic High plays St. Patrick's at Corbus Field in Vallejo, and the College of Marin meets Solano, also in Vallejo, 8 p.m.

49ers Can Do Oakland A Favor This Sunday

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco 49ers can do themselves and the cross-bay Oakland Raiders a big favor this Sunday by beating Denver here.

The 49ers would move up to 4-1-1 with a win over the Broncos. Western division leader Los Angeles will take a 4-1 mark into mighty Minnesota Monday night.

A Denver loss would leave them at 4-2 atop the Raiders' division and if the Raiders could then beat Pittsburgh, they would move into the thick of things at 3-2-1.

The 49ers say linebacker Dave Wilcox and offensive guard Randy Beisler will be back in action Sunday, but defensive end Stan Hindman will miss one more game.

Giants Buy Infielder From Farm; Cards Get Schofield

SAN FRANCISCO — The San Francisco Giants Wednesday bought infielder Chris Arnold, 23, from their Phoenix farm club. Arnold played 73 games at Amarillo last season after his discharge from the Navy, hitting .273 with 20 extra base hits among his 66 safeties. The Giants' action protects him in the upcoming major league draft.

CASSIUS CLAY
He's confident

Clay, Quarry Trade Verbal Accusations

ATLANTA (UPI) — Cassius Clay can always be counted on to add a little life when there is a lull in the pre-fight excitement.

None of the trouble predicted for the last 3 1-2 years during Clay's suspension from boxing has materialized for his comeback bout with Jerry Quarry on Monday night. The Atlanta Police Department has not even made any special plans for the bout, and local posts of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars indicated they don't have any plans to demonstrate.

It has not been the kind of reception that was predicted for Clay since he was suspended for refusing to go into the Army in 1967. However, Clay, who was vocally subdued for most of his training, suddenly brought things to life when he was examined along with Quarry by Drs. Calvin Brown and James Ellison at the pre-fight physical.

"Do you really believe you have a chance against me?" Clay needled.

"Listen," Quarry snapped back, "nobody won a fight because he has a big mouth. I don't like much you've been saying."

"I've beat every man I ever fought," Clay deadpanned. "Men like Patterson, Liston, Chuvalo. I was the champion before anybody ever heard of Jerry Quarry."

SUCCESSFUL OPERATION

Season Over For Sayers

CHICAGO (UPI)—Star running back Gale Sayers of the Chicago Bears should be physically ready for the 1971 season after his second knee operation in three years, Dr. Theodore Fox said Thursday.

Sayers has "no chance" to return to the Bears this season, Fox said after operating on Sayers' left knee to treat damaged posterior ligaments. He also operated on Bears running back Craig Baynham for a "dislocated" tendon in his ankle.

Fox said both operations were "completely successful" and that nothing unexpected was found in the injuries of either player. Sayers, he said, would be in a cast for six weeks and would have to do certain exercises during that time and later.

He said Baynham will be in a cast for four weeks and "a week or two later" should be ready to play again. Thus, Baynham might be able to rejoin the Bears for the last few games of the season.

Fox said the operation performed on Sayers Wednesday was not as serious as the operation performed in 1968, when Sayers' recovery was so complete that he won the National Football League rushing title in 1969 with gains of more than 1,000 yards.

"It's the same operation that was performed on George Seals two years ago," Fox said, "and the same operation on Pat Stapleton of the Chicago Black Hawks." Seals has been a starter for the Bears this year and Stapleton has rejoined the Black Hawks.

MILD HEART ATTACK

Ole Miss' Vaught Resting

OXFORD, Miss. (UPI)—Head Coach John H. Vaught of the University of Mississippi was listed in "excellent condition" late Wednesday after suffering a mild heart attack at his home.

An attending physician said the veteran 62-year-old coach was "doing beautifully, free of discomfort and all symptoms which required hospitalization have disappeared."

However, he was expected to remain hospitalized for further tests at least over the coming weekend.

This means Vaught will not be on hand when the Rebels meet Vanderbilt Saturday night —his 250th game since taking over as head coach at Ole Miss in 1947 and the first one he has missed.

A university spokesman said Vaught suffered the attack at his home late Tuesday night, complaining of pains in his chest and left arm. The spokesman said Vaught at first believed he was catching the flu.

The attack came only three days after Vaught's highly-regarded Rebels, led by quarterback Archie Manning, were upset 30-14 by Southern Mississippi. It was their first loss of the season and snapped a nine-game win streak dating back to 1969.

Ole Miss Athletic Director C. M. "Tad" Smith also was hospitalized with a mild heart attack suffered shortly before the Southern game. Smith's condition also was reported good.

Offensive line coach Frank "Bruiser" Kinard was named to serve as acting head coach Saturday night when Ole Miss goes against Vanderbilt in Nashville.

Vaught, a native of Texas, has no record of heart trouble and university officials said the attack was not believed serious.

Two Pro-Ams At Silverado

NAPA (UPI)—Martin Roesink, the long-hitting pro from Holland, won $500 Wednesday for taking one of two Pro-Am preludes to the $150,000 Kaiser International Open Golf Tournament.

Roesink shot a five under par 67 over the Silverado Country Club's South Course and in the best-ball team competition he had a 14 under 58. A team headed by Ken Still won the best-ball and Still earned $400 for the effort.

Chuck Courtney and John Schlee shot five under 67s over the North Course to tie for the lead and each won $462.50. Charlie Sifford's team took the North best-ball with a 17 under 55 and it earned him $400.

Blind Golfer Scores First Hole-In-One

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UP)—Charley Boswell, 16-time winner of the National Blind Golf Tournament, got his first hole-in-one Wednesday.

Boswell, who took up golf shortly after being blinded in World War II, aced the 141-yard 14th hole at the Vestavia Country Club course. He used a six iron.

Dixon Takes Over Lead In Rushing

hole—the 15th—Nicklaus, Casper and Archer remained tied with birds while January fell out of the running.

Darkness set in at that point and play was halted.

The following morning Nicklaus, Casper and Archer went to the 16th hole to continue the playoff and Nicklaus wound things up by running home a 14 foot birdy putt. Archer missed a long putt in a try for a matching bird and Casper wound up in sand trouble.

CRAMPTON

Next year, the exemption scoring system will be changed, according to PGA Commissioner Joseph Dey. The new system, according to Dey, will be based on the money breakdown for each tourney with a player receiving points in direct relationship to money won.

Laker Free Throws Beat 76ers; Pistons Win Again

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

It's not easy to score one more field goal than your opponent and still lose a game by 24 points but that's exactly what the Philadelphia 76ers did Wednesday night.

The 76ers sank 51 baskets compared to 50 for the Lakers but Philadelphia came out on the short end of a 141-117 decision and dropped its first game of the season after posting four wins.

The refs called the 76ers for 34 personal fouls while the Lakers committed only 16 infractions and since the game was played at Philly's Spectrum, the question is, What ever became of the so-called home court advantage in pro basketball?

Jerry West, with 14 baskets and nine of 10 from the free throw line, paced the Lakers with 37 points and teammate Wilt Chamberlain chipped in with 26 in addition to hauling down 22 rebounds. Billy Cunningham's 22 points paced the 76ers.

Los Angeles held only a 55-52 lead at halftime but insured its second win in four games by outscoring Philadelphia 41-25 in the third period with West tallying 16 of his points in the decisive quarter.

Elsewhere in the National Basketball Association, Detroit downed Boston 121-118, Atlanta shaded San Francisco 102-100, Seattle topped Phoenix 110-106, and Baltimore beat Cincinnati 117-105.

Unbeaten Detroit notched its fifth victory thanks to Dave Bing's 35 points and 25 more by were trailing 110-103 with only 4:32 left to play but Walker led a late rally.

Bob Rule tallied four points in the last minute of play as Seattle fought off rallying Phoenix. Rule paced the Supersonics with 25 points and player-coach Len Wilkens had 22 while the Suns were led by rookie Greg Howard's 26 points and 25 by Connie Hawkins.

Baltimore took advantage of poor shooting by Cincinnati to hand the winless Royals their third loss, all at home. Cincinnati connected on only 44 of 111 shots from the field while the Bullets hit on the same number of goals with 15 fewer shots. Gus Johnson led Baltimore with 27 points and Jack Marin had 26 while Norm Van Lier was high for the Royals with 17.

NATIONAL HOCKEY LEAGUE

Montreal Fans Going Other Way

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Not only is the quality of hockey changing in Montreal, but the hometown fans are also swaying with the times.

The Canadiens failed to make the National Hockey League playoffs last season for the first time in 22 years and it was only natural that a general house cleaning follow. General Manager Sam Pollock swept a big broom during the summer as Montreal decided to build with youth.

Three of the discards, plus another young man who spurned the Canadiens organization, came back to haunt the Habs Wednesday night as the Minnesota North Stars won a 3-1 decision at Montreal. Ted Harris, was selected the defensive star of the game, Judes Drouin scored one goal and assisted on another and Bobby Rousseau had an assist.

The man who passed up a chance to play with Montreal was goaltender Gilles Gilbert, and he had a sensational night by stopping 46 Canadien shots in only his second NHL game.

The Montreal fans, once among the most partisan in hockey, have reacted to the changing tides by showing greater appreciation for the visiting teams. In the case of Minnesota, this isn't too hard since a good deal of the North Stars came from the Canadiens. On Wednesday night, the Forum crowd of 15,425 saved its biggest cheers for Harris and Gilbert giving both players a standing ovation at the end of the game.

Elsewhere in the NHL, the New York Rangers ran up their fourth consecutive victory by eding the Toronto Maple Leafs, 3-2, the St. Louis Blues salvaged a 2-2 tie against the California Golden Seals by scoring twice in the final period, and the Los Angeles Kings beat the Pittsburgh Penguins, 4-2.

"It feels good to win anytime, but playing against my old team I gave it that little extra effort," said Harris, who spent six years with Montreal. "I just love this Minnesota team. We have the real spirit here and I'm sure we're going to make the playoffs."

Rousseau, who spent 10 years with the Canadiens and received a tremendous ovation at the start of the game, said he "was very nervous when I stepped on the ice playing in front of my old fans, but since it was against my ex-teammates I had to try a little harder."

Goal Line Drills For Cal Bears

BERKELEY (UPI) — University of California football players concentrated on goal offense and defense in a 2 1/2-hour workout Wednesday in preparation for their home game with Washington State.

Coach Ray Willeey also put the squad through as much passing drills as possible as a hedge against today's possible rain forecast.

Phil Croyle, who was recently named Co-Player of the Week in the Pacific-8 Conference, returned to practice after missing two days with a bruised thigh.

But O. Z. White, the starting defensive guard, was out for a second day with food poisoning, and defensive tackle Sherman White missed contact because of a knee injury suffered in the UCLA game.

Giants' Unusual Pruning Operation

Maybe the Giants were just making elbow room on their 1971 baseball roster when they assigned the contracts of six marginal players to their Phoenix farm club Tuesday.

But it was an unusual pruning operation that reduced the big club's current roster to 33 players, seven under the permissible spring training maximum of 40 and eight above the active season maximum of 25.

FOR YEARS the Giants —and all other major league clubs, for that matter — have carried a maximum of 40 players into spring training. Of the 40, a dozen are just in camp for the experience.

Obviously the order to trim the roster came from Horace Stoneham. Nobody in the Giant organization gives such orders except the president.

What was the reason for trimming the roster now? There was no explanation from the Giants' publicity office which made the announcement. Indeed, the men in the publicity office were puzzled.

IT'S HIGHLY unlikely the seven open spots on the 1971 roster, as it now stands, will be filled by draft choices during the minor and major league meetings in Los Angeles Nov. 30-Dec. 5. The Giants, drafting as low as 16th, will be lucky to find one or two unprotected sleepers in other major league organizations.

And it's unlikely that the Giants have seven additional players in their own minor league farm system ready for a shot at a major league berth at this time.

SO IT DOESN'T make sense to attribute the pruning to maneuverable elbow room for potential draft additions from other major league organizations or callups from the Giants' own minor league clubs.

Perhaps Stoneham is going to send his 1971 Giants into spring training with less than a 40-man maximum roster. The cost of carrying a 40-man roster into spring camp has been getting a second look from all major league owners since they signed a new three-year contract with players last May.

ONE OF THE provisions of the new contract raised major league minimum pay from $10,000 to $12,000 in 1970, $12,750 in 1971 and $13,500 in 1972 with termination pay.

Under the old termination pay agreement, a player got no salary at all if cut during spring training and 30 days pay if cut during the season. Under the new agreement, a player got no salary at all if cut during spring training and 30 days pay if cut during the season. Under the new agreement, a player receives 30 days pay if cut during the training season and 60 days if cut during the regular season. In 1972, players cut on or after May 15 will get their entire contract pay.

Blue Flame Tries Again For Record

The latest delay in a series of setbacks was caused by a lack of fuel after Sunday's ear-popping run that unofficially made Gary Gabelich of Long Beach, Calif., the fastest man on wheels.

Today's run was not expected to get under way until afternoon. Midday temperatures are more conducive to a high-speed run in the liquefied natural gas-powered flame.

Although Gabelich went faster than any racer before him Sunday, malfunctions caused a slower second run and the Flame was not able to come up with a high enough average speed to break the record.

The world record is based on the average of two runs which must be made within an hour. The present mark, set in 1965 by Craig Breedlove, stands at 600.601 miles an hour.

Sunday, Gabelich had a combined average time of 601.700 m.p.h for the measured mile, but the rule books say the record must be bettered by one per cent.

That means the California speedster must run at least 606.607 m.p.h. for the record.

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG

Women should use as heavy a ball as they can comfortably handle. For most women, this would be a 14-pounder (the maximum weight is 16 pounds). Lighter balls simply do not have the heft to scatter the pins. The proper fit is found in this manner: Insert your thumb all the way into the hole; the inside edge of the finger holes should contact the middle of the center finger joints.

Marin Runners Get Stiff Test

College of Marin's fine cross-country team, with a 3-0 record in Camino Norte Conference action, gets its first real test of the season Saturday in the Fresno Invitational.

Marin coach Tony Bailey feels that such opponents as the University of California junior varsity and powerful American River College of Sacramento, both of whom will compete at Fresno, will provide a good indication of the Tars' real strength.

Bailey notes that all the Tars have shown improvement from week to week. The last time out on their home course, Steve Silvey bettered his best time there by more than a minute, Bob Bode by two minutes and Mark Miller by three.

Against Solano last week in a meet at Vacaville, Marin's time — spread among the first five runners on the team was one of the best in the team's history — a mere minute and 21 seconds.

The pleasant surprise for the Tars that day was Seamus O'Reilly. Promoted to the number two spot behind superstar Don Makela when Keith Krieger came up with a bruised foot, Seamus finished second to assure Marin's 25-32 victory.

UNFORTUNATELY, things are not going so well for Marin's football and water polo teams. The Tar gridders were never a factor as they lost last Saturday, 42-7 to West Valley of Campbell, the Camino Norte Conference leader and sixth ranked junior college team in California.

This Saturday the Tars travel to Vallejo for a conference game under the lights with Solano, and, according to coach Dick Read, they have a chance in this one. Like Marin, the Falcons are experiencing difficulties, having won only two of five games. They dropped their conference opener to Santa Rosa last week, 42-8.

At least the Tars will be healthy this time — the healthiest, in fact, they've been all year. Guard Mike Russell, and safeties Pete Carroll and Homer Hall have all recovered from minor injuries that kept them on the bench against West Valley.

SAVING THE worst for last, we turn to the Tars' water polo squad. Two weeks ago, after losing four straight to start the season, the Tars claimed a 19-12 victory over City College of San Francisco. But their good fortune was shortlived. They traveled to De Anza last Friday and got clobbered, 26-3.

Jets-Bills Game Goes Off Board

NEW YORK (UPI)—The absence of Joe Namath at quarterback has prompted the oddsmakers to take this Sunday's New York Jets-Buffalo Bills game off the line.

Namath, who suffered a fractured bone in his right wrist against the Colts last week, will be out of action indefinitely. Second-year man Al Woodall is scheduled to start for the Jets.

The Bills upset the Jets earlier this season in Buffalo. That was their only victory. Both teams have identical 1-4 records.

In other games Sunday Miami is a three point favorite over Cleveland, Minnesota is four over Los Angeles, St. Louis is six over the New York Giants, San Francisco is seven over Denver, Atlanta is seven over New Orleans, Kansas City is 10 over Dallas, Baltimore is 14 over Boston, Green Bay is 14 over Philadelphia and Detroit is 14 over Chicago.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Convertible Bonds: Select Carefully

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. From what I have read it seems to me that convertible bonds fit my investment needs best. My requirements are gradual appreciation, better than average income and safety of principal. Would you recommend two or three? — W.H.

A. In theory convertible bonds should fit in with your investment goals. In practice, however, careful selection is as vital to success as it is with any other investment vehicle. The merit of a bond as an income investment, exclusive of its convertible feature, should be weighed and if the bond is selling at too high a price in relation to its investment worth it should be eliminated from your list of buy candidates.

Equally important for growth is the premium at which a bond is selling in relation to its conversion value. As for safety, the highly touted downside protection afforded by convertible bonds has been questioned recently by buyers and holders.

The unusual combination of soaring interest rates and plummeting stock prices proved overwhelming for this investment vehicle. As a result, the number of new convertibles coming to market is sharply below record level reached in 1967 of over $4 billion. Since May of this year the number of major new issues could be counted on your fingers. However, both economic and market conditions have become more hospitable recently and public interest in convertibles has resumed.

Two features which are of interest to potential buyers are the lower commissions charged on bond transactions and the 50 per cent margin (65 per cent on stocks) allowed on purchases. Three convertible bonds which are currently attractive (premiums can shift rather rapidly so that recommendations are subject to change) are: American Airlines 4¼s of 1992, Armstrong Rubber 4½s of 1987 and Maryland Cup 5⅛s of 1994. All three currently yield over 6% and sell at conversion premiums below 28%.

Q. Would you print once again the address of the National Association of Investment Clubs? I forgot to cut it out before. — E. C.

A. Gladly. It is: 1300 Washington Boulevard Building, Detroit, Michigan, 48226.

$15,000 Income Growing Market

NEW YORK (UPI) — Does your family have an annual income of $15,000 to $25,000?

If so, you're in the fastest-growing family income bracket, says a 10-year survey by Meinhard-Commercial Corp. a factoring and financing company.

The firm's analysis of government figures shows this income group grew from 2.8 per cent of all families in 1960 to 15.6 per cent in 1969 —an increase of 528 per cent. It now embraces more than 7.9 million families.

Declines Lead Advances 2-1 On Exchange

Declines outnumbered advances at a ratio of about two-to-one, 852 to 420, and the Dow Jones industrial average was off 1.98 at 757.67 near the final bell.

Turnover amounted to around 9,000,000 shares, down from 11,330,000 shares traded Wednesday.

Closing prices included: AT&T 43 1-4 off 1-8; Bethlehem Steel 21 1-2 up 1-8; Chrysler 24 1-2 up 1-8; DuPont 118 1-2 off 1; Ford 50 3-8; General Electric 85 1-8 up 1-8, and General Motors 71 7-8 up 5-8.

Point-sized losers were noticeable in the electronics, but in general price moves were confined to fractions, with selected issues attracted to corporate news.

Copper issues attracted some selling pressure. On Wednesday, Phelps Dodge announced the first market-dictated copper price cut in nearly 10 years. Anaconda took similar action Thursday.

Steels and motors moved over narrow ranges, as did rails, airlines, chemicals, and aircrafts. Oils traded widely in both directions.

Among the day's most active stocks were American Crystal Sugar, Telex Corp., Philip Morris, Fannie Mae, Natomas, Niagara Mohawk Power, and Southern Co.

Analysts attributed the market's softer tone to disappointment with a number of third quarter earnings statements, the strike at General Motors Corp., the lack of solid evidence that the economy is improving, and a government report indicating that inflation is still running out of hand.

On Wednesday, the government noted that the cost of living rose one-half of one per cent in September, more than double the rate in August when the Nixon administration hailed a 0.2 per cent rise as evidence its anti-inflation campaign was succeeding.

Fanatic Note Left By Killers

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (UPI) — The killers of a wealthy eye surgeon and four other persons left a note near his blazing mansion declaring "World War 3" against those who "misuse the environment."

Sheriff's deputies revealed Wednesday night they had found the note tucked under a windshield of slain Dr. Victor M. Ohta's red Rolls Royce.

Deputies also announced they were hunting three "hippie-type" persons, one a woman, as suspects. Shot and killed were Dr. Ohta, 47; his wife, Virginia, 41; their sons, Victor Taggart, 11, and Richard Derrick, 12; and the physician's secretary, Mrs. Dorothy Cadwallader, 38. The mansion was set afire and firemen found the bodies.

FEAR REPRISALS

The mass killings recall the Sharon Tate case for which the Charles Manson hippie "family" is being tried in Los Angeles. The sheriff's department feared reprisals against hippies who have established 25 communes in this mountainous area south of San Francisco.

As deputies hunted for three persons seen near Mrs. Ohta's stolen station wagon after the deaths, undersheriff Paul W. Tara pleaded that "sober judgment . . . prevail over any emotional reaction."

The note's contents were:

"Today World War 3 will begin as brought to you by the free universe.

"DEATH PENALTY"

"From this day forward anyone and or company of persons who misuses the natural environment or destroy same will suffer the penalty of death by the people of the free universe.

"I and my comrades from this day forth will fight until death or freedom, against anything or anyone who does not support natural life on this planet, materialism must die or mankind will."

It was signed: "Knight of Wands, Knight of Cups, Night of Pentacles and Knight of Swords," with the "K" omitted once.

Mrs. Ohta's station wagon, stolen near the blazing mansion, was abandoned in a railroad tunnel near a state park and struck by a spur-line locomotive. A person whom deputies refused to identify reported seeing three persons near the wagon after the slayings.

PARK MANHUNT

Volunteers and law officers searched on horseback and with dogs through the state park with 100-foot high redwoods adjoining the tunnel where the station wagon was found.

Sheriff James said three sets of "barefoot footprints" had been found beside a stream near the tunnel and that a white van had been noticed in the neighborhood before the station wagon was found.

The body of a bound and shot gasoline station attendant, Thomas Dececco, 19' was found 18 miles away from the tunnel at Saratoga. Deputies would not speculate whether there was a connection.

Church Bombed Prior To Policeman's Rites

No One Injured By Blast

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A bomb exploded outside a church today as mourners, including 300 policemen and Mayor Joseph Alioto, gathered for the funeral of a police officer killed in a shoot-out with a bank robber.

No one was injured when the explosive device, planted in shrubbery about three feet from the front door of St. Brendan's Catholic Church went off with a blast which shook the church and surrounding houses.

CHURCH'S LOCATION

Some mourners, police and reporters had already started filing into the church, walking a few feet from the bomb, when the explosion occurred at 9:47 a.m.

There were about 50 to 100 persons in the church at the time. Others were outside and still others of the mourners, including Alioto, were in the cortege a few blocks away.

Hamilton's flag-draped coffin, carried by six uniformed policemen, was brought into the church about 10:45 a. m. and the funeral was held as scheduled.

ON THE WAY

The funeral cortege for Patrolman Harold L. Hamilton, 32, shot to death at a Wells Fargo branch bank Monday, was on its way from the funeral home for the services, scheduled at 10 a.m.

"It sounded like a terrible bomb," said a teacher at St. Brendan's school next door. Across the street, Mrs. Edna Peters, said the explosion shook her house.

The blast discolored the front of the stucco-faced church, built in California mission-style with a red tile roof and barred windows.

It did little visible damage to the outside, but Chief Al Nelder said it may have done "extensive damage" to the underpinnings and the walls.

Police and firemen swarmed over the building and sealed off the area. Policemen discounted reports by a resident of "two men" seen fleeing the site and said they believed the bomb was a timed device which had been planted hours earlier.

"We're going to make another fast search of the building and then go ahead with the funeral to show these bums they can't scare us out," said Alioto, his voice shaking with anger.

He blamed the explosion on a "psychotic crew" of terrorists. "We're going to stop this nonsense," he said.

Although there were no serious injuries, some reporters were struck with flying dirt and small debris. Mrs. Peters said something was hurled across

Two U.S. Generals Are Held Prisoner By Russ

MOSCOW (UPI)—An aircraft carrying two U.S. Army generals "violated the air space" of the Soviet Union and is being held in the Armenian city of Leninakan, Moscow Radio said today.

The radio report said the U.S. Air Force Beechcraft U8 propeller driven plane carried four men — the two generals, a U.S. Air Force major and a Turkish Colonel on a flight from Turkey.

The two generals are Maj. Gen. Edward C.D. "Pony" Scherrer, 57 of Shawneetown, Ill., and Brig. Gen. Claude Monroe McQuarrie Jr., 45, of Ft. Benning, Ga. Both are attached to the U.S. military assistance program in Turkey.

A Pentagon spokesman said in Washington the Soviets informed the U. S. Embassy in Moscow that the generals' plane landed safely in the USSR, that the occupants "appear to be well" and that the plane "strayed off its course because of bad weather."

The incident came at an unusually touchy period for relations among the United States, the Soviet Union and Turkey.

The Soviets are campaigning vigorously for the extradition of two Lithuanians who hijacked a Soviet AN22 passenger plane to Turkey last week. The Soviet press has sought to establish a connection between the hijackers and the U.S. intelligence service.

Leninakan, where the plane landed, is a city of 150,000 persons just across the eastern border. It is 575 miles east of Ankara and about 125 miles northwest of Jerevan, the capital of Armenia.

Tass said "the competent Soviet authorities have been instructed to investate the circumstances connected with the above mentioned violation of the Soviet Union's state frontier by a plane of the U.S. Air Force.

Novato Gets Priority For Bypass Plan

SACRAMENTO — The $14 million freeway bypass for Novato was budgeted today for fiscal 1971-72, but construction start may be delayed until early 1972 because of a lack of cash, state highway engineer John A. Lagarra said today.

"The project is in the list and has a high priority on the list submitted to the state highway commission," Lagarra said. The commission, meeting today, is expected to act on the engineers list, he said.

Cash flow alone will determine when the project goes to bid, if approved by the commission, he said. If there is improvement in the cash situation, the project could go to bid as early as the first of next year, Lagarra siad.

Novato City Councilman George C. Quesada, City Mgr. Charles A. Brown and Nathan E. Dean of the Novato Chamber of Commerce yesterday asked the commission to speed up the Novato project and Brown later reported that it might be delayed until the spring of 1972.

Last May the Novato council approved an agreement with the state division of highways for the Atherton Avenue-San Marin Drive interchange, but in June ordered public works director Clifford E. Temps not to sign the agreement. The council wanted to change the design to stop a 125-foot cut in the hill west of the interchange.

Alan S. Hart, district engineer in the San Francisco office, today said that the state has all the agreement with Novato that it needs to go ahead with the bypass. Timing of the bids will depend on when the money is available, he said.

Tito In Holland

Nixon, Gromyko Meet In Private

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko met today for a private discussion which the President hopes will ease the Middle East crisis and eliminate the possibility of a direct confrontation between the two nuclear super-powers.

Sitting in on the meeting were Secretary of State William P. Rogers; Nixon's national security adviser, Henry A. Kissinger, Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin and a Soviet interpreter.

Among items on the Nixon-Gromyko agenda were the new U. S. Indochina peace plan and limitation of strategic nuclear weapons.

At the United Nations, Gromyko said Wednesday no "artificial conditions and demands" should be attached to the resumption of Middle East peace talks.

Gromyko, in a hard-line speech at the United Nations 25th anniversary commemorative session, apparently referred to Israel's demand that violations of the Suez Canal military standstill zone by Egypt be rectified before the talks resume.

However, Gromyko took what diplomatic sources said was a "startingly different" tone during a later speech at a secret U.N. Security Council meeting. They said his speech was virtually free of polemics.

It was the first time in history the Security Council met in special conclave with 11 foreign ministers and a president debating the international issues of the day. Rogers, representing the United States, told the gathering President Nixon's latest Vietnam peace

Rose Resigns Tiburon Job For Laguna Beach Position

Lawrence D. Rose, Tiburon's city manager for more than six years, has resigned to accept a similar position with the City of Laguna Beach, the Independent-Journal learned last night.

Rose, 50, the senior city manager in Marin County in terms of length of service, will assume his new duties Dec. 1. He plans to remain at his Tiburon post until the week of Nov. 23.

Rose's letter of resignation will be submitted today and action is expected at the Tiburon City Council's meeting next Monday.

Rose said the Laguna Beach offer provides an "opporutnity for professional growth." The city of Laguna Beach is much larger than Tiburon and he will be in charge of approximately 200 city employees.

Rose went to Tiburon from Carmel in 1964, a month after Tiburon was incorporated. He was Carmel city administrator and city clerk from 1956 to 1962, and publisher of the Carmel Pine Cone from 1962 to 1964.

LAWRENCE D. ROSE
Going to Laguna Beach

Rose and his wife, Billie, have three daughters: Cynthia, 18; Marilyn, 16, and Laurie, 7.

"We certainly hate to see him go," said Tiburon City Councilman Albert H. Sennett, "but I realize this is the name of the game for city managers if they want to progress."

Sennett said Rose apparently learned of his appointment only yesterday afternoon and that he notified the councilmen by telephone.

Sennett said the council will consider naming a temporary city manager at next Monday's meeting until a full-time manager can be sought out and hired.

Bridge Board Sets Stage For Major Bus Link In North Bay

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

A committee of Golden Gate Bridge District directors last night set the stage for going to bid on a $9.3 million system of 152 buses linking communities from Sausalito to Santa Rosa with San Francisco.

The joint transportation and finance-auditing committee, with 10 of the full board's 18 members present, voted unanimously to recommend the action to the board at its Oct. 30 meeting.

The vote came after an hour of strong opposition from several directors who dropped their arguments after San Francisco Supervisor Peter Tamaras endorsed Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring's recommendation that the bids be authorized .

The opposition was led by Stephan C. Leonoudakis of San Francisco, who is facing reappointment to the bridge board by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors. Leonoudakis, however, predicted that the committee's recommendation would not pass the full board.

Of the 10 directors present, seven were voting members of the committee. The members included Marin Supervisor Michael Wornum and William R. Lucius, mayor of Healdsburg, who flew up from Los Angeles just to attend the unusual night meeting.

The committee also recommended taking over Marin County's subsidy of the feeder bus service to the Tiburon ferry, run by Marin County Transit Systems, and recommended subsidizing a charter bus between Mill Valley and the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco.

The committee's action on Luehring's recommendation to go to bid on the buses included expansion of the system to Santa Rosa. It originally was to have terminated at Novato, with expansion north set sometime in the future.

Lucius, however, argued successfully that initial service to Santa Rosa was "absolutely imperative," not because the profitable longer runs would offset the deficit, but because the service was needed.

Luehring's recommendation called for going to bid on 112 to 132 buses initially, with an additional 20 buses, built in 1965, to be leased from Greyhound. He said Greyhound had indicated it may provide the buses at a "very nominal" charge for up to three years.

Luehring said this would leave room in the bus system to start buying gas turbine models when they become available in 1973.

Leonoudakis and several others argued that Greyhound should be pressured into paying the district to have the district take over the red-ink operation, but Luehring noted that both Greyhound and the California Public Utilities Commission's staff have said Greyhound will not "pay one cent to buy out" of the service.

Luehring estimated that the annual net loss of the system would be $914,000, including all

Backgrounds Important Key In Smallman, Zunino Bidding

Two attorneys seeking the Marin Municipal Court judgeship being vacated at the end of the year by Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. are stressing differences in their backgrounds which each feels makes him more competent.

Both Robert A. Smallman, San Rafael attorney, and Deptuy Dist. Atty. Ernest C. Zunino, running in the Nov. 3 election, also present dfiferent views on problems confronting courts today.

The two men were survivors of a 13-man primary election last June, with Zunino the top vote getter.

Zunino, who has strong backing from law officer, says that he is a "strong believer in punishment being a deterrent to individual criminals and to others."

He adds that his experience first as a probation officer and later as a district attorney has shown him that the overwhelming majority of persons who commit felony crimes are graduates of juvenile and municipal courts.

While he believes probation is good for first offenders, Zunino said that persons who commit new offenses while on probation must receive more severe punishments for subsequent crimes.

Zunio also feels that the importance of municipal courts who deal with 95 per cent of the felonies in the county in their early stages of legal proceedings is underrated.

"Such maters as the setting of bail and preliminary hearings are very important," he said.

Zunino has stressed that he feels he is more competent than Smallman to handle criminal matters, which he says take up most of the municipal court's time.

He has said that he would continue the current practice of referring even first-time drunken driver offenders to the probation department because he feels this offense is a serious problem.

"A straight $350 fine is treating this offense with a rubber stamp and doesn't accomplish much," he said.

As to court decorum, Zunino said that he thinks the behavior of attorneys and defendants is more important than their dress. (Judge Goldstein last week fined an attorney $100 for appearing in court tieless and clad in jeans.)

Zunino, whose wife Sally is also a graduate criminologist, lives in France with their two young children.

He has been in the district attorney's office for six years and also was in private practice for four and a half years. Before becoming an attorney, he was a probation officer and directed the county's first work furlough program.

Smallman's background includes two years in the district attorney's ofifce and five in the county counsel's office during which time he also maintained a private practice.

"There should be some discouragement for every criminal offense," Smallman says. He feels that the probation department should be used to supervise felony offenders and not a referral agency for misdemeanants.

Like Zunino, he views drunken driving as a serious problem, but says he favors a weekend jail sentence as a deterrent.

Smallman, however, stressed that he would work with the other two municipal court judges for "uniform justice" rather than impose sentences unlike those by the other two.

"I can't imagine anything worse than people saying 'I got sent to jail by judge so-and-so when I would have got only a fine or probation from some other judge.' " he said.

Smallman feels that one of the greatest problems facing the courts is that "people are so polarized." He said that despite the fact the courts are getting more confessions and convictions than ever, many persons feel justice is not taking place.

"Unnecessary continuances" must be eliminated, he said, because these allow criminals to commit new offenses while out on bail, make testimony less accurate and make punishment ineffective.

Unlike Zunino who thinks night courts could work in Marin County as he says they do elsewhere, Smallman does not favor night sessions.

"Studies show that only 7 per cent of the people take advantage of night courts in other places, and the cost would be astronomical," he said.

Smallman, whose wife Patricia and four youngsters, ranging in age from 22 to 11 years, are all helping with his campaign, live in Kentfield.

Smallman did a great deal of door-to-door campaigning in the primary election but a broken bone in his foot has prevented him from doing this for the last five weeks.

He has had 55 coffees scheduled, however. Both he and Zunino have relied heavily on signs and posters, a campaign measure Smallman has decried as necessary but unmeaningful.

Water District Is Worth $11 Million, Board Hears

The North Marin County Water District is worth more than $11 million, the district board nas been told by manager Eugene Churchill.

Churchill said that the district land, plants and equipment were valued at $10 million, according to a pre-audit statement presented the board Tuesday night. The district has $1.4 million in cash and accounts receivable, he said.

The district's operating expenses were $52,422 more than the $504,200 budgeted for fiscal 1969-70, he said, but this was met by reserves. The excess expenses were due to purchase of more Russian River water than anticipated and to repair two serious main breaks, Churchill said.

He reported that of $3,790,000 bonds authorized in 1960, the district has sold $2.5 million, leaving $1.29 million authorized but not sold. The district has completed $3.2 million in improvements to the system with the sale of the $2.5 million in bonds. The largest expenditure was $1.25 million construction of the aqueduct to Petaluma to tap Russian River water.

Churchill reported water usage was up 17.8 per cent in September over the same month last year because of warm weahter, he said. This was an increase from 179 million to 210 million gallons.

About King Tap

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy authorized a tap on Martin Luther King's telephone in 1963 partly to avoid political problems with FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, according to an article published Wednesday in the Atlantic Monthly.

Author Victor Navasky said Kennedy also thought the tap would prove King was not influenced by Communists and that such proof would prevent the issue from being raised against the pending civil rights bill.

The magazine said Navasky drew the conclusions after a six-year study that included interviews with Kennedy and King, both of whom were assassinated in 1968.

Navasky said subsequent published reports of extramarital sex activities by King had nothing to do with the Kennedy-authorized taps. He said these reports stemmed from electronic bugs installed by the FBI or local police without the specific authorization of the attorney general.

Duel Of Honor

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (UPI)—Steel clanged against steel for four tense minutes Wednesday while a cabinet minister and a senator hacked at one another with sabers in a duel of honor.

Then Industry and trade Minister Julio Maria Sanguinetti, 34, and Sen. Manuel Flores Mora, 47, sheathed their swords on doctors orders.

They were satisfied—each had drawn blood. Doctors stopped Uruguay's first duel in 12 years when Flores took a slash on the right forearm. They pronounced the senator unfit to continue. Sanguinetti also suffered a scratch on the arm during the encounter.

Typhoon Toll Soars

MANILA (UPI) — The Philippines Red Cross appealed today for worldwide help as the death toll from two back to back typhoons soared above the 1,000 mark. It called it the worst disaster to hit the Philippines since World War II.

A spokesman said typhoon Joan, which hit Monday, killed at least 525 persons and that 169 were missing and 912 injured. Typhoon Kate which struck the following day killed 501 persons, injured 76 and left 312 missing.

The two typhoons devastated two large sections of the archipelago and inflicted damage to crops and property estimated at more than $100 million.

Drug Controversy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The manufactarer of a controversial diabetes drug says many scientists and doctors disagree with a study reporting adverse conclusions about the product.

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA), however, says it accepts the study's conclusion and plans to advise doctors not to perscribe the drug except in cases where other specified treatmenst cannot be used.

The drug is tolbutamide, trade named Orinase and used by about 800,000 diabetics.

The controversy concerns two conclusions of a $7 million scientific study. One was that Orinase coupled with a diabetic diet is no more effective than the diet alone. The second was that, of the patients studied, there was a higher incidence of fatal heart disease among Orinase users than among diabetics on a diet alone, or those on a diet plus insulin.

Press Throttled

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—The publisher of O Estado de Sao Paulo, one of Brazil's leading newspaper, has accused his nation's military government of throttling the free press in Latin America's most populous country.

Julio de Mesquita Neto made the charge at the opening of a nation-by-nation review of the hemispheric press during the annual meeting of the Inter-American Press Association (IAPA) ending Friday.

Newspaper executives from Central America, Argentina, Colombia and Uruguay said their nations enjoyed virtual freedom of the press.

There was no discussion of the Venezuelan press. "I suppose that is because the press is free in that nation," said James Copley, IAPA president and president of the Copley newspapers.

BIRTHDAY POP-IN

How many pounds of popcorn can you cram into a car? College professor Thomas O'Connor found 64 pounds of the salty white stuff in his car after he told his students at Springfield, Mass., College that he liked popcorn so well he wanted to stage an International Popcorn Festival. He got his festival — marking his 45th birthday. (UPI Telephoto)

Pilot Tried To Turn Game Plane

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI) — Co-pilot Ronald G. Skipper has testified he tried to turn a chartered plane carrying part of the Wichita state university football team when he realized the plane couldn't make it over the Continental Divide.

Skipper, 34, testified Wednesday at a federal inquiry into the circumstances leading to the crash Oct. 2. Thirty persons were killed.

He said the twin-engine Martin 404 had a normal flight from Wichita to Denver where it made a refueling stop and took over flying the airplane from pilot Danny E. Crocker who was killed.

Skipper testified he told some of the passengers they were "going to see some beautiful scenery."

There was more than sufficient room to make a 180-degree turn and fly back down the valley, he said. But the aircraft began vibrating, and we put the nose down and shortly thereafter we crashed, he said.

War Deaths Hit 5-Year Low: 124 In Three Weeks

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. military sources said today American combat deaths in the last three weeks fell to the lowest level in five years.

The U.S. Command said 40 Americans lost their lives in Indochina fighting last week, the second lowest death toll for any week this year. This brought the three-week death toll to 124, which sources said was the lowest for a 21-day period since 104 GIs were killed in action from Oct. 10 through Oct. 30, 1965.

The weekly figure compared with 46 Americans reported dead the previous week. The lowest total this year was 38 for the week ending Oct. 3, the smallest number of combat deaths in almost four and a half years.

It was the 16th consecutive week the U.S. Command reported less than 100 Americans killed in action. The total U.S. war dead since Jan. 1, 1961, now stands at 43,861.

U.S. military sources said 33 American service personnel were reported dead last week from non-combat causes such as illness and accidents. The total of such deaths now is 8,692.

South Vietnamese spokesmen said 256 government troops were reported killed last week and 858 wounded. The numbers compare with 335 killed and 845 wounded the week before. Unofficial figures now show a total of 109,249 government troops killed in combat since the start of 1961.

U.S. spokesmen reported a total of 1,083 Communists killed last week by Allied forces, the lowest figure since 1,055 in the week ending Aug. 22. A total of 677,043 Communist are now claimed dead by all Allied forces.

On the Cambodian war front, Cambodian air force T28 fighter-bombers bombed Communist troop concentrations south of Phnom Penh for the third consecutive day as a part of an operation to open Highway 2 southwards to the Vietnamese border.

Two units of a 10-battalion government task force moving down the highway ran into firefights at Chambak, 21 miles south of Phnom Penh, and at Kirivong, 72 road miles south of the capital and only three miles from the Vietnamese border. Air support was called in at both places.

Terrorists Silent On Diplomat's Fate

Hopes were raised Wednesday when police received three calls from an anonymous person claiming to represent the Cross kidnapers. The person said the FLQ was "interested" in a government offer to fly the kidnapers to Cuba in exchange for the safe return of Cross, but subsequent checking led police to "doubt the authenticity of the calls..."

In addition, police checked out and found to be bogus an alleged FLQ communique dropped in the community of Chateauguay, 15 miles west of Montreal, late Wednesday night.

The last authentic communication from Cross and the FLQ arrived Sunday.

In two notes—one addressed to the authorities and one to his wife—Cross warned police his life would be endangered if they continued to search for him.

An accompanying communique from the FLQ threatened to execute Cross if the government did not meet its demands to release 23 members of the terrorist organization held in Quebec jails. It added, however, the terrorists "hoped to save the life of Cross."

Federal Minister of Regional Planning Jean Marchand said on a West Coast radio show Wednesday the government proclaimed the War Measures Act to prevent the FLQ from disrupting Montreal's civic election next Sunday.

Marchand said it was feared the FLQ would accomplish this by bombings, shootings, more kidnapings and the "dextrous deployment" of the FRAP party opposed to the present administration of Mayor Jean Drapeau.

Quebec Justice Minister Jerome Choquette said because of huge amounts of FLQ material seized in police raids since Friday, the more than 300 suspected FLQ leaders and sympathizers in jail probably would be held for 21 days without charges.

Guerrillas Traded For U.S. Lives

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—A plane arrived here today with four leftist guerrillas released by the Costa Rican government to prevent the murder of four U. S. citizens aboard an airliner hijacked to Cuba.

The identities of the U. S. citizens have not been disclosed.

A special LACSA DC6 plane flew the released guerrillas to Mexico City from San Jose, Costa Rica. Six secret servicemen accompanied the guerrillas.

The Americans were among 44 persons aboard a LACSA airliner hijacked by guerrillas on Wednesday.

A Costa Rican government official said that when the Costa Rican Airlines plane landed on the Colombian island of San Andreas to refuel the hijackers passed a note to authorities threatening to kill four Americans aboard and blow up the aircraft in Havana if the guerrillas were not released.

Officials said the pilot of the hijacked airliner reported it had been seized at gunpoint on a domestic flight that originated in San Jose.

The craft departed from Havana after refueling on San Andreas where officials said 3 of the 44 persons aboard were allowed to disembark.

Child Development Center Runs Into Financial Snag

By WAT TAKESHITA

Marin's Child Development Center in Tiburon, which is treating 21 emotionally disturbed youngsters at a cost of about $90,000 per year in private funds, will have to close in January unless it gets financial help.

This report came last night from Mrs. Robert A. Bastian, director of the center, which is located in a leased building at Westminister Presbyterian Church at 240 Tiburon Boulevard. She appealed to the Marin Mental Health Advisory Board for help.

Mrs. Bastian said the center, which treats neurologically and emotionally disturbed children between 2 and 7 years of age, has received about $200,000 from the Babcock Foundation in the last six years, but this money ran out last June.

A $40,000 grant from the San Francisco Foundation this year has kept the center open thus far, but another $31,000 is needed to run the center through this fiscal year ending in June 30, 1971.

"With existing funds, we'd have to close on Jan. 1," declared Mrs. Bastian.

She said parents of the children pay for a portion of the cost, and she has managed to scrounge around for private funds to keep the center going. "But you can't expect the private sector to continue forever," she declared.

Dr. Paul A. Steinman and Jack D. Williams agreed that the center is offering valuable services and must be continued.

Dr. Steinman moved that the advisory board "express complete support" of the center and ask the county supervisors to dig up funds to permit its continued operation. Dante Bagnani seconded the motion.

"If the motion carries, are you authorizing a program change?" asked Thomas F. Campanella. He explained that if the program is to be changed, the county supervisors would want to know what other services would be cut back to squeeze out the $31,000.

Dr. Steinman's motion lost by a 2-5 vote.

Donald Barkdale then moved that J. Jay Shinohara, assistant director of community mental health services, come back with a definite recommendation on what can be cut from the mental health services program or personnel to raise the $31,000.

Methadone Treatment For Heroin Addicts, Alcohol Center Studied

The use of methadone to help heroin addicts and a detoxification center for acute alcoholics are among projects under consideration for the 1971-72 Marin mental health program.

These and four other new projects were presented for consideration last night to the Marin Mental Health Advisory Board by Dr. John S. Guerrant, acting director of the Marin Mental Health Center, and J. Jay Shinohara, assistant director of the community mental health services.

The methadone program won strong support from Dr. James R. Prest. "I support it enthusiastically because this is about the only effective method of control." He acknowledged that methadone substitutes one addiction for another, "but methadone is a controllable addiction."

Dr. Guerrant said methadone is a substitute addiction but does not interfere with a person's normal activity.

In the alcohol detoxification program, Dr. Guerrant said seven or eight beds could be set up for "drying out" acute cases and 20 beds for treatment of less acute cases.

The four other programs listed by Guerrant and Shinohara were: psychiatric day care for children 2 to 7 years old; vocational, social and recreational program for the mentally retarded; psychiatric day care for children 8 to 12 years old; children's in-patient services where severely disturbed children can be hospitalized up to 30 days.

Only a few children would be involved in this program, and space might be purchased in institutions like the McCally Clinic in San Francsico, said Dr. Guerrant. Details on these programs and estimated costs have not been worked out but will be presented at the next meeting, said Dr. Guerrant.

Neither Guerrant nor Shinohara would hazard a guess. "We can give you sime meaningful figures in about two or three weeks," replied Dr. Guerrant.

The Mental Health Advisory Board also:

HALF-TIME HELP — On a motion by Jack D. Williams, voted 5-1 to recommend the hiring of a half-time clerical worker to gather and compile statistical data for the community mental health services office. Mrs. Mishkind, the lone dissenter, said she would not vote for more staff help until the value of the statistical data can be shown.

DRUG CONTROL — On a motion by Dr. James R. Prest, recommended unanimously that a drug abuse control plan for the county be referred to the mental health advisory board before such a plan is approved. AB 1990 requires each county of more than 40,000 population to draw up a drug abuse control plan during this fiscal year.

War Reporter To Speak At College On Vietnam Issue

A woman war correspondent, who jumped into battle zones with Vietnamese paratroopers and covered Southeast Asia for 17 months, will give her views of the war next Wednesday at the College of Marin.

The talk is sponsored by the college and by Marin Professionals for Peace, headed by Dr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Gutstadt of Ross. Speaking with Mrs. Emmerich will be Tevenick Koujakian, an expert on China with the Stanford Research Institute.

Marin Professionals for Peace was organized last May after the Cambodian invasion.

Two other programs are scheduled by the group, also at 8 p.m. at Olney Hall. On Nov. 10, three Vietnam veterans will express their feelings on the war. On Nov. 24, Dr. Bernard Diamond and Dr. Nathan Adler, both University of California instructors, will discuss "Violence Abroad, Violence at Home: Are They Related?"

Rock Bands Will Perform At Dance

Guilty Pleas To College Bombing

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Two Negro youths pleaded guilty Thursday to recklessly or maliciously possessing explosives in a bombing at San Francisco State College that injured one of them.

Robert Podesta, assistant district attorney, said he would move for the dismissal of remaining charges — possession of explosives and conspiracy against Timothy Peebles, 21, and William Pulliam, 25.

The pair had been charged with attempting to bomb the college's Creative Arts Building while greater rights for blacks were being demanded of the college.

Judge Robert Drews set Nov. 18 for hearing probation reports, sentencing on deciding on Podesta's motion.

Civic Center Security Measures Leave Agencies Looking Elsewhere

Since no night meetings are allowed at the Civic Center until further notice, all organizations which formerly met there at night must find other locations.

Some have found temporary meeting places, and many are still looking for space. If suitable space cannot be located on regular meeting nights, the meeting schedules may have to change for some agencies.

Daytime meetings at the Civic Center and Hall of Justice will continue as in the past, except that they cannot go beyond 6 p.m., when the buildings must be cleared.

The following agencies will meet as usual:

Marin County Board of Supervisors — Each Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the Civic Center.

Marin County Planning Commission — Second and fourth Mondays from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Marin County Zoning Administrator — Usually the first and third Mondays at 10 a.m. at the Civic Center, either in the planning commission chambers or the planning department conference room.

Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission — Meets at 2 p.m. on the second Wednesday in the planning commission chambers. (Next meeting is Nov. 4 because Nov. 11 is Veterans' Day).

Personnel Commission — Meets on the third Thursday at 3 p.m. in the supervisors' chambers.

The following agencies are looking for or have found new meeting places:

Juvenile Delinquency Prevention Commission — Now meets from 4 to 6 p.m. on the third Wednesday at Marin General Hospital.

City County Planning Council — Will meet until further notice at the County Superintendent of Schools office in Corte Madera. Meetings are held at 8 p.m. on the first Thursday.

City-County Services Committee—Normally meets on the third Monday, which is Nov. 16, at 8 p.m. Meeting place is not yet determined. The Nov. 16 meeting may be called off if a quorum is unlikely.

Marin Local Agency Formation Commission — Regular meeting is the second Wednesday at 8 p.m. Since the next meeting falls on Veterans Day, it will be deferred until Nov. 18, at Ross Town Hall. A special meeting is set for 8 p.m. Nov. 4 at Ross Town Hall to discuss a proposed county service area for police services.

Marin Aviation Commission — Normally meets on the first Tuesday, but not on Nov. 3 because that is election day. It was once postponed to Nov. 10, but that date may be changed to Nov. 2 or Nov. 9. Place of meeting is not set. Some commissioners are considering meeting at the county airport at Gnoss Field.

Human Rights Commission — Meets on the second Thursday, Nov. 12, at 8 p.m. Meeting place will probably be San Rafael High School. The commission has applied for space at the high school, but confirmation has not been received.

Family and children's Services Advisory Committee — Will continue to meet at 8 p.m. on the third Tuesday. Last meeting on Oct. 20 was held at the Co-Op in Corte Madera.

Marin Youth Commission — Meets on the first and third Tuesdays of each month at 8 p.m. In November, however, meeting dates will be Nov. 10 and Nov. 24. The Nov. 10 meeting will be held at the Catholic Social Services office at 179 Los Ranchitos Road, San Rafael. The youth commission is still looking for a regular meeting place.

Marin Council for Civic Affairs — Last Wednesday of each month. Next meeting is 8 p.m. Oct. 28 in room 182 at Redwood High School.

Music Library Group To Meet

Sonoma State librarian A. S. Pickett said the main attraction of the meeting will be the college's new phonolibrary, which includes a bank of 15 phonograph turntables, nine tape decks and 21 individual listening stations.

A musicale by the music department faculty will be presented.

The Beetle goes for a low $1840*.
The Super Beetle, a whopping $1984*.
What do I get for more money?
The Super Beetle (on the bottom) is the most advanced Volkswagen ever. It offers nearly twice as much luggage space. A more elegant, fully carpeted interior. A smoother riding suspension system. A shorter turning radius and improved brakes. (For the 84 other improvements, see your favorite VW dealer.)
What do I get for less money?
The regular Beetle (on the top) offers what the 16 million Volkswagens sold so far have always offered: Probably the most sensible way of getting from place to place ever devised by man.
Do the two cars have anything in common?
Yes.
First off, there is a striking physical resemblance between the two of them.
Second, they both boast new, more powerful engines made to last even longer than the fabled VW engines of old.
Third, they are both backed by 25 years of small-car-making experience. In other words, you know what you're getting.

Curbs On Prosecution In Violence Case Are Sought

I-J Special Report

FAIRFIELD — Defense attorneys in the trial of seven men accused of felonies during the violent demonstration outside the Independent-Journal on Valentine's Day, sought today to limit the prosecution's case.

In a motion which Judge William E. Jensen took under submission in Solano County Superior Court, the defense asked that Marin Deputy Dist. Atty. Joshua W. Thomas be restricted to presenting evidence and testimony immediately surrounding the arrests of the seven men. The motion, which was opposed by Thomas, came as the trial entered its third day.

Defense attorney Robert D. Carrow, joined by his two colleagues, Robert Y. Bell and Carl B. Shapiro, argued that the arrests shortly after 1 p.m. Feb. 14, had no connection with a disturbance early that morning which resulted in breakage to most of the windows in the I-J plant and the setting afire of an I-J delivery truck.

Carrow said depositions given by policemen indicated there was a peaceful interlude between the morning disturbance and the outbreak of violence in the afternoon which led to the arrests. To allow testimony arising from the morning incident would "seriously prejudice" the defendants, Carrow asserted.

Thomas contended, however, that the morning incident was not isolated. He said the day's events, which arose as a result of a labor rally called in support of striking printers at the newspaper represented a continuing effort on the part of all union people to see that the Independent-Journal did not publish."

"The evidence will show that as soon as the crowd (estimated at more than 600 persons) reached the building, the first thing they did was break out every window at the ground level," Thomas said.

"Our position is that nothing else could happen to the building itself that had not happened already, unless pickets made an attempt to enter the building."

Referring to the hiatus between the morning and afternoon incidents, Thomas said, "They were just waiting for an opportunity to do any further act to prevent the I-J from carrying on business that particular day."

Thomas said limiting testimony to events surrounding the arrests would be "prejudicial to us."

In another development today, Judge Jensen named Dennis Crowley of San Jose, member of the International Typographical Union as interpreter of prosecution testimony for two of the defendants who are deaf-mutes — Nimmes H. Shelton, 40, of San Francisco and Joe E. Reese, 31, of Hayward.

Crowley is awaiting trial, also in Solano County, on a charge of conspiring to break windows of I-J advertisers. He was arrested by sheriff's deputies with two other printers in the Strawberry Shopping Center June 3.

Thomas said he would not object to Crowley interpreting in sign language the testimony of others, but would protest Crowley interpreting the testimony of Reese and Shelton, should they be placed on the stand. Defense attorneys agreed that Thomas could choose his own interpreter once they did take the stand.

Union Harassment Stepped Up; Bettini Declines To Take Part

Three trucks were prevented from making deliveries, two businesses suffered stinkbomb attacks, a photographer was assaulted and the windows of two businesses were smashed as a union boycott against Marin County continued yesterday.

Meanwhile, Mayor C. Paul Bettini of San Rafael said "the strike is a private matter and should be resolved by the parties concerned through means that are readily available to them."

In Central Marin where hit-and-run Teamster pickets have concentrated their efforts since Oct. 8, no pickets were reported by police agencies or stores this morning.

During yesterday's picketing, however, two men in front of the Independent-Journal assaulted I-J photographer Roger A. Bockrath as he tried to take their picture at 2:50 p.m. Police issued a warrant for the arrest of a man identified only as Ricardo Garcia and for a companion.

Unidentified persons stinkbombed the classified advertising section of the I-J to the amusement of pickets and also dumped the foul-smelling substance in the Emporium in Northgate Shopping Center at 12:45 p.m.

Trucking firms said three trucks were prevented from making deliveries yesterday afternoon.

At 1:30 p.m. a truck from California Motor Express, LTD., of San Francisco, making miscellaneous deliveries was run out of the county. A truck from Willig Freight Line of Berkeley delivering to Rafael Glass in San Rafael was turned back by pickets at 2 pm.. and a third truck from Alltrans Express of California was turned away between San Anselmo and San Rafael at 3 p.m.

In what appeared to be a return to earlier tactics against I-J advertisers, vandals broke showroom windows at Annex Motors at 8:29 p.m., Leon C. Felton Volkswagen at 7 p.m. and 8:31 p.m. The managers at Annex Motors, 535 Francisco Boulevard, and Felton Volkswagen, 601 Francisco Boulevard attributed the attacks to protest against their advertising in the I-J.

It was the fourth attack on Annex property and the third on Felton.

Mayor Bettini, speaking for the San Rafael City Council said, "We are deeply concerned about the economic, as well as the social impact that is burdening our city as a result of the prolonged strike. We urge the union and the Independent-Journal to initiate negotiations for settlement."

He declined, however, to intervene, calling the strike a private matter.

Mayor Bettini's statement was in reply to an appeal yesterday by Mayor Joseph L. Alioto of San Francisco that Bettini intervene in the San Francisco Typographical Union Local 21 strike against the Independent-Journal.

Noting labor violence that has accompanied the ITU strike, Alioto said, "Reverberations are being felt here in San Francisco as well as in other Northern California cities."

San Francisco was the scene of the murder of I-J employee Allan W. Daly who was shot July 4. Two San Bruno youths confessed their part in the crime and have been turned over to the California Youth Authority. Frank J. Thurber of San Bruno, accused of participating in the slaying, is awaiting trial in San Francisco.

Thurber is a member of a union affiliated with the typographical union on strike since Jan. 7.

San Francisco was also the scene of secondary picketing against newsprint shipments destined for the I-J. The National Labor Relations Board ruled the picketing an illegal secondary boycott.

Typographical union members and their sympathizers from throughout the Bay Area are facing a variety of vandalism, assault and rioting charges for acts connected with the strike.

Three typographical union members are awaiting trial Nov. 17 in Solano County Superior Court in Fairfield on charges of conspiring to damage the property of I-J advertisers.

Another ITU member, Henry Arthur Stacy, 60, of San Francisco is due to stand trial in Fairfield Nov. 4 on charges of firing a bullet through an I-J window and of having a loaded gun in his car.

In progress in Fairfield is the trial of seven ITU members arrested during the Valentine's Day riot outside the I-J building.

Proceedings against four teamsters arrested in San Rafael Oct. 12 on suspicion of tire slashing are pending in Marin Municipal Court.

As a result of the hit-and-run strike, criminal contempt charges have been filed in U.S. District Court in San Francisco against four Bay Area Unions by the National Labor Relations Board. Named in the petition are Teamster Locals 70 of Oakland and 85 of San Francisco, and typographical union and Longshoremen's Union 10 of San Francisco plus officers of each.

Sausalito Chamber Attacks Criminal Acts Around Strike

A resolution deploring criminal activity on the part of some union members involved in San Francisco Typographical Union 21's strike against the Independent-Journal was passed unanimously yesterday by the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce.

According to president Raymond L. Roy, the chamber went on record as "being highly disturbed by the illegal activity of union members, some of whom are not even from Marin County."

Roy said some Sausalito businesses have been affected by a secondary boycott by truckers of firms which advertise in the newspaper. "Some of us have not received our deliveries at all and some have been getting them late, Roy said, even though only one Sausalito firm, Big G Supermarket, has been picketed by supporters of the union which struck the I-J Jan. 7.

Monday four labor unions — the Typographical Union, the Oakland and San Francisco Teamsters locals and the San Francisco Longshoreman's Union, were charged with civil and criminal contempt in U.S. District Court in San Francisco.

The charges, filed by the National Labor Relations Board, accuses the unions and their officials of illegal boycott activity to force neutral businessmen to cease advertising with the newspaper.

Roy said the chamber felt Mayor Joseph L. Alioto of San Francisco was wrong Tuesday in urging C. Paul Bettini, San Rafael's mayor, to help negotiate in the labor dispute "without getting his facts straight."

"We feel the I-J should not have to negotiate with people charged with criminal acts, including murder," Roy said, adding: "We are not against organized labor, only opposed to criminal acts on the part of some people who call themselves labor leaders."

Russian River Water Study Is Approved

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state Water Resources Control Board today approved a $7,500 study of the bacteriological content of the Russian River, a popular resort area.

To be completed by the end of next summer, the study by the Department of Public Health is intended to test the effects of a new regulation effective next May 15 that bans the disposal of treated sewage into the river.

Man Denies Dope Charge In Mexico

I-J Special Report

TIAJUANA, Mexico — A 33-year-old Larkspur man has been transferred to Ola Mesa State Penitentiary after pleading innocent to a charge of possessing marijuana.

The accused, John A. Briscol, will remain in prison until his case is disposed of, because under Mexican narcotics law bail is not permitted.

Judgement and sentence, if he is found guilty, are required within one year. There is no jury trial in such cases nor any set hearing. The judge takes evidence as it is submitted by prosecution and defense until such time as he decides on guilt or innocence.

Briscol, whose Larkspur address is not known, was arrested Oct. 11 at a checkpaoint 90 miles east of Tiajuana on the Mexicali Highway. Police said they found 22 pounds of marijuana hidden in the rear platform of his truck.

The truck and marijuana were introduced in evidence Saturday in the hearing in Federal District Court here at which Briscol pleaded innocent.

Housing Panel Chastised On Director Hunt

About a dozen Marin City residents chastised commissioners of the Marin County Housing Authority and Redevelopment Agency last night for their failure to select an executive director for both organizations.

The anger flared after the commissioners emerged from a two-hour closed session and announced no decision had yet been made, according to Philip S. Ehrlich Jr., housing authority chairman.

One woman called the commissioners "crooks" and another charged they "had screwed us (Marin City residents) again. A man asked if the commissioners had not "betrayed the community."

Most of the protest came from individuals believed to favor Wallace K. Shepherd for the job. Shepherd, currently acting director of both groups, is one of three final candidates selected by a six-man screening committee.

Ehrlich said the closed meeting was called after the committee expressed dissatisfaction with the qualifications of the 77 original applicants and recommended the salary range for the post be increased to attract more applicants. The commissioners also met to consider whether the screening committee, in its final choices, had provided enough qualified candidates for a choice to be made, he said.

Ehrlich said most commissioners felt a larger number of applicants was needed and agreed the authority and redevelopment agency should attempt to raise the salary, presently $15,800 to $19,236.

According to Commissioner Vera L. Schultz, both agencies are sending a letter to the state Personnel Board — which sets salaries — asking the board to reevaluate the position and establish a higher salary range.

Today Mrs. Schultz made public the screening committee's report, submitted to commissioners last week. The report said the committee was "not overly-impressed by the general level of qualifications represented by the applicants" for the job of executive director.

The screening committee reported many applicants had no experience in public housing or urban renewal programs and others showed only limited experience. Some candidates were eliminated because "their limited experience" was obtaind in areas very different from Marin County and others were rejected because they indicated no supervisory experience, according to the report.

In its recommendation for a salary increase for the post, the committee explained that "competition for well-qualified experienced people in this field is keen."

Mrs. Schultz said members of both commissioners have asked to meet with members of the screening committee early in November to discuss their finding in reviewing the 77 applicants.

Mrs. Schultz said some commissioners felt well-qualified applicants were rejected by the committee during its initial screening process.

"I know some of the applicants were people with three and four years of experience with housing authorities on the West Coast," she said.

plan was up for discussion and was not put forward by Washington on a take-it-or-leave-it basis.

In his speech, diplomatic sources said, Rogers applauded the idea of high-level council meetings but held they should not be summoned periodically but rather specifically to deal with definite crisis.

Gromyko, at his earlier speech before the General Assembly, said U.S. and Israeli charges that Egypt and Russia had moved missiles into the standstill zone after the ceasefire were "trumped up allegations" designed to draw attention from the fact the United States and Israel were interfering with peace efforts.

Wornum, however, noted that this amount was matched by additional income from the increase of commuter books from $6.50 to $10 that was voted almost a year ago. "We're just the vehicle — it's the Marin commuter paying for it," he said of the deficit.

Luehring also noted that up to two thirds of the cost of the bus system could be met be federal funds under an application the district has pending in Washington.

He estimated that service would start eight months after a board vote to go to bid.

Leonoudakis claimed that all negotiations with Greyhound over the transition to district operation of the system had to be completed before going to bid. He also said "private enterprise" may be able to take enough passengers so that the district would need as few as 20 buses.

The district's transit manager, Donald White, objected that Greyhound was using about 100 buses for its "minimal" service in Marin alone, and that the larger fleet he and Luehring recommended was the minimum needed to improve service.

The district has $5.1 million on hand for its bus system, and will have $7.6 million by the end of the fiscal year, according to its auditor, Gordon E. Dahlgren.

Luehring also pressed hard for committee approval last night of his recommendation, arguing the only alternatives were "stagnation or more highways. It's going to take plenty of buses and plenty of ferries to do this job — and plenty fast," he declared.

Wornum, objecting to Leonoudakis's moves to shelve Luehring's recommendation, said that any further delay would "destroy the credibility of this district."

The subsidy for the Tiburon feeder bus, at $15 an hour, will be almost $3,000 a month, Luehring estimated. It would be operated under a one-year lease with a 30-day cancellation clause. The service includes two buses during weekday commuter hours.

The arrangement for the Mill Valley charter, or "club bus," would be with Community Enterprises of Petaluma. It also would serve Sausalito and the Presidio of San Francisco, arriving at the medical center shortly before 8 a.m. and leaving the center shortly after 5:30 p.m.

With a full bus, the subsidy would be about $150 a month, Luehring said. He proposed the experiment to see if this kind of service may be effective. It would be in addition to the regular bus system.

Firemen climbed on the church roof and searched it inch by inch. Police searched the inside thoroughly before giving the halted funeral cortege the goahead to continue.

Hamilton was fatally shot in a gun battle at a branch of the Wells Fargo bank last Monday. The robber suspect, identified as James Sanchez, 27, was wounded critically.

The 32-year-old policeman was the fourth killed in the line of duty and the seventh in the San Francisco Bay area so far this year.

Of the six previous police killings, four were blamed on deliberate terrorist executions of policemen. A San Francisco patrolman, one in Berkeley and one in San Jose were shot to death without provocation in the middle of the night.

A San Francisco police sergeant was killed last February in the terrorist bombing of a police station.

Mary Crawford, of Belvedere, a reporter for the San Francisco Examiner, said something "metallic" hit her shoe. She was 20 to 30 feet away from the door at the time.

Police later found a piece of clockwork-like spring lying in the street about 35 feet away, and newsmen said they found bent nails on the sidewalk. Another witness said, "stuff was falling all around."

Police Chief Alfred J. Nelder said the bomb was buried under the shrubbery. He said there were "no certain, concrete suspects."

"It was one of the most despicable things that could happen," said Nelder. "A man lays down his life doing his duty and we come to pay tribute to him at a mass and then someone does this.

Teens To Discuss '71 Legislature

First step toward the 1971 YMCA Model Legisiature, Feb. 4 through 7 in Sacramento, will be taken by Marin County teen-agers at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Youths interested in the educational government program will meet in the Marin YMCA, 241 North San Pedro Road, for an orientation session. Sheryl Barnard, program director will explain the WMCA's citizenship training plan.

From the participating teenagers, eight Marinites eventually will be chosen to represent the county as senators, assemblymen, aides and in other roles at the mock legislative session.

New Firm Formed

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Whittaker Corp. has formed a new subsidiary, Sciences Management Corp., with Dr. William Meng Duke as chairman, to provide management services to both public and private companies. Dr. Duke has relinquished the presidency of Whittaker to take over the new post.

Novato Juvenile To Have Hearing

A 13-year-old Novato boy was arrested yesterday by Petaluma police on suspicion of burglary and petty theft.

Tony De La Garza, 1709 Center Road, was released to his parents and scheduled for a hearing in juvenile court on Nov. 5.

Police accused him and two Petaluma boys, arrested Tuesday, with the burglary of Ken's Market, 400 Eighth Street, on Sunday night and thefts from several cars.

FROM LOW TO HIGH — Its bulk shrouded by haze, Marin County's most obvious landmark —Mount Tamalpais—looms 2,604 feet above the drying mudflats of a Larkspur fill project between Magnolia Avenue and Corte Madera creek in the background. Unlike many of California's mountains, Tamalpais is not volcanic, but has been rising from what once was ocean floor, squeezed up by the tremendous pressures that also have created the awesome and sometimes death-dealing San Andreas Fault in West Marin.

TWIN MOUNTAINS — The still waters of Corte Madera Creek provide the majestic mountain — which would be considered merely a hill in California's more rugged areas — with a twin. It was not until 1862 that two men of the state Geological Survey team toiled up its slopes and measured it. They became lost in bone-chilling, wind-driven fogs that turned into snow even though it was the end of March.

Mood Of The Mountain

Conscientious Objectors Spark Denmark's Leftists

By HILARY BARNES
London Financial Times

COPENHAGEN — Conscientious objectors to military service in Denmark —to which all Danish young men are subject—have become one of the most successful arms of the Danish radical left.

In the last two years objectors who go on strike, burn down barracks and flood the authorities with demands for better conditions have become a familiar story in Danish newspapers.

Conscientious objection played no significant role in Danish affairs up to 1960. Since then the numbers have increased rapidly, especially since 1965. About 7 per cent of all conscripts are now conscientious objectors.

The Danish Objectors' Association calculates that if the trend continues for another five years, about half of all conscripts will be objectors. If objection only doubled from the current rate it would create severe problems for defense planners when linked to the high proportion, some 25 per cent, declared unfit for military service.

The authorities have helped the trend along. Formally in law, only religious objections count, but in practice political objection is acceptable, a fact which anti-NATO groups have seized on in their propaganda (Denmark is a member of the western defense alliance.)

Objectors know that the biggest threat they pose to the defense system is indirect. In a newspaper article recently, an objector said it was the fact that traditional supporters of conscription were now wavering that was a real threat

"We are on the way to abolishing conscription. We must make sure it is not replaced by a regular army," is the latest line of the radical left.

The main deterrent to conscientious objection is that it involves an alternative service that last 16 months, while military conscripts serve only 12 months, and the more opportunist objectors seek the longer service as a way out. Life as an objector is pleasant enough. After the first few weeks, spent in barracks and working in the state forests, they are stationed out as caretakers and similar jobs at theatres, schools, and museums which cannot afford to pay the wages of ordinary civilian employees.

Objectors work under favorable conditions. Conscription has never been popular, and in a permissive society it is less popular than ever. The authorities have responded to the changed attitudes. Danish soldiers may wear their hair long and off-duty discipline is lax. One can see long-haired conscripts sitting in public singing "We shall overcome."

The political climate in Denmark has never favored the spending of money on defense, and today the air is thick with proposals for defense reforms which would make defense cheaper, less effective—and more popular.

The most important of these proposals has come from the opposition Social Democratic Party, in office for 15 years until 1968, and the country's largest political party.

It wants conscription cut from 12 to five months, the conscripts forming local defense units only. The present standing army of about 13,000 men, mainly formed by conscripts, would be cut to an army of 7,000 regulars. The air force would have its air strength cut from 112 to 72 planes, all of them Swedish J 35 Draken fighter-interceptor type. The navy would lose its two fast frigates and four submarines and its biggest ships would be missile-bearing Motor Torpedo Boats. At the moment it has 18 MTB's not equipped with missiles.

The Social Democrats sent their proposals to NATO's northern command for comment, and were told that Denmark would not be able to fulfill its NATO role if the plans were adopted. Defense spokesman Kjeld Olesen was unabashed. "We are not going to be told what to do by the generals," he told the party congress. "the organization of the defense system is a political decision."

JESSE UNRUH, Democratic candidate for governor, responds to a question from Duston Harvey, UPI San Francisco bureau. Through this kind of "oral examination", issues are brought into focus, opinions sharpened, and the voter is provided a basis for comparing candidates, and finally, establishing his own position at the polls.

Harvey, a trained observer of the political scene, reports for United Press International which in turn reports for the Independent-Journal. In a very direct sense, as with all reporters, Harvey is your "lieutenant of the news" . . . your personal representative wherever news is made.

WHAT IS GOVERNOR REAGAN SAYING? George Shelton, UPI political reporter takes it down that you may take it in by reading the I-J. Asked to describe his work, Shelton said this: "I'm 33, and have been covering state politics now for more than nine years. After working for a couple of newspapers and graduating from San Jose State, I joined UPI in San Francisco in 1960 and was transferred to Sacramento the next year.

"I've covered every legislative session since then, virtually every state political convention and statewide candidate since 1964. I covered the '66 Brown-Reagan campaign for two months straight on the road, the '68 Kennedy-McCarthy travels and the '68 national conventions. Suffice to say, it's my life work and I wouldn't trade it."

The race

How I-J/UPI reporters & editors keep up with the candidates to keep you up on the coming election

Perhaps the most important part of the election is that you, as a free citizen, are privileged to vote. Which makes it equally important that you should know for whom and for what you are voting.

To keep you thoroughly informed the I-J and United Press International are teamed in a major effort to cover the candidates for state and congressional office. UPI reporters are also I-J reporters, an extension of journalistic manpower to the political fronts throughout California.

As the candidates race one another, eight UPI reporters "race" the candidates. As George Shelton of UPI, Sacramento, puts it: "When we staff a candidate, we stay glued to him. That's an iron-clad rule. He never appears anywhere in public, and seldom anywhere in private, unless we are there."

Which means, to you the reader, that whatever Governor Reagan, Jesse Unruh, John Tunney or George Murphy do or say, you will be informed. You will get to know them, to assess their views and their stand on issues which will require your decision. And the same for other candidates.

It's not an easy job. But a newspaper is best-equipped to do it. It has the people. And it has the print. Combined, they provide you not with surface gloss but with a deeper perspective.

And that, we believe, is as meaningful to your vote as your vote is to the democratic process.

WHEN JOHN V. TUNNEY, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate speaks, you can be pretty certain that Dennis J. Opatrny of UPI will be taking notes. On assignments such as this, Opatrny stays with the candidate . . . listening, questioning, examining, keeping you thoroughly informed.

WHAT'S GOING ON IN SACRAMENTO? What legislative actions are in process which may affect you, the Marin County voter? At right, Bryce W. Anderson, executive editor of the Independent-Journal, gets the word first-hand from William T. Bagley, assemblyman for Marin & Southern Sonoma Counties. From interviews such as this, plus long experience in evaluating the political scene, Anderson sharpens the edge of editorial comment. The purpose is not to persuade but to reveal the meaning of issues and legislative actions. And such "meaning" means a more enlightened vote and most important of all: independence of choice at the polls.

"Were it left to me to decide whether we should have government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate for moment to prefer the latter. But I should mean that every man receive those papers and be capable of reading them."

Rockefeller Signs Papers On Angela

I-J Special Report

NEW YORK — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller yesterday signed extradition papers that would send Angela Y. Davis to Marin County to face kidnap and murder charges.

The fired University of California at Los Angeles instructor and a male companion were caught here following a two-month hunt for her.

Extradition hearings must now be held to determine whether the 26-year-old Black Panther will be sent to Marin to face the charges stemming from the Aug. 7 shootout at the Marin Hall of Justice that left four dead.

Although Miss Davis was not present when Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court, two San Quentin inmates and an accomplice were shot, Marin authorities allege that she bought the guns used in the convicts' escape attempt.

Under California law a person who purchases guns subsequently used in a capital crime is guilty of the crime.

Miss Davis was arraigned here last Thursday on the murder and kidnapping charges she will face if sent to Marin.

Sausalito Ferry Hits Debris; Is Sidelined

The Golden Gate Bridge District's Sausalito ferry was disabled yesterday when it struck a heavy piece of debris, putting it out of commission for the third time since the service began two months ago.

The district rented a vessel from Harbor Carriers for the commute hour runs until its own ferry is back in service, expected by Saturday.

Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring said the accident occurred on the 6:35 a.m. run out of San Francisco, and bending three of the five blades on one propeller. The ferry continued to run during the morning commute hours, but speed had to be reduced because of vibration from the bent blades, he said.

The ferry, the Golden Gate, is being repaired in an Oakland drydock, and its repainting will be completed while it is out of the water. Luehring said. Its annual inspection, due in February, also will be done now, "so we're trading some time down then for now," he said.

The cost of the repair will be covered by insurance, Luehring noted.

The reduced service will continue the 7:20 and 8:35 a.m. runs from Sausalito and the 4:15, 5:30 and 6:45 runs from San Francisco, he said.

Citizens Rally For Rejected Park Plan

A public meeting to support the Novato Industrial Park will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at the Los Robles Mobile Home Park Recreation Center on Bel Marin Keys Boulevard, Novato.

Kidney Unit Could Yet Be Accepted

Ray K. Bollinger, hospital administrator, said today that the Independent-Journal erred in a story yesterday when it reported that the hospital had refused the machine.

The matter, he said, has been referred to the Marin County Comprehensive Health Planning Council for a decision, because the hospital board cannot act without council approval.

A kidney machine was offered to the hospital by Joseph Alvarez of San Anselmo after the death Sept. 29 of his wife, Dorothy, whose life had been prolonged by use of the machine in their home.

On Oct. 2, Bollinger told the Independent-Journal: "In our long-range plans, there is a provision for a hemo-dialysis facility, but we really at this point do not have a place to house it."

Bollinger today objected to interpretation of that statement to mean that the Alvarez machine had been refused. Acceptance, he said is being considered.

"We must make certain we can properly utilize a kidney machine before we accept it and obligate the medical staff to organize a program of care," he said.

Engineers Endorse Water Bond Proposal

Marin Municipal Water District's proposed $11.5 million bond issue on the Nov. 3 ballot, has been endosred by the Marin Chapter of the California Society of Professional Engineers.

Bill Schmidt, chapter president, said the members Tuesday night approved the long-range feasibility studies, plans to improve distribution, and water supply goals of the district.

Kuchel Hits Miller On Mailliard Record

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Former U. S. Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel yesterday accused Russell R. Miller, Democratic nominee in the Sixth Congressional District, of "a ruthless, contemptible campaign of duplicity and deceit."

Miller is challenging the incumbent, Republican William S. Mailliard. The district includes Marin South of Novato and the western portion of San Francisco.

Kuchel, in a statement released by Mailliard's campaign headquarters, said that Miller's campaign material "falsely asserted that Congressman Mailliard has opposed, among other things, Medicare, voting rights, aid to education and draft reform.

"The exact opposite is true. Bill Mailliard supported and voted in favor of these issues in the House of Representatives," Kuchel declared, adding he served with him in Washington for 16 years.

Kuchel urged voters in the district, "in the interest of good government, to reject the falsehoods being circulated against Bill Mailliard and to reelect him overwhilmingly on Nov. 3."

Teens Give $200 For Miwok Mound

Two teen-agers have donated $200 to help preserve an Indian mound on the grounds of Miller Creek School.

Donald R. Thieler, president of the Miwok Archeological Preserve of Marin, said yesterday that the gift was made by Kathy Burke, 35 Upper Oak Drive, and Mark Ward, 34 Upper Oak Drive, San Rafael.

The teen-agers, both students at Terra Linda High School, earned the money with their "thread the needle" booth at the Renaissance Pleasure Faire.

Thieler said the gift will help build weather protection over the Indian mound. The preserve association is raising funds to turn the site into an indoor-outdoor museum.

Guardrail Work Bid Slated For Nov. 19

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The state Division of Highways has called for bids to install new highway guardrail and modify existing guardrail on Highway 101 in northern Marin and southern Sonoma counties, estimated to cost $58,000.

Bids will be opened Nov. 19 for work extending from 2.3 miles north of Atherton Avenue in Novato to the Todd Road overcrossing 1.2 miles north of Rohnert Park.

Civic Center To Post Warnings

Printed notices will be posted by tomorrow at each entrance to the Civic Center buildings, warning every person who enters that he "is subject to police search of his person and packages and must produce an identification upon request."

"Persons illegally carrying weapons or narcotics into this building are subject to arrest," the notice warns.

Great Pumpkin Fete Planned For Novato

A public pancake breakfast, pumpkin competition and bake auction in a Festival of the Great Pumpkin will be held from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Saturday at Rancho School in Novato to raise funds for the Novato Jets R-ZZ 4-H Club, said publicity chairman, Janet Zumwalt.

Prizes will be for the largest home-grown pumpkins, carving and decorating pumpkins and best pumpkin in the show.

Seminar Set On Traffic At Schools

The Alto-Sutton Manor District Association will sponsor a seminar to seek solutions to traffic congestion at Alto and Edna Maguire schools in Mill Valley, the group's board of directors decided last night.

Sara S. Ruffner, publicity chairman, said the association will invite representatives of the Mill Valley School District, Cal-Fong Investment Corp., Marin County, City of Mill Valley and Alto-Richardson Bay Fire District to participate.

Cal-Fong will be invited because it will develop a 109-unit housing project in the Alto-Bowl behind the two schools.

Morning and afternoon traffic to the school already cause congestion, Mrs. Ruffner said, and the opening of the development is expected to increase the problem.

No date for the seminar was set pending notification of the agencies.

Novatan Dies In Crash Into Creek

A 33-year-old Novato woman, westbound on Novato Boulevard in heavy rain yesterday, was killed when her car ran off the road and plunged 20 feet into Bowman Creek.

The California Highway Patrol said Mrs. Ferrarris apparently was driving too fast for the rain-slick street and failed to make a curve on Novato Boulevard, just west of San Marin Drive at 6:15 p.m.

Funeral arrangements were pending today at Keaton's Chapel of Marin in Novato.

Her death was Marin's 33rd traffic fatality this year, compared to 29 at this time last year, and was the second in two days. A 30-year-old San Rafael woman, Janet E. Manerud, was killed Tuesday when she was struck by a car while crossing Highway 101 on foot.

Defendant In Scopes Trial Dies Of Cancer

SHREVEPORT, La. (UPI)— John T. Scopes, the teacher defendant in the evolution "monkey trial" in 1925, died in a Shreveport hospital Wednesday night.

Scopes had entered the hospital July 1 for treatment of what he thought was a gall bladder infection. It turned out to be cancer. He was 70.

Scopes was a young teacher at the time of the trial in Dayton, Tenn., which was designed to test a Tennessee law against the teaching of evolution. The case gained worldwide attention because Scopes was defended by famed criminal lawyer Clarence Darrow. William Jennings Bryan, a three-time presidential candidate, was the special prosecutor in the case.

Scopes had been a geologist for the United Gas Co. in Shreveport until his retirement in 1965. He is survived by his widow and two sons, John T. Scopes Jr., and William Scoves.

It took 43 years but Scopes finally won his argument that he was legally correct in teaching evolution.

A unanimous Supreme Court decision last November that struck down an Arkansas law forbidding the teaching of evolution in the public schools contained the same basic issue as the famed Scopes "monkey trial" in the summer of 1925.

Scopes was found guilty of violating the law but the Tennessee Supreme Court overruled the conviction on technical grounds and the case never reached the U. S. Supreme Court.

The trial became part of the nation's legal folklore. In the 1950s, a Broadway play, "Inherit the Wind," was based on the events in Dayton and later it was made into a movie.

Burglar Lifts Loot From Locked Locker

A burglar took $600 cash and $1000 in credit card invoices and checks from a locked locker at Sarganis Shell Service Sunday, then placed a new lock on the door, San Rafael police said today.

Teens Booked In Burglary Probe

Two San Rafael youths seen running near the scene of a reported burglary-in-progress at a bowling alley were arrested at 2:15 a.m. today on suspicion of burglary, according to San Rafael police.

Police said they arrested John L. Mott, 19, of 31 Lisbon Street, and John Lin Motta, 18, of 855 Francisco Boulevard, Apt. 2, after they were spotted fleeing down Louise Street behind the Country Club Bowl.

The night manager of the bowling alley at 88 Vivian Way told police someone had entered the establishment through a skylight, but had taken nothing.

The pair was booked into Marin County Jail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Weatherman Reported In Algiers

ALGIERS (UPI)—Algeria has granted political asylum to a young American militant believed to be Bernardine Rae Dohrn, 28, one of the FBI's Most Wanted fugitives.

A spokesman at the U.S. Black Panther Party exile headquarters in Algiers identified her as Bernardine Dohrn although there were reports it might be her sister, Jennifer, who is not wanted for any crime.

Bernardine Dohrn was sought by the FBI as a member of the revolutionary Weathermen for interstate flight to avoid prosecution for mob action, riot and conspiracy.

Algeria's latest offer of political asylum followed the arrival Tuesday of Timothy R. Leary, the foremost advocate of LSD in the United States. He escaped Oct. 12 from a California prison where he was serving 10 years for marijuana possession.

Leary, a former Harvard University lecturer, also was convicted Jan. 20., 1970, in Laredo, Tex., of smuggling marijuana into the United States from Mexico.

Under-16s Approved For Adult Library Use

The minimum age for students using the adult section of the San Anselmo library was dropped last night from 16 to 12 years of age.

Roy N. Fairchild, library board member, said today the reduction came after discussions with school officials indicated students are reading more sophisticated books now then when the former age limitation was passed years ago.

Formerly, students under 16 were required to use the library's downstairs childrens section, Fairchild said. Last night's action will permit students down to the seventh grade level to acquire a library card with their parent's permission.

Fairchild said the board also continued discussion on a recommendation to the city council for hiring a 10-hour-a-week employee at the library.

He said Lucy Palo, head librarian, was directed to continue interviewing applicants for the position and return a recommendation to the board at its Nov. 5 meeting.

Truck, Tools, Cash Are Taken

Burglars who broke into the Tam Fence Co. in San Rafael yesterday or Tuesday, took $1,500 worth of tools, $35 in cash and a one-ton truck, police said today.

Entering between 7:30 p.m. Tuesday and 8:15 a.m. yesterday, the thieves chopped open the cash register with a hatchet, then stole the tools and the truck which was locked in a fenced area of the fence company at 4486 Redwood Highway, police said.

The truck was a light blue 1966 Chevrolet, license V-71825, police said.

Student Leader Gets Jail Term

PARIS (UPI)—A Paris court today sentenced student leader Alain Geismar to 18 months jail on charges of incitement to violence.

The verdict on the third day of the trial of the 31-year old radical came as an estimated 5,000 police and gendarmes stiffened their alert in the left bank student quarter of Paris and around the Palace of Justice, where the trial was held.

Geismar, one of the leaders of the May-June 1968 student and workers' revolt, was found guilty of inciting to violence in a speech in Paris prior to Latin Quarter demonstrations last May 27.

Your kids should have the best education possible.

And in four years Governor Reagan has worked to increase State support of public schools by 43% –while calling for major reforms and realistic goals.

Here Are the Facts to Show That He Has Made Education His Number One Priority

During the first four years of the Reagan administration California's public schools have had the greatest increase in State financial aid in history.

More than $2.44 billion—50 percent of the State's entire general fund revenues—is spent on the schooling of our young people. The great part of these funds go to the elementary and secondary schools.

This is the record: in 1966-67, the State support of public schools (kindergarten through junior college) was $1.2 billion. This year Governor Reagan signed a budget which provides $1.75 billion.

That is an increase of $533 million a year—a 43 percent increase in financial support to cover an enrollment increase of about 12 percent. And, this is about $176.2 million more than the total dollar increase in school aid during the final four budget years of the previous administration.

State's Ratio of Support Has Also Increased in 4 Years

Governor Reagan supports the concept of at least a 50-50 ratio of State and local support of public schools. He is working to achieve that.

In 1959 the State's share was about 46 percent. From then until 1966-67, while the previous administration had a clear majority in both houses of the State Legislature, the State's share dropped to 41 percent.

Since 1967 that decline has stopped and under the Reagan administration, the State's ratio is pointed upward again, toward the 50-50 level.

Governor Reagan believes we must take more of the burden of school financing off of the homeowner's back through a broadly based state collected tax. We must also close the spread between the wealthy and the poor school districts so that every child will have an equal educational opportunity, and equal fiscal support.

A Need for Honest Reforms and Realistic Programs

Even though he has greatly increased State aid to public schools, Governor Reagan rejects the simplistic notion that money alone can solve all the problems of our schools. He has demanded honest reforms and realistic goals in the operations, the curricula and the programs of the system.

He created a 20-member Commission on Educational Reform (comprised of professionals and laymen) to find ways to achieve quality education, efficiently.

This year, partly as a result of the Commission's work, a major reform of California's much-criticized teacher credentialling system was enacted. The new measure simplifies —makes more relevant—the teacher credentialling system. And, it permits school districts to pick superintendents with managerial experience and ability.

Governor Reagan also signed a law restoring direct voter control of school tax ceilings, and supported and signed legislation making sex education courses voluntary.

He appointed an Advisory Council on Vocational Education which drafted a master plan to revitalize vocational-technical education;

—approved an Educational Research Commission to work with school districts to improve reading and math teaching, and —assisted in the formation of innovative bilingual teaching and textbook programs to help those children who have a language problem.

Governor Reagan Opposes Forced Busing of Children

Governor Reagan has consistently and vigorously opposed the forced busing of school children. This year he signed a major law which prohibits mandatory busing of school children without their parents' consent.

"Forcing children to be herded into buses and carted across town each day...is using kids as social pawns. It would siphon off millions of dollars which should be used for books and equipment and teachers.

"Quality education must be provided for every child —by bringing it to the neighborhood in which he lives, not the other way around.

"It will be the continuing policy of this administration to vigorously oppose—by all legal means—the forced busing of our school children."

Sonoma Hopefuls Draw Nearly Blank Audience

Sonoma County candidates offered their views in Rohnert Park last night, but few chose to brave the rain to hear them.

The candidates' night program sponsored by the Rohnert Park Chamber of Commerce drew only four persons who were not affiliated with a candidate or the press.

Even Philip L. Joerger, candidate for Southern Sonoma supervisor, didn't attend. The other five candidates presented brief talks and spent the evening trying to win each other's support.

Richard R. Day, Joerger's opponent in the supervisor's race, said his campaign was concerned basically with planned and controlled growth for Southern Sonoma.

"Up until now, Southern Sonoma has been developing by accident rather than by plan," Day said. He said he envisioned a sea of rooftops in the Petaluma Valley unless county officials begin to develop a sound plan for growth involving green belts and open space.

Day wondered aloud, "Where's Phil Joerger tonight?" and questioned whether his opponent would appear with him at any future candidate's nights.

Don Striepeke, candidate for sheriff, said he decided to give up his position with the state Division of Forestry to run for office when he found dissatisfaction among residents with the administration of the department and turmoil within it. He said he felt that a person from outside the department could better cope with internal problems.

Striepeke said that no real issues had developed between him and his opponent, Winfield Thibodeau, but that he was basing his campaign on his experience in administration and in directing large groups of men.

Thibodeau, a sergeant in the sheriff's department, said he has been in charge of the Guerneville substation since 1968 and has sen a decrease in the amount of crime along the Russian River.

Thibodeau said he would promote higher education among deputies and place emphasis on community relations, juvenile problems and drug education.

George L. Crane candidate for assessor, said he would take a strong stand with the state Legislature to give more local control of taxing to county assessors.

Crane, leader of the irate taxpayers committee, said he would bring economy and efficiency to the office.

His opponent, Ernest L. Comalli, said he had 19 years experience with the assessors department including the last four as assistant to Robert J. McMullen, retiring assessor.

Comalli said he was experienced enough to deal with all problems. He said the department had a good record he would continue and reported that 40,000 units were taxed this year with less than 1 per cent found in error.

Robbers Hit Market, Gas Station

Armed robberies, apparently unrelated, were staged at two central Marin locations late yesterday and early today, police reported.

The first was at 10:30 p.m. yesterday at the Stop and Go Market in San Anselmo where $410 in cash was taken by a man wearing a nylon stocking over his head and carrying a stub-nosed revolver.

Officers said the man entered the store as clerk Parker Sewell, 24, was working on business records at the cash register.

"Let me have all your cash and I don't want those goddamn checks," the robber was quoted by Sewell as saying.

After receiving the cash, the man described as a Negro, about 20 years of age, five feet, 10 inches tall and wearing blue overalls, struck Sewell with his fist and fled on foot from the store at 807 San Anselmo Avenue. Sewell was not injured, police said.

Attendant Warren Tadlock told police two men entered his station complaining of motor trouble in their vehicle. They then produced a pipe wrench and robbed him of $2 and the station of $1.25. They were described as caucasians about 20 years of age, and five feet, eight inches tall.

Name Is Same But With Hyphen

LONDON (UPI) — Former Foreign Secretary George Brown lefally changed his name Wednesday to George-Brown so he can be known by his own full name when he takes his seat in the House of Lords.

Brown was awarded a life peerage when he announced his retirement from politics after being defeated in last June's general election.

Inserting the hyphen into his name by deed poll means Brown can be known as Lord George-Brown and can sign his name, officially, the same as he always has done. There already is one Lord Brown.

Brown refused comment but a friend said, "He always wanted to remain plain George Brown."

Police Foil Attempt On Premier's Life

BEIRUT (UPI)—Police sources said Wednesday security units foiled an assassination attempt against Premier Saeb Salam this week by a man posing as a vegetable merchant outside the official's villa.

The sources said Youssef Anani, 22, was arrested and held on unspecified charges. He was armed with a submachine-gun when seized on Monday.

Measures B, C, H Backed By Corte Madera Chamber

Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce board yesterday endorsed Measures B, C and H on the Nov. 3 ballot.

Measure B seeks passage of a $16.9 million bond issue, and Measure C a tax rate increase of 25 cents per $100 assessed valuation, both for the Marin Junior College District. Barbara Packard, chamber manager, said the chamber board endorsed the measures after a talk by Supt. John A. Grasham.

William R. Seeger, manager of the Marin Municipal Water District, spoke and won endorsement of the district's Measure H, an $11.0-million bond issue for water district improvements.

The board yesterday also named its nominating committee for board vacancies.Named were Robert Satterthwaite of the Corte Madera Pharmacy, Richard G. Burns, a Corte Madera attorney, and Louis Malvino, a clothing store owner.

Student Leader Quits At U.C.

He said the ASUC was "structurally inadequate of self improvement" and demanded constitutional changes, including the election of officers on the basis of department or geographical representation.

Officers now are elected at large.

Only Description: Dark Shoes, Socks

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Telephone lineman David Bauer, 25, was working inside a manhole Wednesday when he felt a foot on his hard hat.

"Keep your head down and give me your money," a threatening voice told him. He handed up $8.

Meg's Midi Brings Another Big Groan

LONDON (UPI) — Princess Margaret wore another midi-length dress Wednesday and it touched off another chorus of groans from British fashion arbiters.

"Oh, Margaret! Yet again," headlined the Daily Mirror under a picture of Queen Elizabeth's sister at Heathrow Airport leaving for a trip to Yorkshire.

"Your Royal Highness, you've got to be joking," said the Sun's fashion writer.

Another fashion expert said the princess at 5-feet-1 is too short to look good in a midi. When she wore a midi last week, one fashion writer compared her appearance with that of Calamity Jane.

Warrant Issued On Drug Possession

A bench warrant with bail set at $5,000 has been issued in Marin Municipal Court for William Donald Collins, 19, of 200 Posada Del Sol, Novato, who failed to appear Tuesday for a preliminary hearing.

Collins is accused of felony counts of possessing dangerous drugs and marijuana and a misdemeanor reckless driving charge. He was arrested by the California Highway Patrol May 8 on Highway 101.

Behr For Lottery To Aid Education

Peter H. Behr of Mill Valley, Republican nominee for state Senate, today proposed a statewide lottery to raise new revenue for education.

Behr made his proposal on radio station KTIM's "Sounding Board" in a panel discussion with the other two candidates for Senate — Democrat Michael R. Peevey of San Rafael and Esther Anne Smart of Larkspur, nominee of the American Independent Party.

Behr did not say how much revenue would be raised by such a lottery, but noted that they have been operating for several years in New York and New Hampshire.

Peevey termed the proposal "a gimmick," claiming that New York last year raised only $10 million from its lottery. California spent over $4 billion last year for education, Peevey noted, adding that Behr's proposal was "terribly misleading" because it could not raise enough new revenue to make a dent in such a large sum.

Mrs. Smart said the proposal "goes against my grain."

Behr conceded he did not know how much New York raised last year through its lottery, but challenged the accuracy of the $10 million figure cited by Peevey as "neither possible nor probable."

On other issues hit on by all three candidates, both Behr and Peevey supported Measure A on the Marin County ballot and endorsed Wilson Riles for state superintendent of public instruction. Measure A calls for total withdrawal of all U.S. forces from Southeast Asia by June 30, 1971.

Peevey, however, said that Behr's Solano campaign headquarters had barred use of Behr's name in advertisements for Riles,.

Mrs. Smart opposed Measure A and endorsed Riles's opponent, incumbent Max Rafferty.

Mrs. Smart characterized herself as "the only conservative running, although I am not too happy about the words 'conservative' and 'liberal.' I'm very liberal of heart, but not very liberal when it comes to spending other people's money."

She said that the Golden Gate Bridge District's move into the commuter transportation business was "just another deal to keep the district in existence." She instead favored "another bridge or two."

Peevey said that he was the only candidate with experience in both Sacramento and Washington, D.C., having served as an economic adviser to legislative committees in both capitals. He called for licensing automobile repair garages and for instituting no-fault automobile insurance, which he said would cut rates up to 20 per cent.

Peevey stressed his long devotion to conservation causes, a point picked up by Behr. "I endorse Mr. Peevey's intentions and sincerity on environmental concerns," Behr said, "but point to my own record of performance that goes back 10 to 15 years."

Behr noted that a coalition of Bay Area conservationists this week had endorsed him.

He called for a "modest" severance tax on the oil industry, but cautioned against putting the industry in California "at an unfair competitive advantage" with the oil industry in other states. Behr said that the elimination of the controversial oil depletion allowance would raise only $25 million a year, a small amount compared with a state budget of more than $6 billion. The whole field of depreciation, including on industrial equipment, needed revision, he said.

Behr, asked about his campaign spending, said that he expected to spend "half or less" of the $84,000 he spent in the primary election. Peevey and Smart called for strict limits on campaign spending.

$300,000 Asked For 'Beatings'

OAKLAND (UPI)—A Berkeley minister and his wife filed a $300,000 suit Thursday, saying they had been "willfully, maliciously, unjustly and unlawfully assaulted" by police last July 4.

Rev. and Mrs. Richard York filed the Alameda Count Superior Court action against the City of Berkeley and policemen Carl Lipgens, David M. Johnson and Terence Bruiniers.

In their suit, they contend they were beaten when returning to their automobile after watching a disturbance on Telegraph Avenue.

No-Smoking Area In Planes Asked

SAN MATEO (UPI)—The San Mateo County Medical Society proposes a boycott of airlines that do not provide separate seating for non-smokers.

"Exposure to cigarette smoking is harmful to non-smokers," the society said Wednesday.

Dr. William Sayer, an allergist, declared for the group that "non smoking people who are exposed to cigarette smoke have been found in many instances to suffer unmistakable biological effects."

New Book Tells Sailors' Secrets

HAMBURG, GERMANY — Like to know all the hot spots for sailors at worldwide port cities? For German-speaking people, a new book makes it easy.

The "Landing Guide for Overseas," a 370-page volume put together by Hamburg's Association of German Shipowners, was actually designed for sailors. But its corps of readers may well prove much larger.

The book presents detailed information about 262 port cities in 90 different countries. With much shorter docking times in navigation today, seamen need information on how to see things rapidly and the new guide aims at filling the need.

It is written by sailors and includes a veritable treasure of important travel tips — for example, what to buy where, standard rates for various services and goods, where to go to establish contact with the local inhabitants and where to go on picnics.

Shakespearean Woes Add Up To $3,100

The Marin Shakespeare Festival has reported a $3,100 deficit for this season, despite the largest audiences in the group's 10-year history.

Coupled with the red ink totaling $10,738 the festival inherited from its nine earlier years, total deficit now stands at $13,897, he reported.

Rawnsley blamed this year's loss on the arson which destroyed almost all of the festival's costumes, malicious mischief, theft of costly equipment and an accident which sent a tree limb crashing down and ruined much of the theater's lighting.

The season, with a record $20,287 from the box office and an additional $7,946 from performances of the musical "Brigadoon" as a tenth-season attraction, grossed nearly $50,000, Rawnsley said.

Rawnsley said yesterday that he will try to perusade executive director John Brebner to reconsider his resignation presented to the board Tuesday.

Otherwise, the festival directors expect to meet Nov. 3 to begin seeking a replacement.

Brebner, in addition to his longtime efforts for the Marin festival, is active with the Players' Guild in San Francisco.

Rawnsley deplored the season's costly misfortunes, saying that a profit for the year would have enabled the board to consider hiring help to lighten Brebner's duties.

He said the board may repeat in 1971 the pattern set this year, of inserting a non-Shakespearean musical into the season's offerings. Experiments with road trips outside the familiar confines of the Forest Meadows stage also may be repeated, he suggested.

Sunday Babies Not So Frequent Now

STUTTGART, GERMANY — Traditionally, Germans have believed that children born on Sunday were destined to lead particularly happy lives. If true, the number of the country's "happies" is declining.

Once on a par with other weekdays or even above par, Sunday births now account for only 10.7 per cent of each week's new babies, according to official statistics.

Changes in hospital working routines and home life among younger couples provide the key reasons for the Sunday decline. In all but exceptional cases, hospitals no longer try to induce births artificially on Sundays —formerly, a fairly frequent practice.

The change in German home life now finds housewives doing much less house cleaning. Saturday used to be the big cleaning day and husbands didn't help. The strain frequently induced labor and women gave birth to Sunday babies.

THE HOOTS AND cries of ghosts and goblins fill the dark cells in the basement of San Rafael's old County Court House which until recently held local lawbreakers and is now a haunted house. Stopping at the first cell on an eerie trip through the former jail is David Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth B. Howard who is being escorted by Mrs. Charles Jones Jr. The scene including a huge papier-mache skeleton was created by Patricia Larson. In another scene enclosed in a fluorescent yellow spider web Mrs. Douglas Ascher stirs up a brew beneath a big spider with blinking eyes. Frank's Place is the name of the scene featuring, of course, Frankenstein who seems to have cast a spell over Mrs. Kenneth B. Howard.

LIFE HAS been exciting lately for the Rev. and Mrs. Robert H. Graham. In September they moved from Chula Vista into their new home in Novato and then left three days later for their first trip to Europe on a vacation.

They spent 10 days in England, chiefly in London, where Mr. Graham visited with his cousin, Dr. Irene Adams. The Grahams also visited his cousin Britton Adams in Northern Ireland. Then they continued on to Scotland and the Continent, enjoying Paris and Lucerne especially.

The Grahams are now back in the new Novato home and he is working to establish an Orthodox Presbyterian congregation in Novato.

Myers of Kentfield and Mrs. Charles Mercer will be among those putting their bridge-playing skills to the test for "Ladies Chicago Bridge Tournament" event of the Auxiliary of the de Young Museum in San Francisco. The tournament play will begin at 10 a.m. Wednesday at the museum in Golden Gate Park and includes luncheon for participants.

Ghosts, Witches And Demons In Town For Haunted House

A wierd assortment of inhabitants are moving into the old abandoned jail underneath the old Court House in San Rafael today, and by tomorrow they'll have fully taken it over as the seventh annual Haunted House of the Jolly Roger's Chapter of the Children's Home Society opens.

Ghosts, witches, demons and assorted ghouls will be ready to receive youthful guests beginning tomorrow at 3 p.m. in 28 professionally-decorated rooms done by chapter members and decorators.

The annual Halloween Haunted House will continue for Bay Area children's spooky fun on weekdays from 3 to 9 p.m. and weekends from noon to 9 p.m. until Halloween day itself, when hours will be noon to 6 p.m.

Last year some 20,000 persons dared to visit the haunted house, says chief witch Mrs. Charles O. Jones, Jr. of Jolly Rogers Chapter. Peter Pan Chapter of the Children's Home Society will run a refreshment booth during the visiting hours. All proceeds go directly to the Children's Home Society of California, a statewide private adoption agency.

Other chief witches for the event in downtown San Rafael are Mmes. Kenneth Howard, decorators and participating stores; Charles Massen, decorations; Douglas Ascher, publicity; Sid Stockwell, programs; Richard Miller, treasurer; Wayne Easton, posters and flyers; Robert Banfield and Phillip Roark, staffing; Noel McCarthy, tickets; James Sheaves, signs; Robert Taverna, reception; Paul Bates, prizes; Michael Winter, costumes; and John Colombo, clean-up.

The Court House jail entrance is located on A Street between Fourth and Fifth Streets, San Rafael.

Mass Korean Wedding Unites 790 Couples

SEOUL (UPI)—Church Master Sun Myung Moon asked, "Do you swear to love your spouses forever?" The answer rang 1,580 strong through the gymnasium normally used for basketball and boxing.

The event Tuesday was the wedding of 790 couples, some of them Americans. It was South Korea's largest mass wedding, and perhaps the largest mass wedding in the world.

The couples — 539 from Korea, 235 from Japan, seven from the Anited States and nine from West Germany, France, Italy, the Netherlands and Nationalist China — were members of the Holy Spirit Association for the Unification of World Christianity.

While a Korean navy band and an electric organ played wedding marches and hymns, the couples marched in, the men in grey suits and the women in white chima chogori, the traditional Korean costume. For some foreign brides it was their first time in the national dress and they looked a bit uneasy.

Hugh Spurgin, Kansas City, Kan., said he was "very happy" to be married. Spurgin, who now works for the Labor Department in Washington, D. C., said he and his bride, Miss Nora Martin, also from Kansas City, both joined the church about two years ago.

Another American, the new Mrs. Gladys K. Hoffman, 24, from Las Vegas, said "I'm very glad. It's a privilege to be here." Her bridegroom, Orthuis Hoffman, 34 also from Las Vegas, stood smiling beside her.

The grooms gave gold rings to their brides and received fountain pens as their marriage gifts. The ceremony closed with the couples singing a Korean folk song, "Arirang."

It took them another hour to file out, and then all took off in 40 hired buses for a honeymoon trip tour of Seoul and a music and dance festival.

THE COUPLES now are permitted to live together but not allowed to sleep in the same bed for 40 days.

The church, founded by Moon in 1951 during the Korean War claims to have 300,000 members in Korea, 60,000 in Japan and missionaries in 24 other countries. It held similar mass weddings in the past but none approaching today's 790 couples.

We watch out for the curves

Indeed we do, because half the race spends so much time looking at them! And if a dress, suit, or pants just happens to curve you in the right direction, then clothes will direct to you the right attention. So you see, it is a woman's world (which is softly rounded, too). With today's new more feminine styles, and our so carefully chosen selection, you will look, feel, and enjoy your natural birthright. Do come in. Explore with us the new softer geometry. With our clothes we can definitely prove that the straightest line between a bewitching "she" and an admiring "he" is — you're right, a curve!

HELEN HELP US!

Johnny Horizon Clean Up Program Set Up By Interior Department

DEAR HELEN:

Your answer to teen-agers seeking help for their anti-litter program was excellent, but let's take it one step farther:

There is an organized program — the Department of the Interior's Johnny Horizon Program — that welcomes self-starting volunteers such as the young people who wrote to you. While it's aimed mainly at public lands administered by the Federal Government, it is equally applicable to state and local parks, forests, beaches and streams.

A new information pamphlet "How to Conduct a Clean-up Campaign" gives a step-by-step outline on setting up a Johnny Horizon Countryside Cleanup. This publication and other like material are available from: Johnny Horizon Program Coordinator, U.S. Department of the Interior, Bureau of Land Management, Washington, D.C., 20204.

For two years, Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel has designated a fall clean-up month for J.H. volunteers, with excellent results. May there be even bigger response next year — JOHNNY HORIZON'S HELPER AT THE USDI.

DEAR HELEN:

There is a girl at school who has a speech impairment. For this reason she is not too well liked because the kids think she is retarded which she isn't.

Anyway, I was talking to her when a girl comes up and pushes Ann down on the cement, for no reason at all, except to show how big she is. Ann got up and ran away. When you can't express yourself very well, I guess it makes you scared. When I found her, she was crying. This has happened a lot of times before.

She's really a sweet girl, but the kids who aren't mean to her just ignore her, and that's almost as bad. Even my good friends won't be bothered trying to help her. They think I'm a dumb do-gooder.

What can be done? — CONNIE

DEAR CONNIE:

Try another approach with your good friends. Tell them every group needs a project and suggest they make Ann theirs. Then — see how much you can bring her out in a year's time. Most young people these days are anxious to get involved in worthy causes. I can't think of a better one. Can you? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I have a little problem. I have been smoking for three years and can't stop though I've tried. Actually, I want to keep on smoking, but if my mother ever finds out, I'm dead.

How do I convince my mother that smoking is okay? She thinks teen-agers who smoke are all bad. — LUCY

DEAR LUCY:

People who smoke aren't all bad, but they might be dead seven years sooner than nonsmokers — according to statistics.

Sorry . . . The only convincing I'll try is to say, "Don't let cigarettes take your breath away" — H.

One Fashion House Plays It Safe With Hemline Below Knee

(UPI Telephoto)

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI)—A fashion house that plays hemlines the safe way for spring pegs most suit and costume skirts at three inches or a little more below the knee.

Along Main Street, USA, that length never went out of style with many matrons.

The real midi, which hit some customers like a lead balloon nationwide this fall, settles at calf or below calf level. That length didn't show in the Seymour Fox collection, except in coats.

"BETTER SAFE than sorry" was a theme the designer also stuck to in colors, basic designs and trimmings for the tailored spring suits, costumes and coats.

Fox was one of the firms opening spring collections through the first full week of November for the nation's store buyers.

The suit silhouette was strictly the ever safe Coco Chanel type. Narrow set-in sleeves, collarless jackets trimmed down front, around neck and ends of sleeves with fringe in many cases. Brass buttons, single and double breasted. Belted jackets sometimes. Patch pockets, usually four, most of the time.

SKIRTS WITH these suits had that side-closure look, the fringe or trim from jacket continued down the closure panel to accent it.

Not Many Fruits And Vegetables In Abundant Supply At Markets

WASHINGTON (UPI) —USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service reports that food shoppers will find a fair supply of meats, but only a few vegetables and fruits in abundant supply this weekend.

At meat counters, in the beef line, roasts and steaks will be special offerings. And in pork, bacon, ham, roasts will be the choice cuts in best supply. In poultry, the lone item in abundance will be broiler-fryers.

BEST OFFERINGS in vegetables include cabbage, carrots, onions, potatoes, and lettuce.

In the fruit department, only apples and grapes will be in abundance this weekend.

The Department of Commerce reports canned salmon, fish sticks and portions, and canned tuna will be in excellent supply.

Foods on USDA's plentiful foods list for October shoppers are fresh apples, apple sauce, apple juice, pork, broiler-fryers, dry beans, canned peaches, canned salmon, onions, eggs, potatoes, and dried prunes.

Here is a closer look at supplies of foods in the West:

IN WEST COAST markets, prices of beef loins and large and medium eggs are lower. Smoked pork was mostly lower, fresh pork mixed.

Fryers were higher in the Northwest.

Fruits and vegetables in best supply include apples, bananas, grapes, cabbage, carrots, onions, potatoes, and tomatoes.

Seafood buys to watch for in the West, according to the U.S. Department of Commerce, are canned salmon, fresh and frozen salmon, dungeness crab and crabmeat, snapper, dover sole, and Pacific oysters.

Food And Drug Use

NEW YORK (UPI)—Children who come home to warm homes permeated with the smell of good cooking are less apt to seek sensations such as drug-taking, in the opinion of author and social commentator Sam Levenson.

Levenson, who has written two best sellers on the simple virtues of life, is working on a third book which argues that the "synthetic, automatic, electronic, noise-infested, soot-laden, oxygen-free, peace-free" atmosphere in which children are raised promotes addiction.

"A home should smell like a home," Levenson said. "Children have got to touch, see and feel that they are home. Mothering requires smothering —children whose senses come alive at home do not need to take a trip in search of what is so freely available to them.

"We need to retrace our steps to the days when this kind of home was the rule and not the exception it is today. Too many children do not come home to something cooking in the oven. Over and over they say they 'come home to nobody all the time.' "

Levenson who wrote "Everything But Money" about life in the ghetto and "Sex and the Single Child" about the basic innocence of youth, does not consider the old-style home a universal panacea. But it can, he says, help eliminate the "boredom, loneliness, sense of personal irrelevance and leisure without purpose" that plagues the younger generation.

Volunteers will sell the candy, packaged in hand puppets tomorrow and Oct. 30 near Longs Drug store in the Northgate Shopping Center and Saturday and Oct. 30 at the Corte Madera Center. It can also be purchased at the home of Mrs. George Whitaker, 18 Mt. Rainier Court in San Rafael.

The profit from one candy-filled puppet will buy one day's medication for a child with nephrosis; two bags will purchase one hour of life for a person on an artificial kidney machine; three bags will purchase one day's medication for a kidney transplantation; and four bags will alert 100 persons of warning signs of kidney disease.

Fringe Benefits Absorbed By Decline Of Dollar

Nobody needs to be told right now that inflation has cut into the dollars they earn. The 1970-71 property tax statements that went out from the county treasurer-tax collector's office the past few days have done that.

Even the tax statements, however, fail in indicate just how far the dollar has been depreciated by the constant increase of the cost of everything.

THE UNITED STATES Chamber of Commerce has done that in a recent report on "How Your Dollar is Shrinking."

The dollar of 1942 — the first year of World War II — had shrunk to 68 cents in what it would purchase by 1949, according to the chamber of commerce's study. Eight years later, in 1957, it was down to 58 cents. And this year, it is worth only 42 cents. In other words, it takes about $2.40 today to go as far as $1 went in 1942.

THEN THE CHAMBER adds its shocker: If the rate of inflation that has prevailed since World War II continues, that same dollar in 1998 will be worth only 18 cents. That means it would bear about the same relationship to today's dollar that the one you get today bears to the "hard money" of 1942.

If inflation continues at the same rate, and the federal government provides no more services in 1998 than it does now (which would mean it would have to reverse a trend that has been going on longer than the inflation), federal spending in 1998 will rise to $907 billion. And the national debt will increase to $1.7 trillion — a figure which may be more impressive when written this way: $1,700,000,000,000.

A lot of things contribute to inflation. Basically, it comes from everybody's desire to get more and more for less and less. The human animal does not seem to be able to understand that this just never happens. When you receive more money for the same goods or services, the other fellow must also get more for his. The result is simply that you wind up in constant pursuit of an unattainable goal — and unsettle the economy in the process.

ONE THING that has contributed heavily to inflation is mentioned in another recent U.S. Chamber of Commerce report, its biennial study entitled "Employee Benefits 1969."

This shows that "fringe benefits" for American employees — Social Security, unemployment compensation, pensions, insurance, paid vacations, etc. — have increased 330 per cent since 1949.

That's the period, remember, that the dollar has fallen from 68 cents to 42 cents compared with 1942.

IN OTHER WORDS the economy has had to absorb a 330 per cent increase in benefits that don't show up in take-home pay while the dollar has been declining by about half.

The fringe benefits are to provide security — for periods of unemployment, disability, old age. They also provide more rest, more vacations, more holidays for workers. All these are fine, but . . .

These fringe benefits, the chamber's study shows, now make up 27.9 per cent of employer payrolls.

And that 27.9 per cent is almost exactly the same percentage by which the dollar has declined since 1957.

This is is not to say that fringe benefits should not exist. But like other illusory "more for less" gimmicks, they have a way cancelling themselves out by the inflation they help create.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Argument Against County Measure A

All voters would welcome any solution to the war in Southeast Asia that would guarantee the withdrawal of American troops as soon as possible with the least possible casualties, the prompt return of our prisoners of war, cessation of all hostilities, and self-determination for the Indo-Chinese. County Measure "A" calling for the withdrawal of all American forces by June 30, 1971 would accomplish none of these objectives. It provides no assurance that the withdrawal would not end in a second Dunkirk. Supporting arguments in the voter's pamphlet do not even mention our prisoners. Our withdrawal by a set date would not end the war and if carried out prematurely would neither guarantee that the Indo-Chinese would get self-determination nor that they would escape other slaughters such as occurred at Hue. Moreover, the Senate has already refused to tie the President's hands with a specific withdrawal date. (The proposal for a deadline six months later than that specified in this measure got less than 40 votes.)

Answer To Taxing Problems: Annex

For more efficient lower cost administration of government for everyone in Marin County in both incorporated and unincorporated areas, would it not be more dealistic to update ourselves with the annexation to incorporated cities of the contiguous unincorporated areas? Many of them are as densely populated as the incorporated sections of geographically single communites.

For instance, the Mill Valley-Homestead Valley-Tamalpais Valley-Strawberry geographically single community, but not governmental single community. How does one tell from looking at this geographically single community where one incorporated or unincorporated section ends and the next section begins?

Why should this one otherwise modern Mill Valley geographically single community remain, as far as governmental administration and costs are concerned, the same as in the horse and buggy days of long, long ago — still under two forms of government — county and city?

Without annexation by incorporated cities of contiguous unincorporated areas, it is impossible to clearly define pertinent aspects for governmental efficiency in administration to be maximized, and the cost for government paid for in a truly representative fair manner. One instance is the matter of police protection.

Observe U.S. Day, Not U.N. Day

What temerity some of our citizenry have in requesting a contribution from the board of supervisors for a United Nations Day celebration!

The UN has not managed to halt war, punish despots, or better the lot of millions of unhappy human beings now entombed behind the Marxist-Leninist iron curtain of the world . . .

Rather, with heart and soul, let us observe United States Day.

Church Youth Day Moving Experience

Bouquets for the young people who conducted Sunday's services at the San Rafael Presbyterian Church; and brickbats to those who criticized their appearances. It was a moving experience, beautifully done, with the participants speaking from their hearts — and their heads — saying what they thought and felt, not mouthing someone else's utterances. Each was an individual and each was attired to his individual taste. Had they all been in their "Sunday best" — neat, conservative dresses and dark suits, white shirts, ties and conventional hair styles — their message that we are too much involved with material things and not enough with the spiritual would not have been meaningful. Too bad some of the congregation were so concerned with the outer appearance that they missed the point of the services completely!

Incident Provides Tragic Example

Though it at first appears quite comical, the incident in which Gov. Preston Smith from Texas was involved (Independent-Journal, Oct. 14) seems to me another tragic example of mankind's increasing inability to communicate effectively. The governor was irritated by the noise, the students outraged by a 30-year sentence given to an individual for passing one marijuana cigarette to an undercover agent.

Surely no one would disagree that it is unpleasant to speak before an audience intent on chanting their own concerns. Likewise, it would be a gross understatement to say that 30 years for passing a marijuana cigarette is an excessive penalty.

According to the article, the governor had planned to say how hard he was working to include Texas youth in his administration. Though it may not have been possible at the time, the sincerity of his intentions could be demonstrated by listening to what the students were saying, rather than taking personal offense at the noise. Young people are no less courteous than their elders, but more intense and insistent that injustices be corrected. One must dinstinguish between agitation for the sake if agitation, and anger, borne out of frustration and anguish . . .

Agnew, Like Nixon In 1958, Piles Up Credits In GOP Bank

WASHINGTON — Out of the uncertainties of this fog-bound campaign one thing seems certain: if the Nixon-Agnew strategy succeeds and the Republicans win control of the Senate and make substantial gains in the House, the swing will be farther to the right than any shift of direction in this century.

As was illustrated by an incident on Vice President Agnew's swing through Florida, it may be a sharper turn than even the architects of the strategy would like. Rep. William C. Cramer, the Republican candidate for the Senate, told an enthusiastic rally that he had once sat on the Vice President's right. And it takes some doing, he added, to be to the right of Agnew.

READING HIS prepared text, Agnew interpolated the remark that he wasn't far to the right and that he did not want to be put in any category of left or right. What Agnew succeeds in doing is to fire up men like Cramer, who outdo him in the rhetoric of the right. Cramer called for a law subjecting all federal judges, including the justices of the Supreme Court, to a review every six years. He promised as his first act, if elected to the Senate with a Republican majority, to fire Sen. J. William Fulbright as chairman of the foreign relations committee.

This last drew prolonged applause and cheers. Fulbright, school busing, crime, the news media of the eastern seaboard — these are sure-fire Agnew targets. School busing and crime in particular get the virtually all-white audiences on their feet cheering. They obviously take this as a promise of what will happen come next January.

THE PARALLEL between Spiro Agnew in 1970 and Richard Nixon in 1958 is striking. Vice President Nixon was barnstorming across the country in that congressional campaign as Agnew is doing today. The Nixon of '58 warned the voters who turned out to hear him that a Democratic Congress would socialize the country. He went so far that President Eisenhower felt compelled to restrain him.

The election that Nov. 4 was a disaster for the G.O.P. The Democrats won control of both Senate and House by the largest margins since the Roosevelt landslide of 1936.

Nevertheless, Nixon had amassed substantial capital in the Republican bank. He laid the groundwork with the party regulars for his nomination for the presidency in 1960 and, building on this base with his intensive efforts in more than 70 congressional districts in 1966, he was assured of the prize in 1968 long before the delegates went to Miami Beach.

THAT IS JUST what Agnew is doing this year. He has already gone into 20 states, some of them twice, and he will campaign in at least 10 more before election day. Win or lose on Nov. 3, he has become "Spiro the Hero," as the home-lettered signs have it, to party regulars throughout Nixon-Agnew country.

If Agnew has done nothing else, he has assured his place on the ticket in 1972. Assuming a second term for the Republicans, Agnew in 1976 will be 53 years old. A shrewd, calculating man who rarely makes any move that is not deliberate and carefully planned, he will be in a position to draw on the capital accumulated in the G.O.P. bank.

The circumstances in 1970 are quite different from 1958, when even a president who was a national hero could not provide coattails sufficiently long. The turn to the right is obvious. The Democrats are quarreling among themselves in many states, notably California. The wildly cheering rallies may not mean votes, but they mean Republican identity for the vice president and Agnewism.

Brazil's Tribes Cling To Enclaves —Just Like Those In California

By JACK COOPER

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Among the fascinating mail that comes into this office is the Brazilian Trade Bulletin, put out by the Brazilian Government Trade Bureau, a department of the Brazilian Consulate General in New York.

It's about Brazil.

We get from it our information about manioc flour and tapioca, chiclets, Brazilian block marble, imbuia plywood, and rosewood.

And we learn that a Brazilian named Katsuni Mochizuki has found out how to grow 14-pound grapefruits on his farm near San Paolo.

THERE IS SOME discussion of a 4,000-mile road the Brazilian government is to build across the Amazon country from the Atlantic Bulge at Recife to the border with Peru.

Observing that civilization with its comforts follows transportation routes, the government concludes that the reason the interior is so undeveloped and its people so poor is that much of the territory is too remote from the only present means of practical transportation, the Amazon River.

Hence the great road, and hence the article on how the government hopes to cope with the 30 clans of Indians along the route.

About 20 of these clans have had little contact with outsiders, the bulletin relates. Those who already take part in the ordinary economic activities of the region are expected to welcome the road, because it will bring good jobs and much higher living standards.

"But the rugged individualists among the Indians, who cling to the old ways," warns the bulletin, "may simply flee more deeply into the woods with resentment for the intruders."

The Apinajes, Paracnas, Araras, Suruis, Acurunas, Xicrins, Cacacoatis, and Caraibas "speak a variety of distinct tongues or dialects and refuse to have anything to do even with each other. . .

"In some cases, a clan of fewer than 100 men women and children will claim an area of 1,000 square miles as their territory, beating off trespassers from other clans."

THIS RECALLS the fierce battles of the El Monte Indians that held up the government of California's attempt to build a road from Los Angeles to San Bernardino. The tribe refused for 10 years to put its mark on a government treaty called a freeway agreement.

Or the great battle of the ferocious McClatchys, that almost succeeded in pushing a Sacramento freeway clear across a great waterway and into another county.

Or the continuing warfare of the Alioto and Christopher tribes of the great San Francisco clan, which speaks a distinct tongue and refuses to have anything to do even with the other clans around the Great Bay.

Repeated government attempts to poke a passageway through the matted and tangled undergrowth of their territory have been beaten off so that to this day this great barrier interrupts and impedes travel in the entire bay region.

Many of the rugged San Franciscos have fled deeper into the woods of Marin County, or even Contra Costa, where they are waiting for a train, but the impasse remains.

We wish our Brazilian friends better success.

Oct. 17: Bitter Anniversary For French Canadians

By PHIL NEWSOM, UPI Foreign News Analyst

For Canadians and Canadian Premier Pierre Elliott Trudeau Oct. 17 is to become an anniversary with a special bitterness.

It was the evening of Oct. 17, 1970, that the body of Pierre LaPorte, Quebec labor minister, was stuffed into the trunk of the same automobile in which he had been kidnaped a week earlier, and left for discovery the following morning along the banks of the St. Lawrence River.

It was on Oct. 17, two year earlier, that Trudeau had introduced a bill into the Canadian parliament making French and English the two official languages of the Parliament and the Canadian government.

LaPorte had become the first murder victim of French-speaking Quebec extremists demanding independence from the remainder of Canada.

THE BILL which Trudeau introduced in 1968 was a part or one of Trudeau's highest priority programs — to guarantee the language and cultural rights of French Canadians everywhere in the country and to eliminate a problem which a Royal Commission on Bilingualism and Biculturism had labelled in 1965 "a national crisis."

Trudeau, himself a French Canadian, won national office as an outspoken opponent of Quebec separatism and since has poured hundreds of millions of Canadian development dollars into Quebec province to erase the feeling among Quebecoise that they are second-class citizens.

Once a favorite among Quebec dissidents, Trudeau since taking office in June, 1968, has found himself the target of flying bottles and such epithets as "Trudeau to the gallows."

AMONG QUEBEC province's approximately five million French-speaking inhabitants, the separatists are in a minority, and in that minority is another called the "Front for the Liberation of Quebec."

It is the far-left extremist wing of the separatists which, since its first appearance in 1963, has taken credit for bombings and armed robberies that have taken six lives.

The group is said to advocate a Cuban-style revolution and is strongly anti-United States.

Montreal police say they smashed a plot last June to kidnap the United States consul-general in Montreal and that earlier they foiled a plot to kidnap the Israeli consul and trade commissioner.

TRUDEAU HAD declared his great fear that civil disorder in the United States might overflow the border into Canada. Instead, it came to him from inside his own country.

The LaPorte killing will leave deep emotional scars on the whole of Canada.

Only Solution To America's Curse: Give Away The Hope Diamond

WASHINGTON — There is a great deal of soul-searching going on in this country as to why things have gone wrong. The Democrats blame the Republicans. The Republicans blame the radical-liberals. The students blame the Establishment. The Establishment blames Doctor Spock.

The one thing everyone seems in agreement on is that we're in a mess. The only thing no one is in agreement is on how we got into it.

I CAN NOW reveal the exact date and hour when things started going downhill in the United States. I can also reveal, for the first time, the reason why.

On Nov. 10, 1958, at 11 a.m., a small brown package insured for $1 million was delivered to the Smithsonian Institution. Inside was the famous Hope diamond, a gift to the United States from Harry Winston, one of America's famous jewelers.

The Smithsonian was thrilled to have such a beautiful stone to display to the public. But what the American officials did not take into consideration was that the diamond had a curse on it — it brings bad luck to anyone who owns it.

HERE ARE JUST a few of the things that happened to people who possessed the Hope diamond:

Louis XIV gave it to his mistress, Mme. de Montespan, and immediately abandoned her. The king himself contracted an incurable disease and finished his reign in disgrace.

The beautiful Princess Lamballe wore the diamond and was beaten to death by a mob during the French Revolution. Her head was paraded before Marie Antoinette, her closest friend. King Louis XVI, who inherited the stone, and his lovely Marie didn't fare any better.

The diamond was missing for several years. Then it turned up in the possession of Wilhelm Fals, a Dutch diamond cutter. Fals died of grief when his son Hendrik stole it from him. Hendrik committed suicide.

Francois Beaulieu, a Frenchman who owned it next, died of starvation after selling it to an Englishman, David Eliason, who sold it to an Irishman named Henry Thomas Hope.

THE DIAMOND was sold at auction to Jacques Celot, a jeweler who went insane and committed suicide. A Russian prince, Ivan Kanitovski, also owned it at one time. He was, as everyone knows, stabbed to death. Catherine the Great is said to have worn the diamond, and she died of apoplexy.

After that, it was just one bad-luck story after another. One of the female owners, after living high on the hog, was reduced to working as a scrubwoman for $2 a day in a shipyard.

A Spanish owner drowned in a shipwreck. A Greek broker who sold it to a Turkish sultan was killed with his entire family when his car went over a precipice in the mountains. When the sultan gave the gem to his favorite wife, she stabbed him. The McLean family, who owned the diamond before Winston, didn't come out of it too well, either.

The Hope diamond has brought nothing but grief to its owners, and whoever accepted it on behalf of the United States in 1958 did this country a great disservice.

ANYONE WHO recalls what went on before 1958 and compares it to what is going on now knows we made a mistake.

The question is: What is the solution?

One suggestion is that we present the Hope diamond as a gift to the Soviet Union. President Nixon could drop it off on his next trip to Europe.

If the Russians refuse to accept it, there's always the Red Chinese. What better way of showing we want to be friends with the Chinese than to give it to Mrs. Mao Tse-tung to wear in her naval at the next rally in Peking Square?

Write your congressman before it's too late!

Memorabilia To Historic Society

Marin County Historical Society has been given the original volumes of county mortgage and lease records, according to Frank E. Gali of Ignacio, society president.

The memorabilia of decades-old Marin transactions was donated through action of the Marin County Board of Supervisors and County Recorder Noel T. Giacomini. County officials have retained microfilms of all the old files.

Galli reported the gift to the society in the October issue of the society's bulletin. He said the society hopes to publish the bulletin on an annual basis.

Financial needs probably will lead the society's directors to raise dues, Galli said.

THE PROPOSITIONS

Moneylending Measure Aimed At Loan Sharks

By ROBERT P. LAWRENCE
(Second of four articles)

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Loan sharks are the target of one of three measures on the Nov. 3 general election ballot affecting moneylending, interest rates and property taxes.

Sponsored by Assemblyman Charles J. Conrad, R-Sherman Oaks, Proposition 19 makes loan sharking a felony, rather than a misdemeanor. It will "strike at the second largest source of revenue of organized crime," Conrad argues.

"The poor, members of minority groups and small businessmen are the most likely victims of this criminal practice. These individuals, unable to secure loans through normal channels, fall prey to the loan sharks who may charge interest rates up to 150 per cent a week," he says.

Other money measures, Propositions 10 and 13, would exempt big loans to corporations from state interest limitations and increase the property tax exemption for disabled veterans.

Proposition 19 makes it a felony punishable by up to five years in prison for an unlicensed lender to lend money at rates over the limit for such loans.

"Why should a bank, savings and loan, or industrial loan company be able to charge people three times for their money just because the state says they can?" he asks.

"The money still comes from the pockets of low and modest income people whose only crims is not having enough money to be able to pay the sudden heavy cost of medical, home, or automobile expense."

Since the measure changes an initiative statute, it needs voter approval.

Proposition 10 would exempt loans of over $100,000 to corporations and partnerships from a clause in the state Constitution which limits the interest rate to 10 per cent. Loans by banks, savings and loan associations and other commercial lenders are already exempted.

Entertainer Art Linkletter, chairman of "Yes on Proposition 10," signed the voters' pamphlet argument for the measure, along with Assemblyman Paul Priolo, R-Pacific Palisades, who carried it through the Legislature, and Sen. Joseph Kennick, D-Long Beach.

They argue thatthe proposed amendment is needed because of the "urgency of bringing new capital into California to prevent a serious slowdown or complete collapse of the construction industry."

In 45 states loans are allowed at higher rates than in California, they say, and "if California is to be competitive in attracting investment money for real estate development, passage of this measure is imperative."

Opposed is Assemblyman William Campbell, R-Hacienda Heights, who argues "it is the consumer who suffers the most from today's high interest rates, not corporations."

"It is time for the voters to demonstrate that our concern should be directed toward strengthening the usury laws to protect the consumer, rather than catering to the needs of big corporations," the lawmaker says.

Proposition 13 would increase from $5,000 to $10,000 the property tax exemption granted on the homes of veterans who have lost the use of both legs. The exemption would also be extended to their widows.

It would affect about 860 disabled veterans, according to Syn. George Deukmejian, R-Long Beach, author of the proposed constitutional amendment.

He says that with the aid of federal funds many of the veterans have built homes specially equipped with wheelchair ramps and other equipment.

But rising property taxes have "placed many of these paralyzed veterans in such a bind that they may be soon be compelled to sell their present specially built homes — unless some relief is provided. When approved, this constitutional amendment will provide that relief." Deukmejian says.

The voters' pamphlet carries no opposition argument.

New Peugeot 304
The balanced machine.

Introducing the Peugeot 304. A car with the heart of a lion. The Belfort Lion: symbol of Peugeot's 80 years of designing, building, racing, and improving cars.

A rear-heavy car is no better. On sharp curves, the tail end tends to swing out and you lose control.

To tip things in your favor, Peugeot developed a balanced machine. There's as much weight over the front wheels as over the rear wheels. Like in super-expensive sports cars.

As a result, you get all the benefits of front-wheel drive without a heavy front end. Definitely a sporting machine.

What's more, you get a four-door, family sedan with four-wheel independent suspension, Michelin radial tires, rack and pinion steering, disc brakes, and a four-speed all synchro stick set-up on the floor. Plus spacious trunk and fully reclining bucket seats.

Peugeot 504. New more powerful engine.

Jean Stein's Clay, Mirrored Glass Decorative And Serious

By LAURA DEVENDORF

The earthiness of clay and the silvery sophistication of mirrored glass combine in Jean Stein's idea-rich exhibit, "Ceramic Reflections." These mirror and clay constructions which are being shown through Nov. 28 at Anima Munda, 352 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, bring out the better aspects of both materials. And they also prove that when an idea is good it can assume many postures from purely decorative to more serious forms.

"In mirrors," Miss Stein states, "I found a way to bring leaves and sky into rooms —an endless extension of vision."

In practice, her statement comes to mean much more than that the mirrors reflect nature literally. Each mirror's frame is also thick with a sense of natural matter. In each, there is a rawness of texture and a color as rough as earth and stone.

Wall hung and hand mirrors have eroded frames of clay built of flattened blobs or strips, some cut with a single circle or oval, others showing rows of them and still others having complex variations of these forms. Some look as though they were made from those odd leftover bits of dough which escape the cookie cutter. While others have an almost accidental natural imagery of leaflike etching or reeds and twining threads of clay growing over them.

The most abstract and purely sculptural of Miss Stein's ideas come in her pedestal mounted boxes. These neat, crisp shapes all have circular openings in their sides backed by mirrors or opened to expose a mirrored lining.

At almost an opposite pole are Miss Stein's pendants and fobs which she hangs from beaded strings. About them she says, "These tiny mirrors are amusements derived from the custom of 16th Century Italian ladies to wear decorated mirrors at their waists."

Her most serious piece, and certainly the most important one from which to grow, is a large construction built from mirror-lined frames, matted with planks and organic outgrowths of clay. Its repeating inner images suggest many, even more complex and intriguing possibilities. And while her other pieces achieve her purpose of bringing "leaves and sky into rooms," she should come even closer to the "endless extension of vision," she seeks, when she develops the mirroring images of the ceramic world she alone creates.

As good as these current pieces are, someday, they could be just a very sensitive and interesting beginning.

Hub Board Finds Small Windfall

The San Anselmo School District board, considering revisions in its fiscal 1971 budget, has discovered a small windfall of about $16,000, according to Supt. W. Kenneth Lowry.

Lowry said yesterday budget transactions showed the board had overestimated its expenses by $11,234 and underestimated its income from the state by about $4,500.

Lowry said the $11,234 comes from money budgeted for teachers' salaries and overestimates on capital outlay for equipment.

Lowry said the $16,000 was reallocated by the board thus: $4,305 for inservice education, $5,700 for instructional supplies, $3,600 for psychological services, $900 to reersves and other items totaling about $1,200.

The San Anselmo School District board also:

COMMITTEE — Asked for community volunteers for a committee to outline district education goals and programs. Service, civic and homeowners groups will be asked to submit names for the committee, which will be selected Nov. 3.

DELEGATE — Supported David D. Ring, Tamalpais Hgh School District trustee, as regional delegate to the California School Boards Association.

Jury Trial Scheduled On Marijuana Charges

A strong responsible voice for MUNICIPAL JUDGE

It's time to cut out delays in bringing an accused to trial. The strongest deterrent to serious crime is the knowledge that justice will be swift and sure. Case-weakening postponements and needless stalling benefit only the guilty. Our courts must not tolerate this abuse of our system.

It's time to make sure that proven violations of criminal law result in prompt and proper sentencing. A good Judge meets his responsibility to administer justice effectively.

Which Town Will Offer To Help?

The Marin County Juvenile Delinquency Prevention Commission yesterday appointed a committee to seek a community willing to work towards a solution of juvenile crime.

Rev. James C. Upshaw, commission chairman, said today formation of the committee was at the suggestion of the Marin County Juvenile Justice Commission because "problems can't be solved by hiring larger (police and probation) staffs."

Upshaw said the commission will seek out just one community to start an experiment to make residents aware delinquency problems have to be solved within the community with community people and resources, not solely through police agencies.

"We sense the futility of trying to solve the problems of juveniles in a delinquent society by employing more staff," said Upshaw.

The commission is not going to try to solve the drug and vandalism problems of the entire county, he said, but rather "find one community which is seeking our help."

"We want a job that is possible to start with," he continued, "one we can cut our teeth on — a situation that can be handled."

In a letter to the commission, the juvenile justice board suggested the commission approach the communities of Marinwood, Sleepy Hollow or Santa Venetia.

Upshaw said the committee, which will be headed by Natalie G. Lewis, will consider those communities but others as well.

If the commission finds a community willing to donate time and resources to work with troubled youths, the commission would then act as a guide and information source.

Demos Irate, Hit Message About Taxes

Irate Democrats charged today that the tax message mailed to all Marin County taxpayers, along with the tax bill, contains language that is "highly partisan" in favor of Gov. Ronald Reagan.

However, County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, himself a Democrat, said he believes the words "governor's tax program" used in the message merely identify particular tax reform bills and does not boost the governor's candidacy. Under that interpretation, Maloney said he sees nothing illegal in the wording.

The controversial message is a statement prepared by auditor-controller Michael Mitchell for the Marin County board of supervisors. It says in part: "It is unfortunate that the governor's tax program did not pass, which would have somewhat alleviated the situation (high tax rate). Additionally, it must be stated that, as far as the county portion of the tax rate is concerned, the board of supervisors did not raise taxes, but rather, the Legislature did by shifting responsibilities to local authorities without funds to finance those responsibilities . . ."

Democrats contend that many tax reform measures were introduced in the Legislature, and singling out "the governor's tax program" is a highly partisan political maneuver.

Maloney said he would interpret the statement as merely identifying Assembly Bills 1000 and 1001 (the govenorr's tax program, pushed by Assemblyman William T. Bagley of San Rafael) and not as a move to push the candidacy of Reagan.

"It's like saying the Collier-Burns Act helps finance highways," said Maloney. "You'd merely be identifying the act, not plugging for Mr. Collier or Mr. Burns."

Maloney conceded that a less controversial wording would have been to say, "It is unfortunate that the legislature did not approve tax reform measure Z."

Simmons Will Lead City, Town Group

Corte Madera City Councilman Robert P. Simmons was elected last night as chairman of the Marin County Council of Mayors and Councilmen by a 6-5 vote.

Simmons defeated San Anselmo City Councilman James F. Reed and will serve as the council's chairman for the next 12 months. He succeeds Novato City Councilman J. Wayne Womack.

Last night's balloting was held in secret for the first time in the council's history. In the past, balloting has been done openly.

The secret ballot precedure was adopted on a motion by San Rafael Councilman Harry A. Bargier, seconded by Larkspur Councilman Neil Brixon.

Although the count of last night's election was announced, it was not revealed which city voted for whom.

In another election, San Rafael City Mgr. James McCown was elected to the Centralized Police Services Council by a 7-4 vote over Belvedere City Mgr. William Cavelli. This vote, too, was by secret ballot.

The council also nominated Dean N. Meyer of Mill Valley, A. W. Gatov of Kentfield and Denis T. Rice, Tiburon Mayor, to serve on the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission. Since only the three were nominated for three positions, no balloting was necessary.

Prior to last night's voting — held at Corte Madera's Rafters restaurant — San Rafael City Councilman John A. Miskimen sought to change the council's bylaws to a one-man, one-vote concept rather than giving each city one vote, but his proposal was rejected by the majority of members who said it would result in a "weighted" council.

Corte Madera City Councilman Holmes S. Norville summed up the general attitude when he said: "Such a move would result in a city being penalized when some of its members couldn't show up, say, because of business committments or bad weather."

The Marin County Council of Mayors and Councilmen also:

LEASH LAW — Held over a request from Mill Valley to endorse a leash law in the county's commercial areas.

PLANNERS — Deferred action until the Nov. 18 meeting any action of suggested legislation by the city planning staff coordinating committee regarding tighter regulations on lot splits by land developers.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned the meeting until Nov. 18 when the council will meet in Fairfax.

Deputies Emerge Victorious In Drug Suspect Tussling

Two sheriff's officers trying to arrest a woman in connection with an alleged marijuana sale won out in a shoving and grabbing match yesterday with her attorney in the Hall of Justice.

Deputy Alfred Teixeira said that when he told Loretta A. Loveland, 25, of Fairfax — who was visiting the hall — that she was under arrest on the marijuana charge, attorney Marvin Cahn followed her out of a courtroom.

"I'll be her attorney," he said, and then told her to hand him her purse. A scuffle over the purse ensued, according to Teixeira, who said that he and another officer finally wrested the bag from the attorney. During the tussle he said Cahn, a portly man, jabbed at him.

A search of Miss Loveland's purse at the jail revealed nothing unusual in it.

She was booked on suspicion of sale of marijuana and possessing it for sale and posted $1,875 bail. She is to appear in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow.

Miss Loveland is charged in connection with an alleged sale which led to a raid on a Fairfax house Tuesday night where 10 adults and two juveniles were arrested.

Heroin Suspect Is Arrested

A 20-year-old San Rafael youth stopped because of an outstanding traffic warrant was arrested yesterday on suspicion of possessing heroin and having it for sale, according to San Rafael police.

After stopping David A. Fried of 225 Tiburon Boulevard on Verdi Street at 2:15 p.m .for a $46 San Francisco warrant, a police officer discovered nearby a plastic bag containing seven balloons of white substance.

Fried was booked into Marin County Jail in lieu of $6,250 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Bennett Backed In BOE Contest

WOODLAND (UPI) — Paul Leake, retiring member of the state Board of Equalization, announced today his endorsement of attorney William Bennett to succeed him.

Bennett, a former member of the state Public Utilities Commission, was opposed in the Nov. 3 election by Ernest Kettenhofen to replace Leake as the 3rd District representative.

Bennett is a Kentfield Democrat and Kettenhofen a Republican.

Youth Luau At Marinwood Friday

Samoan knife dancers, Tahitian, Maori and Hawaiian dancers will perform at the Marinwood Community Center at 7:30 p.m. Friday, at a luau for youngsters from 5 years through teen-age.

The "Keiki Luau" will celebrate the community center's fifth anniversary.

The community center staged a similar luau for adults last weekend, and reported it was a full-house success.

Parents may make reservations for their youngsters by calling the community center. The luau is open to all Marin youth.

What's In A Bottle Of Beer? Nothing For This Collector

By LARRY MOWELL

To most people the most desirable element of a bottle of beer is the liquid inside. To Barry Simpson, 16, the container is what counts.

Not old enough to put his money on the bar legally, the San Rafael High School junior has contented himself with gathering about 1,000 bottles and cans dating back to the last century.

Sitting in his bedroom at 93 Jewell Street, San Rafael, surrounded by his containers, Whitbread Brewmaster coasters, Kirin Beer ashtrays, Blatz Beer placards and books of matches from pubs and beer joints like Maxie's Gyp Joint in Benicia, Barry to of amassing the treasures stuffed into his room during the last year.

While visiting a friend in Omaha, Neb., in the summer of 1969, he noticed a display of five or 10 bottles his friend had collected.

That set him to scouring the countryside for Happy Hops lager beer bottles made for Grace Brothers of Santa Rosa, Volga Beer bottles from Red Bluff and pre-1900 Olympia bottles as well as modern brands.

"It became so much fun that we did it all the time," Barry said.

Most of his older bottles of John Weiland of San Jose, Acme Beer of San Francisco and Grace Brothers were discovered during an August trip to the demolished Grace Brothers distillery in Santa Rosa.

To take home the 300 different bottles, he said he had to hitch-hike to Santa Rosa and back five times.

One of his prizes, an Olympia beer bottle made between 1896 and 1900, was found after digging deep into a pile of rubble.

He said he has developed a sleuth's eye for traces of key finds usually hidden in abandoned dumps.

His search for new and different labels and shapes also leads him to breweries and old bars in San Francisco.

Age hinders the hunt in these quarters, however. "We walk by, see a display of old bottles, start to walk in and 'Out', he said, imitating a bartender.

Rummaging through roadside litter, dumps, decaying beer joints and distributors has produced one of the first Budweiser cans — one made in 1936 — and a Rainier Ale can of the same vintage plus an ABC Supreme bottle with a neck label which heads "Buy U.S. War Bonds".

Although successful in finding Western beer containers, he had to use other methods to augment his foreign section.

Eighty-six other bottles and cans were obtained more routinely, he said. He paid an adult friend $26 to buy the various brands. The friend, of course, drank the contents "with a little help," Barry said.

He used to go collecting about three times a week, but as the collection has grown his hiking efforts have slackened.

Though he goes on field trips less often, he said he is still on the lookout for new specimens. When his parents visited New York City recently, he asked them to bring him a Schaefer's beer can.

He said he also writes to breweries and looks in old magazines searching for new specimens.

With his collection now including a specimen of every brand of beer he knows of made in the state since 1930, Barry has turned his efforts to the San Rafael Beer Club.

Since collecting the waste products of bygone drinking bouts isn't yet as popular as football and home cooking, Barry's club has only one other member, 14-year-old Jeff Cooper, a fellow student at San Rafael High School.

What will he do with the cases and cases of beer cans and bottles in the future? He talked dreamily of a museum for his collection and continuing to collect when he is 80.

Drama Season Opener Is Set

A contemporary version of "Peace" by Aristophanes will open the fall drama season at Sonoma State College next Thursday.

The 6 p.m. performances will be held outdoors on the quad of Stevenson Hall on Oct. 29, 30, and 31.

Under the direction of William Sherman, theater arts chairman, 20 students will present the Aristophanes' satire on destruction and the futility of costly foreign wars.

The production will include music and a buffet feast for both the actors and audience. Tickets may be reserved by calling the Department of Performing Arts.

Strawberry Cove Still Needs Shoreline Permit

The Independent-Journal incorrectly reported yesterday that Strawberry Cove Apartments received the final go-ahead Tuesday from the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

The developer still must secure a permit from the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, which has jurisdiction over a band of shoreline to assure public access to the bay.

An unresolved question, according to BCDC sources, was whether the project may in fact also need a fill permit since there is some question as to whether it impinges on the bay itself.

Today is Thursday, Oct. 22, the 295th day of 1970.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Saturn. The evening stars are Venus and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1836 Gen. Sam Houston was sworn in as president of the Republic of Texas.

In 1962 President Kennedy announced an arms blockade of Cuba after Soviet missiles were discovered on the communist island.

In 1968 the Apollo VII astronauts splashed down after an 11-day earth orbital flight.

A thought for today: German poet Painer Maria Rilke said, "A good marriage is that in which each appoints the other guardian of his solitude."

Clarification On Memberships

A story on the Marin Symphony Guild's membership drive published in the Independent Journal Oct. 7. erred in saying that memberships cover admission to the three concerts of the Marin Symphony Orchestra.

Mrs. Robert L. Schultz, guild president, explained yesterday that memberships in each of six classifications cover first call on season tickets and next year's reserved seats for both the Marin Symphony party and concert previews and admission for the entire family to dress rehearsals of the orchestra.

Complete information may be obtained by telephoning the guild office in the Ross Valley Savings and Loan building San Anselmo.

West Makes A Social Error Of Laughing Before End Of Play

How loud should you laugh when you have five trumps and a sure side trick against an opponent's slam? The latest book of etiquette advises you to limit your crowing to a sympathetic smile if you're playing against a very muscular gent or against a very able declarer. When today's hand was played, West made the social error of laughing out loud, but South laughed last.

LOW TRUMP

South won the first trick with the ace of diamonds and led a low trump to dummy's jack. East discarded a club, and West permitted himself a broad grin. This was going to be good!

South led dummy's jack of hearts for a finesse, and West chuckled happily as he won with the king. Then West led another diamond, forcing South to ruff. Now West practically danced a jig on his chair: he had more trumps than South!

A KEY PLAY

Undaunted, South led a dummy's queen, a key play. Then he returned dummy's low heart and continued to lead high hearts, discarding dummy's clubs when West failed to ruff.

COULDN'T RUFF

West couldn't afford to ruff because dummy would overruff and return a trump. South would then draw trumps and claim the rest of the tricks. When West discarded on the fourth and fifth hearts, South was able to discard three clubs from the dummy.

Now South could lead his last club and ruff in the dummy, winning the rest of the tricks with high trumps in his own hand.

MODEST SMILE

South had the pleasure of smiling modestly as he pointed out that he would have gone down if he had failed to cash one top club before leading the hearts. West would discard his club at the first opportunity, and then declarer would be unable to win the club trick that he needed for his slam.

ANSWER: Bid two spades. Despite the fine trump support and the singleton, the hand is not quite worth a jump to four spades.

Hearing Set In Marijuana Case

A preliminary hearing has been set for Tuesday in Marin Municipal Court for Robert Gerald Benson, 18, of Novato, accused of possessing marijuana when arrested Aug. 1 in a Novato apartment.

The case of a co-defendant, Glen Arthur Nichols, 19, of San Rafael, has been transferred to Juvenile court.

No charges were filed against the residents of the apartment, Francis Stephen Meagher, and his wife, Anne Christine, both 19, who were arrested with Benson and Nichols.

Brand new '70 Skylark coupes with comparable equipment such as air conditioning, power steering, V-8 engine, radio, heater, tinted glass, deluxe wheel covers, white wall tires and vinyl interiors that sold new for over $4300.

These three cars — each with slightly over 5,000 miles — are absolutely spotless inside and out. If they didn't have our license plates on these cars — you couldn't tell them from new.

The purchaser of any of these '70 Buicks picks up 4-years and 44,000 miles of the GM new car warranty. Two of these cars are gold and one is chocolate brown and all have contrasting light beige vinyl interiors. 0Z107183, 0Z107173, 0Z107182.

'Y' At Top Best Check For Aquarius

By SHERMAN WALKER

The constellation Aquarius is spread over a large section of the sky without any formation to help identify it. The most characteristic part is the small Y at the top which represents the water jar he is supposed to be carrying.

In many cultures this section of the sky was thought to be a lake. No reason has been found but a few theories have been suggested. In some countries the sun passes through this constellation during the rainy season.

To locate the water carrier in the sky, face southward at 9 p.m. and look at the region of the sky that is less than one-half of the distance up from the southern horizon to overhead.

In Egypt there were legends that the floods of the Nile were caused because the water carrier dipped his water jar into the fountain that fed the Nile and caused it to overflow.

Practically all of the fish or animals of the sky that are associated with water are in this area. Hydra, the Sea Serpent, Cetus, the Sea Monster, Delphinus, the Dolphin, Pisces, the Fishes and so on. This agrees with the idea of Aquarius being a lake.

On the western side of this figure there is a misshapen dipper which supports the water idea. At the junction of the bowl and handle is a famous star called Sadal Suud (Beta Aquarii). Its name means the Luckiest of the lucky.

Travelers Say Tanks On Syrian Frontier

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Travelers arriving in Beirut today from Damascus said an armored buildup is taking place near Syria's southern frontier with Jordan, buti t was not known if the tanks were from the Syrian army or manned by Palestinian guerrilla units.

One European who drove from the southern border town of Derra to the Syrian capital late Wednesday said he met 21 tanks loaded on transporters heading south. He said the tanks, in groups of six, were still leaving Damascus as he entered the outskirts of the capital.

There was no indication the tanks planned any attempt to cross the border, and some military sources in Beirut said it was possible they were making a show of force on the Syrian side of the frontier following clashes in north Jordan between guerrillas and King Hussein's troops.

Brig. Abdel Hamid Hilmy, Egyptian chief of the Arab Truce Commission, and a spokesman for the Palestinian Central Committee, denied that any Syrian troops or guerrillas had crossed from Syria into Jordan. The spokesman also denied any Syrians had crossed into Jordan during the civil war.

Syrian tank units entered Jordan during the recent civil war, almost provoking U.S. and Israeli armed intervention. The use of tanks to aid the guerrillas also provoked a serious government crisis in Syria between civilian and military wings of the ruling Baath political party.

Travelers reported strict security on the outskirts of Damascus and persistent report that the Syrian-backed Al-Saiqa guerrillas were being subjected to severe checks at roadblocks. The Saiqa guerrillas have close links with the Baath civilian wing which is reported losing ground in Syria's internal power struggle.

In other Mideast developments:

—Egypt's new government under President Anwar Sadat mapped plans for a program that would put the people first including improved public services and methods of solving the problems of ordinary people. Premier Mahmoud Fawzi was named to head the planning and economy committee.

—Israel said an Israeli army patrol opened fire on a group of curfew violators who ignored an order to halt in the Gaza Strip Wednesday night. A spokesman said one woman was killed and five persons with her were arrested for questioning.

—The Lebanese 99-man Parliament gave a vote of confidence today to the newly formed 12-man cabinet of Premier Saeb Salam.

LAW IN ACTION
From the State Bar Of California

Jail Sentence Without Trial

A person can be penalized without a trial if he is guilty of contempt of court: if he does something or fails to do something which tends to hold up, embarrass, or keep a court from discharging its duty. Lawmakers can limit how a judge may punish a person guilty of contempt.

As a rule no judge can impose punishment for public criticism of his actions. Such criticism is free speech, our courts hold, and rarely is it an "imminint peril" to the due administration of justice.

Judges and courts are "public figures or public institutions" which are properly subjected to comment. As one court held, the law presumes a judge can take it and has "the judicial stamina, backbone, and fortitude to withstand criticism."

The judge has summary power to keep order, and, if need be, to punish those who create disorder, but is always subject to review by a higher court. As a rule the judge warns offenders before he holds them in contempt.

Writing a nasty letter to a judge accusing him of corruption may be contempt. In one case a defendant yelled at the judge, "Cardinal Mindzenti received a fairer trial from the Russian Communists than I received from this court." The judge held him in contempt. In still another, the judge saw a bailiff making love with a woman juror. He ordered the bailiff to lock himself up or pay a big fine.

A tardy witness, juror, or lawyer is in contempt. At most, California courts can sentence a person to five days in jail and fine him $500. The penalty can be greater, when, for example, a defendant defies a court order. Thus the court may order a husband to get a job and support his children. If he willfully refuses, the judge may order him put in jail until he decides to obey.

Federal law allows punishment of 6 months in jail for contempt. There is a pending question whether such a person is entitled to a jury trial before he can be jailed for 6 months or longer. (Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.)

Sides Rest In Brodnik Case

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — After 58 days of arguments, both the defense and prosecution rested their cases Thursday in the trial of six youths with Spanish surnames who are charged with murdering a policeman.

The six are accused of killing patrolman Joseph Brodnik on a San Francisco street while he and his partner, Paul McGoran, were conducting a stolen property investigation.

Before the jury was dismissed until next Monday's closing arguments, the defense by subpoena brought out that a prosecution witness, David Caravantes, had been granted a favor by the district attorney's office.

Police Seize 176 Pounds Of Hashish

ROME (UPI)—Police seized 176 pounds of hashish addressed to an African diplomat Wednesday night in what officers said was the breakup of an international drug smuggling operation extending from the Middle East to the United States.

Police said the top grade Lebanese hashish was in four suitcases addressed to Fulton Dunbar, 32, third secretary of the Liberian Embassy in Rome. Police said the hashish was only passing through Rome and ultimately destined for the United States.

Ladies' Hats For Winter Are Smart, Not Extravagant

DUESSELDORF, GERMANY — Smart, but not extravagant. Those are the key marks of headwear for the coming winter collection by French designers.

Choice selections were recently modeled for trade experts here and in Cologne in a sneak preview.

By and large, the collection consists of three lines — the Casatschok (named after one popular dance form), the Charleston (bringing a second into play) and the sporty, elegant Spanish look (which was left out of the dancing word play).

Gunmen Critically Wound Commander Of Chile's Army

SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI)—Gunmen shot and critically wounded Chilean army commander Gen. Rene Schneider today in an apparent assassination attempt just 48 hours before Congress was to confirm Marxist Salvador Allende as president.

The army chiefs of staff met immediately after the attempt on Schneider and it appeared likely that a military alert or a declaration of some form of military law would be applied until after the congressional vote.

Schneider was rushed to a military hospital for emergency surgery. An army high command communique said he was in serious condition. Lame duck President Eduardo Frei and Gen. Vicente Huerta commander of the Carabineros national police, rushed to the hospital.

Later, Allende went to the hospital for a first hand report on Schneider's condition. He condemned the attack and warned that if immediate steps are not taken, there will be more assassination attempts.

Political sources said they believed reports of a meeting between Allende and Schneider was the motive for the assault. Schneider formally denied the rumors but hardline military officers consider it a form of "moral cowardice" for an officer to appear to seek political favor with future presidents.

It was the first actual political assassination attempt —if that is what it proves to be —of the embittered electoral campaign and its aftermath. Police said they had no immediate clue as to the political orientation of the assailants.

Police said Schneider was shot in the neck but Christian Democrat Sen. Juan de Dios Carmona, a former defense minister, told newsmen at the hospital Schneider received three revolver bullets—in hte neck, the lower abdomen and in the arm—and that doctors were optimistic because no vital organs were hit.

U.S. Rebukes Communists For Threadbare Propaganda Slogans

PARIS (UPI)—U.S. Ambassador David K. E. Bruce told Communist negotiators today the United States was ready to discuss an eight-point Viet Cong peace proposal a s well as a plan set forth by President Nixon but that the Communists were resorting to threadbare propaganda.

Bruce's statement deploring the lack of "reasoned discussions" followed a Hanoi charge at today's negotiating session that the Nixon plan refused to negotiate a complete withdrawal of U.S. troops but instead was aimed at a prolonged American occupation of South Vietnam.

Bruce, for the second consecutive week, told newsmen after the session that "we of course do not take these hasty generalizations (by the Communists) as their final answer."

Instead of joining in a search for a negotiated settlement at the peace table, Bruce told the Communist negotiators, "Unfortunately, you have chosen instead to denounce the President's proposals in their entiretly, resorting to threadbare propaganda slogans rather than engaging in reasoned discussion."

Calling the Communist response "flatly negative," Bruce said, "Your continuing reiteration of your own one-sided demands and preconditions, constitute a disappointing and unreasonable attitude. They show clearly the contrast between our respective approaches to these talks and which of the two sides at this table truly desires an early and honorable end to the war."

However, Bruce made it clear the United State is ready to discuss the Communist proposals as well as its own if the other side shows a willingness to negotiate.

"We intend to pursue our proposals vigorously as the basis for serious negotiations," he said. "We are also prepared for serious discussion of the proposals you have made as well as your own proposals."

Hanoi negotiator Xuan Thuy said Hanoi still "entirely rejects" the Nixon plan.

He said Hanoi rejects the Nixon plan because not only has Nixon stood fast on a position already rejected by the Communists but "he has this time linked the question of the withdrawal of GIs to an over-all settlement of the Indochina problem."

"That is why the new element in the proposition of Mr. Nixon resides in the fact that he has added a new condition for the withdrawal of troops, all the while maintaining the criteria already put forward," Thuy said.

"Thus, this fact alone suffices to unmask Mr. Nixon's intention to leave behing an important portion of American troops for a prolonged occupation in South Vietnam."

Two Youths Plead Guilty In Burglary

Two 19-year-old youths charged with burglarizing a Tiburon residence April 1 as well as concealing stolen property from the home pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to the stolen property count.

Changing their pleas were Stephen John Pappas, of San Francisco and Arthur George Metzger of no known address. Metzger also pleaded guilty to the second degree burglary of a Panoramic Highway residence last December.

Judge Jospeh G. Wilson sentenced Pappas to six months in jail to run concurrently with a term he is serving in San Francisco.

He referred Metzger to the probation department for a pre-sentence report and set sentencing for him for Nov. 25.

The two youths and a third 19-year-old, Reade Collins Backer of Ross, were arrested when a deputy sheriff noticed their car being driven erratically on Tiburon Boulevard.

Backer earlier pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor count of receiving stolen property and was given a jail sentence.

All three told the deputy they were heroin addicts.

THE MIND DRUGS

Controversy Grows Over Injections Among Children

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

The controversy over school children being treated with mind drugs by duly qualified physicians stirs unease in many medical statesmen and scientists.

Each year additional thousands of patients, including no small number of children, are being medicated with mind drugs. It is a fertile field for misunderstanding, errors in medical judgement, and attacks on the profession.

Mind drugs sales are a sizeable and growing part of total medicinal drug sales. They have been developed, in the main, over the last 15 years. There are now 62 of them but many are derivitives of others or near duplications or combinations. In 1968, the last year for which reliable statistics are available, $416,798,000 worth were prescribed.

The first ones were to control symptoms of severe mental illesses in hospitalized patients, and they have been phenomenally successful. Spurred on by that, pharmacological scientists developed the tranquilizers, less potent drugs for now-and-then mentally distressed persons who are not ill in any definable sense beyond that of mild neurosis. They include almost everyone.

These are the antianxiety, antineurosis and antidepression drugs. Any qualified physician can avoid their side effects, including addiction, by regulating dosage and watching over his patient with an eye toward timely withdrawal of the drug.

As everyone knows, anxiety and depression come to all of us when personal circumstances bear down heavily. Extreme and continuous anxiety and depression call for the specialized attention of psychiatrists.

Less extreme and more transient anxiety and depression are treatable by any doctor, by psychological as well as by medicinal means. Perhaps a doctor isn't needed at all: How very helpful sometimes are the sympathetic clergyman, the warmhearted friend, the understanding spouse, the passage of time.

That fact is at the root of the growing unease among medical statesmen and scientists as more and more doctors prescribe more and more mind drugs. They wonder how many are careful to prescribe only when the patient's distress really requires the use of drugs.

They wonder how many doctors limit drug treatment and make sure the patient doesn't become addicted. There are many small signs that countless persons are addicted to certain tranquilizers.

And what about advertising? Are doctors being egged into injudicious prescribing by the lavish ads of mind drug makers that blanket medical publications?

The advertising is technically excellent in its persuasive powers. Example: Picture of a serenely composed telephone operator at work. Text: "Inner calm. Better outlook. She's back on the board again, relieved of the excessive anxiety that has been keeping her from concentrating, decreasing her efficiency. Now — calmer and less preoccupied with emotional symptoms — she is once again able to perform at her usual capable level."

Another example: Picture of a frenzied, cigar-chewing, coffee-gulping, doughnut-munching business executive barking into a telephone. Text. "Frantic emotions. Frenetic stomach. Two good reasons for prescribing Librax. In a stressful situation this gastritis patient's anxiety helps produce and exacerbate a seething, churning acidulous stomach."

All this advertising is entirely proper, and the advertised drugs have been proved both safe and efficacious when correctly prescribed and taken. There is also no question that the advertising is effective. Drug trade authorities estimate the annual sale of mind drugs are well above $500 million, up some $80 million since 1968 — and that the annual advertising costs are around $20 million.

Mounting drug abuse is a popular symposium subject. In New York 1,400 doctors turned out recently to hear and question five well-known authorities, Drs. Donald Louria, Sidney Cohen, John Kramer, Soloman H. Snyder and Niles Bejerot.

The experts urged practitioners to unfailingly write "nonrefillable" on all prescirptions for mind drugs, so patients can't kept on supply themselves after doctors have taken them off medication. They were also urged to be sure the anxiety or depression justifies prescribing and to follow patients alertly through the course of treatment.

It is well know that "minor tranquilizers" and other legitimate mind drugs, especially the amphetamines and the barbiturates, figure in illicit drug traffic and are freely available, without prescription, to anyone who knows his way around.

Careless prescribing is to blame for only a small part of that. Carless and-or unethical druggists and manufacturers are blamed for a much larger part. Recently Dr. Charles E. Edwards of the Food and Drug Administration charged that some manufacturers of amphetamines produce much more than legitimate medical practice requires and thus encourage their illicit use.

On the other hand, leaders in the prescription drug industry, notably Smith Fline & French Laboratories and Pfizer, have expensive and aggressive programs to curb drug abuse.

The Food and Drug Administration is helping through its power to regulate the advertising and prescribing of medicinal drugs deemed unsafe or not efficacious. By recent order the prescribing of amphetamines was limited to three disorders. One is "behavioral disorders in children" which was the reason for prescribing them in Omaha. They can no longer be promoted as antidepressants.

FDA is also reducing the promotional claims for meprobamate, (trade-names: "Miltown" and "Equanil,") the "minor tranquilizer" best known to the public, and it is expected to soon limit indications for some of the others.

One claim for meprobamate which is now forbidden, and for several others is that they make the abstaining alcoholic less anxious and thus help him to stay on the wagon. In his expert review, Dr. Hollister said: "The early enthusiasm for antianxiety agents as interval treatments for alcoholics has been tempered by the fact that it is relatively easy to convert an addict from one drug to another."

Quentin Storekeeper Injured In Accident

A storekeeper at San Quentin Prison suffered broken ribs in an accident at the warehouse shortly after 1 p.m. yesterday.

Associate Warden James W. L. Park said that Neil V. Stone, 63, of 130 Wilson Street, Petaluma, was caught between a backing truck and a doorway. Stone was taken to Marin General Hospital, where he was reported in good condition today.

Alquist To Speak At College Of Marin

Sen. Alfred E. Alquist of San Jose, Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, will speak at 10 a.m. Monday in the theater of the Fine Arts Building at the College of Marin.

His appearance will be sponsored by the Marin Peace Coalition.

Biologist Protests State Nod To Abalone-Hunting SCUBAers

A College of Marin biology instructor has charged that state Fish and Game Department recommendations to open the north coast to SCUBA divers seeking abalone will mark the "beginning of the end" of the shellfish in California.

In a letter this week to the fish and game commission, Dr. Gordon L. Chan said the department's recommendation was caused by "Small pressure groups of divers" who want to take the shellfish in shallow waters.

The marine biologist urged the commission to reject the department's recommendation during its meetings from Oct. 30 to Dec. 4.

"We have very little time to stop this," Chan told the Independent-Journal. He said the only way might be a massive letter campaign to the commission before it begins hearings on the question.

In his letter to the commission, Chan said fish and game regulations should be more restrictive, rather than liberalized, on the harvesting of abalone.

Besides recommending the commission not open the North Coast to the hunting of abalones with SCUBA gear, Chan registered disapproval of another recommendation which would open the abalone season all year. (The season is now closed, January through March.)

"I cannot conceive why the commission would even consider, or for that matter, vote for such recommendations that would deplete in a few short years a valuable natural resource of the north coast," Chan wrote.

Chan said his marine studies show abalones are in greatest abundance along the north coast (Fort Bragg to Eureka) at depths between 10 and 20 feet.

He said scuba diving at such shallow depths would quickly deplete abalone colonies. "Let them (SCUBA divers) free-dive for their food," Chan said.

Chan also predicted that once the north waters are opened to SCUBA divers, it won't be long before commercial diving is permitted. "Instead of supporting a maximum sustained yield of this organism, more permissive legislation will doom this natural resource into extinction," he wrote.

Such is the case in Southern California, where the effect of commercial divers, SCUBA sport divers and natural predators has reduced abalones to a point where they are "in the realm of being classified as uncommon," Chan asserted.

Guilty Plea Entered On Weed Possession

Mitchell Andrew Howie, 20, of Tamalpais Valley, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of possessing marijuana at his home Sept. 30. A preliminary hearing was set for Nov. 24.

Howie was arrested after a deputy went to his house because of neighbors' complaints about loud music. After the officer smelled what appeared to be burning pot, he returned with a search warrant and found a box of suspected marijuana.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

Sometimes A Foreign Body Will Develop Within The Abdomen

Van Dellen

Now and then a foreign body develops within the abdomen. Several years ago a 33-year-old woman from Atlanta developed pain in the lower abdomen that was attributed to an ovarian cyst. Nothing was done because the pain subsided. And prior to the episode, she had three children via normal deliveries.

Two years later, the pain returned, and X-rays showed a stony mass in the left pelvic area. Repeated X-rays showed that it moved slightly. Surgery was advised and when the abdomen was opened, there was no left tube or ovary. On searching further, a "stony" ovarian tumor was found high in the abdomen. It had broken away from its mooring in the pelvis and was floating in the abdominal cavity. Fortunately, the lady made an uneventful recovery.

A GROUP of Palo Alto, Cal., dermatologists treated three individuals who developed a rare skin infection from tropical fish acquariums. The victims told of developing a cut or abrasion shortly before the onset of the eruption. Two of them cut their fingers while cleaning the acquarium. Apparently, the fish were infected with M. marinum.

The eruption consists mainly of numerous ulcerating nodules on the hands and arms which had been submerged into the tank after the person was cut. An unusual feature of the report was the rarity of the disease, considering how popular home fish tanks are.

PEOPLE WHO fear flying may be interested to know that a new organization has been formed to offer them help. According to Family Health, Fly Without Fear, which was founded in New York City, is expanding to other cities. Most of the victims also are fearful of heights, elevators, bridges, tunnels, and narrow places; they pay a heavy price for their phobia when travel is a big part of their jobs. Members find that their anxieties are not unusual and more common than believed. For a fee, the member attends several sessions that culminate in a group flight on a commercial air liner.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal).

VITAL ORGAN CONGESTION

REPLY

Viscera are the large organs within the abdomen. Congestion or too much blood may stem from inflammation, blockage of the return flow of blood to the heart, or from remaining on the feet too long (postural). Pelvic congestion occurs in women prior to menstruation due to glandular influences.

BORIC ACID

F.H. writes: I use boric acid quite often and was told by someone who should know that boric acid is harmful to the kidneys. Please advise.

REPLY

Boric acid no longer is used because it is not an effective antiseptic. Furthermore, many children have died when they drank it by mistake.

HEPATITIS AND PREGNANCY

REPLY

No. We assume she did not have hepatitis in the first three onths of pregnancy.

WOMAN LOOKS OLDER

Mrs. J. P. writes: Why does a woman in hre 30s and 40s always seem to look older than a man the same age?

REPLY

Agnew Tags Another Demo As One Of Those 'Radicals'

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (UPI) —Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, starting another cross-country campaign tour, said today "a little band of unwilling men who dominate the opposition Congress" has been fighting the Nixon Administration every step of the way.

"In the last six weeks I have been moving quietly about the country, suggesting softly to American voters," Agnew said, "that the time has come to rid Congress of the radical liberalism that is deliberately and consciously frustrating the mandate the American people gave President Nixon in the fall of 1968."

Agnew applied the "radical liberal" designation to Rep. John C. Culver, the only Democrat in the Iowa delegation in the House of Representatives. He endorsed the candidacy od Republican Cole McMartin, a broadcast newsman, and said "any television newscaster who gets my endorsement has got to be quite a guy."

Agnew said Culver "does not speak for Iowa." He compared Culver with other political figures "who do not speak for their people at home because they are too busy reflecting the political views of their soulmates in Georgetown and Manhattan."

"Respect for America, respect for law, respect for the dollars you earn—that's what this administration has been fighting for," Agnew said in prepared remarks.

Agnew was to speak in Tucson, Ariz., later in the day, and in Hartford, Conn., Friday, and return to Washington Saturday.

Violence In Middle Class Pointed Up

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Two University of California sociologists report a survey has convinced them middle class Americans are just as violent as poorer ones.

"The middle class is not only as likely as others . . . to have engaged in physical aggression, but to have done so as often," Rodney Stack and James McEvoy said in a report made public today.

"If anything, the middle class is more prone toward physical assault (punching, beating, slapping) than the poor'" they added.

Police statistics indicate more violent family arguments and other hostility among the poor, but the sociologists doubted that, too.

"We suggest that altercations among the poor are simply more likely to become police matters, that the middle class persons have recourse to friends and professional counselors," they noted.

They also said that "the privacy of the middle class lifestyle preserves an illusion of greater domestic tranquility."

The survey for the National Commission on the Causes and prevention of Crime also showed that a fifth of all Americans approve of wife slapping "on appropriate occasions."

—58 per cent agree that "human nature being what it is, there must always be war and conflict."

Asked how they would react if the "government has just arrested and imprisoned many of the Negroes in your community even though there had been no trouble," only 18 per cent said they would protest non-violently and 9 per cent said they would react violently.

Stack, who works on the Berkeley campus, and McEvoy, who is at Davis, said they had questioned 1,176 persons late in 1968. Theirs was a "representative national sample of adult Americans," they said.

Sevareid Replies To Opinion Critic Agnew

NEW YORK (UPI)—CBS newscaster Eric Sevareid, in a reply to Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's commentator examination proposal, said Wednesday if people didn't know where he stood after 30 years in the business, he could not see how examinating "government types would solve the supposed riddle."

Agnew, mentioning Sevareid and Howard K. Smith and Frank Reynolds of ABC, proposed Tuesday in Chicago government officials examine news commentators to determine their "opinions and prejudices."

Sevareid, on the CBS Evening News with Walter Cronkite, said Agnew's "phrase, 'people of that type' hurts a bit; we certainly don't think of Mr. Agnew as a type; we think he's an original."

"What really hurts," Sevareid said, "is the thought that maybe nobody's been listening all this time.

"If after some 30 years of thousands of broadcasts, hundreds of articles and lectures and a few books, one's general cast of mind, works and all, remains a mystery, then we're licked and we fail to see how a few more minutes of examination by government types would solve the supposed riddle."

"Mr. Agnew wants to know where we stand. We stand—or rather sit—right here, in the full glare," Sevareid said

"We can't use invective and epithets, can't even dream of impugning the patriotism of leading citizens, can't reduce every complicated issue to yes or no, black or white and would rather go to jail than do bodily injury to the marvelous English language," the newscaster said.

"Another reason may be that we have to think our own thoughts and write our own phrases," Sevareid said. "Unlike the vice president, we don't possess a stable of ghost writers . . ."

Romney's Word To Auto Industry

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Foreign manufacturers threaten to dominate the American auto market as they now dominate the electronics industry, according to Housing and Urban Development Secretary George Romney.

"If the auto industry continues to cost themselves out of the market, they're going to find themselves in the same position as the electronics industry in this country," Romney said here Wednesday.

"Japan now controls that industry," said the former president of American Motors.

Romney, a former governor of Michigan, noted that Ford Motor Co.'s iPnto uses imports for its engine, transmission and some other components.

Intelligence Of Negroes, Genes Linked

HOUSTON (UPI) — Nobel Prize winner Dr. William Shockley said Wednesday Negroes in the North are more intelligent than those in the South and attributed it to the ratio of Caucasian genes.

Shockley said the intelligence kuotient (IQ) of Negroes may increase with the ratio of Caucasian genes to Negro genes at about a rate of one IQ point for every 1 per cent of Caucasian genes.

In a paper delivered to the National Academy of Sciences, Shockley called for more study into the possibility this thesis may be correct.

The National Academy has refused to sanction Shockley's theories or support his pleas for additional research.

Shockley said the gene which may increase the IQ of Negroes is a blood type which was missing from the original slave population but found in 43 per cent of all Caucasions.

Inherent in Shockley's presentation is the idea genetics, rather than environment, is the main factor for determining intelligence.

Shockley quoted an article by Professor T.E. Reed which said the average Negro in Oakland, Calif., has 22 per cent Caucasian genes while a survey of blacks in two Georgia counties showed they averaged 11 per cent Caucasian genes.

Shockley, who won the Nobel Prize as co-inventor of the transistor, said a study of pre-induction mental tests for persons entering the armed services backs up his contention Negroes with fewer Caucasian genes have lower IQs.

Shockley has contended for four years Negroes have inferior intelligence because of their genes and each generation of negroes is less intelligent. He claims the average IQ of Ngeroes dropped five points as compared to whites between 1918 and 1966.

McCormack, Meany Hit Economic Policy, Cite Living Cost Hike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Nixon administration insists its economic policies are succeeding despite a steep rise in the cost of living and the highest level of unemployment in almost seven years.

"I do not in any sense feel discouraged," said Paul W. McCracken, chairman of President Nixon's council of economic advisers, following Wednesday's announcement that the increase in the cost of living last month was more than double the advance for August.

House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., called on Nixon to impose the wage, price and credit controls which Congress authorized earlier this year.

"Despite all the campaign rhetoric of administration spokesmen, the truth about soaring inflation is reflected in today's government statistics," McCormack said.

AFL-CIO President George Meany called for election of a Congress "which will adopt policies and programs — despite administration opposition which will achieve full employment, fair prices, realistic interest rates and make the economy healthy again."

When the August consumer price index showed a living cost increase of only 0.2 per cent, the smallest advance in 20 months, Herbert Stein, a member of the Council of Economic Advisers, told newsmen the administration's economic policies had defeated inflation.

Following the announcement that the index increased by 0.5 per cent in September — a rate about as high as the inflated days last winter — McCracken insisted that monthly fluctuations should not be overemphasized.

"I have cautioned on a great many occasions that we have to be very careful about monthly wobbles in the data," he said. "If next month the figure turns out to be an extremely good figure, that same caution will be pertinent then."

McCracken said that when the figures are taken three months at a time, the pace of inflation has dropped from a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 6.3 per cent in the first quarter to 5.8 per cent in the second quarter and 4.2 per cent in the third quarter. He predicted inflation in the fourth quarter, which began Oct. 1, would be slightly less than the third quarter mark.

If prices rose for a full year at the September pace, the annual increase would be more than 6 per cent.

In his White House news conference, McCracken declined to discusss unemployment which an earlier government report placed at 5.5 per cent of the work force last month.

Asked by newsmen if the administration's economic policies were working McCracken replied: "There is no question but what the evidence is clearly in the affirmative."

When a newsman asked what an indication of failure, the former University of Michigan economist answered, "Well I just can't conceive of anything that would suggest that."

McCracken said he was not satisfied with the present rate of inflation but he said, "We have made real progress and I am delighted to see the visible progress that we have seen through the year."

Forest Would Seek Curbs On The Press

Joseph A. Forest of Novato, Democratic nominee for state Assembly, yesterday said that, if elected, he will push for legislation to prohibit newspapers from publishing the names of minors arrested for misdemeanors "and other nonserious crimes."

Forest, addressing a student audience at Redwood High School, said the practice by newspapers prejudiced the cases of such young persons, blemishing their public record before any juvenile court proceeding, according to a press release from Forest's campaign headquarters.

Judge Absolves Nudist Policeman Of Bare Charges

BALTIMORE (UPI)—A policeman has a constitutional right to be a nudist in his off-duty hours, a federal judge ruled here.

The ruling reversed a decision by tte Baltimore Police Department. The department declined to hire its top application because he belonged to a nudist camp.

U.S. District Judge Edward Northrop said the decision violated the constitutional right of free associatiion of John Jerome Burns, 30, of Glen Burnie, as the American Civil liberties union had argued in the case.

Northrop ordered Bruns placed on the force within seven days. In his 26-page opinion, Northrop said "bare allegations" that Bruns would have difficulty investigating indecent exposure and pornography cases were insufficient to disqualify him from the force.

SPEAKER — Retired Army Maj. Gen. William F. Dean will speak at the annual Eagle recognition dinner of the Marin Council of Boy Scouts at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the officers' mess at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Mulford Files Libel Suit Against Stark

OAKLAND (UPI)—Don Mulford, Republican assemblyman seeking re-election, filed a $5 million libel suit Thursday against Fortney H. Stark Jr., the Security National Bank president.

Mulford contended a letter by Stark "defamed" him during the campaigning.

Mitchell Defense May Call Calley Testimony On My Lai

FT. HOOD, Tex. (UPI)—Lt. William Calley, the most prominent of the My Lai massacre defendants, may be among the witnesses called by the defense in the court martial of S.Sgt. David Mitchell.

The defense, caught by surprise when the prosecution rested its case Tuesday against Mitchell following testimony from only three witnesses, asked for and received a delay in presenting its arguments.

Defense Attorney Ossie Brown was scheduled to call his first witness after the court martial reconvened today. 1:30 p.m. EDT today.

UPI has learned Calley, facing trial at Ft. Benning, Ga., on charges stemming from the My Lai massacre, may be one of the witnesses called by Brown, who said he planned to open his defense by calling a former member of Mitchell's Vietnam unit. Calley was Mitchell's platoon leader when their unit allegedly swept through the My Lai village on March 16, 1968.

Mitchell, 30, is charged with assault with intent to murder 30 Vietnamese at My Lai. Calley faces charges of murder of 102 Vietnamese in the same incident.

Brown was expected to present at least one witness who will testify that Mitchell was not at a ditch where the government contends he committed the assault.

Three prosecution witnesses placed Mitchell at the ditch where about 30 Vietnamese were shot, but only one of the three—Charles Sledge of Sardis, Miss.—said he actually saw Mitchell shoot at the civilians.

Prosecution testimony had been expected to continue through most of this week. But prosecuting attorney Capt. Michael Swan abruptly rested his case after calling only the three witnesses who were on the stand a total of five hours.

Sledge said he watched as Mitchell and Calley shoved the old men, women and children into the ditch, then fired into the group with automatic weapons.

Novelist Goes To Jail Wearing Coat And Tie

SANTA ANA, Calif. (UPI)—Truman Capote, who has researched some of his books including "$n Cold Blood" in prison interviews, surrendered to the county jailer Wednesday to begin a three-day contempt of court sentence.

Capote, dressed in a suit and wearing a tie, did not say a word as he was taken to a cell separated from other inmates.

The novelist was found in contempt Monday by Superior Court Judge Byron K. McMillan for failure to appear as a witness at the penalty phase of a murder trial.

Two days of a five-day jail sentence were suspended on the condition Capote pay a $50 fine.

The author was subpoenaed to testify in the penalty trial of Joseph Morse, convicted of killing a fellow San Diego jail inmate. The case was switched from San Diego to here on a venue change.

Nicklaus Predicting High Opening Scores

NAPA, Calif. (UPI) — Jack Nicklaus, playing "reasonably well" despite trouble making club selection, began defense of his title in the $150,000 Kaiser International Open Golf Tournament today figuring in advance he won't shoot a very good round.

Nicklaus, winner of the British Open, Piccadilly Match Play and the Byron Nelson Classic this year, shot a three under par 36-33—69 Wednesday in the pro-am prelude to the tournament. He said he couldn't remember ever playing in such heavy air.

HIGH SCORES

"The ball just wouldn't go," said the Golden Bear, "and I honestly think scores in the first round will be a little higher than they should be."

Nivklaus' prediction was based on the fact that the Silverado Country Club's two courses—the north and south—are wet from rain earlier in the week and from rain Wednesday night.

"It's not so much the wetness," said Nicklaus, who won the 1969 Kaiser title in a four-way playoff with Billy Casper, George Archer and Don January, "but the heavy air. I can't remember ever having played where the air was so heavy. Ordinary seven iron shots now are six iron shots and even then I was short a couple of times."

TOP STARS

Nicklaus faces the usual lineup of tour stars in the Kaiser, among them the three men he beat in last year's playoff plus PGA champ Dave Stockton.

Missing from the cast, though, are Arnold Palmer and Tony Jacklin. Jacklin, the U.S. Open champ, beat Palmer Sunday in the French Tournament of Champions and both decided to pass up the Kaiser.

Nicklaus, committed only to playing in next week's Sahara and the Heritage Open as of the moment, said he played about as well as he could in the Kaiser Pro-Am considering the weather.

"If the weather clears and the course dries out a little," he said, "then I think we will see the scores improve. But I honestly don't think anyone is going to burn it up in the opening round, including me."

TWO COURSES

The Kaiser will be played over Silverado's two courses today and tomorrow with the field teeing off from both the first and 10th tees. The field then will be cut tot he low 70 and ties for the final two rounds which will be played over the north.

The north course plays to 36-36—72 and is longer at 6,613 yards. The south is pegged at 35-37—72 and stretches 6,559 yards.

"Both are playing long now," said Nicklaus. "A man who can hit it out should do better than the one who can't."

That means the long-hitters stand a better chance. Besides Nicklaus the long hitters here are Martin Roesink of Holland, Rod Funseth and John Schlee. Roesink and Schlee shot five under 67s in the Pro-Am and Funseth had a four under 68.

DRAMATIC

Last year's windup was about as dramatic a finish as there was on the PGA tour. Nicklaus, Casper, Archer and January all wound up with 15 under par scores of 273. On the first extra

FOOTBALL STRATEGY TALK

Warriors In N.Y.

The game at Madison Square Garden will wind up a three-game, three-night, three-city trip for the Warriors, who are tied for third in the Pacific Division with a 2-2 mark.

In Atlanta Wednesday night, Lou Hudson hit a field goal and free throw in the final 30 seconds of play to give the Hawks a 102-100 victory over San Francisco.

Hudson's clutch points ended what had been a close battle. In the final 12 minutes, the Hawks never led by more than two points.

Walt Hazzard paced the Atlanta scorers with 29 points and Hudson pumped in another 24. For the Warriors, Jeff Mullins led with 19 points and Joe Ellis came off the bench to add 15.

Buddy Sullivan Takes Over As Head Pro At Marin Club

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Buddy Sullivan, a golfer who tried to scoop out some gold from the PGA pot six years on the tour, is now the resident professional at Marin Country Club in Novato.

Sullivan, 39, replaced Wally Murray, who went out of business after being with Marin Country Club for about a year.

A scratch golfer since age 15, Sullivan is currently top point winner out of 300 professionals in Northern California weekly tournaments and because of this gets an automatic spot in the Kaiser International tournament this week on the Silverado course in Napa.

Being in a Professional Golfers Association official event such as the Kaiser will be nothing new to Sullivan who was on the pro tour from 1956 to 1962. He came an eyelash away from winning top prize once, in the 1962 Tucson Open. He tied for first with Dave Hill and Tommy Bolt but lost to Hill in a playoff.

During that tournament he cracked the course record with a blazing round of 61, one of six course records he still holds. In addition to the Tucson Golf Club mark he has current records at Peach Tree Country Club in Marysville (62), Butte Cfeek Country Club in Chico (65), Baywood Country Club in Arcata (65) Presidio Club in San Francisco and Massalion C. C., Ohio, (64).

Now he's setting his sights on the Marin Country Club course record, and it's a good one — a 63, fired by Donald Thompson on Sept. 27, 1964.

In 1961 Buddy was low qualifier in the U.S. Open, firing a two-round score of 134 to make the elite field.

A native of Sacramento, Sullivan started out by caddying at Del Paso Country Club, a swank private club in that city. He also worked at a driving range, helping out professional Tom LoPresti. When LoPresti moved to Haggin Oaks municipal course in Sacramento, Sullivan went, too.

"I actually had thought about being a court reporter," Sullivan said, "but I changed my mind and went into golf. I turned pro at 19. I guess that's really what I wantedt o do all along."

He moved to Chicago in 1954 and was assistant pro under Bill Ogden for two years before going on the tour in 1956. His most recent job before coming to Marin was as head pro at Butte Creek Country Club in Chico. He's still commuting weekly and hopes to bring wife Merrylee and three children from Chico to Marin as soon as he finds a house. He's planning to live in Marin Country Club Estates.

Buddy's assistant pro is Chris Griffin who was with him at the Chico course. Sullivan is on the board of directors of the Northern California PGA for the term 1970-72.

A Costly Lesson For Bradshaw

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—A contrite Terry Bradshaw will not go home to Shreveport, La., again until his first pro football season is over.

"I learned my lesson," Bradshaw said after he was fined for missing practice Tuesday with the Pittsburgh Steelers. He said he was unable to get back in time for the practice after a visit to Shreveport.

STAYING

"I won't be going home again until after the season. I wouldn't leave again if he (Coach Chuck Noll) told me I could. We've won two in a row now and I don't want to do anything to spoil that."

The Steelers said Bradshaw's fine was "substantial." Bradshaw also said it was "substantial to me."

It was the second time in a week the team fined the No. 1 pro football draft choice. He was hit for $25 last weekend in Houston when he was five minutes late for a meal.

Bradshaw's failure to make practice followed an announcement by Noll indicating he would use the Louisiana Tech star more regularly at quarterback, abandoning his original game plan which switched Bradshaw and No. 2 quarterback Terry Hanratty.

PERMISSION

The Steelers had given Bradshaw and other players permission to leave the club following Sunday games, as long as they were back in Pittsburgh for Tuesday practice. Monday is a regular day off.

Bradshaw said the Shreveport airport was fogged in and he could not return on the flight he normally takes. He said a later flight was delayed and then terminated in St. Louis. He did not get to Pittsburgh until late Tuesday night.

"Terry called me Monday night and told me he was unable to get a plane out of Shreveport," Noll said. "He said something about being fogged in or something. That's no excuse for missing a practice."

Japan's Ohba Is Flyweight Boxing King

Referee Enrique Jimenez, Jr., of Manila stopped the fight at two minutes, 16 seconds of the 13th round when the champion was floored for the second time and appeared incapable of defending himself.

Ohba, the WBA No. 1 flyweight contender, became the fourth Japanese to win the world flyweight title. The others were Yoshio Shirai, Fighting Harada and Hiroyuki Ebihara.

Ohba joined three other Japanese world champions at the present time. They are Hiroshi Kobayashi, the WBA junior lightweight champion, Yoshiaki Numata, World Boxing Council (WBC) junior lightweight title holder, and Shozo Saijo, the WBA featherweight champion.

Berkrerk failed in the first defense of the title which he won from Bernabe Villacampo on April 6 in Bangkok.

Seals Get A Little Closer

OAKLAND (UPI) — If it's any consolation, the California Golden Seals are coming closer to notching their first National Hockey League win of the season.

After dropping their first five games, the Seals picked up a point Wednesday night with a 2-2 tie against the St. Louis Blues, who moved into first place in the Western Division.

However, Gary Sabourin and George Marshall scored within a 62-second span of the third period to give the defending division champion Blues the tie.

Hextall got his fourth score of the year at 4:25 of the middle period when he shoved in a rebound off Blues goaltender Glenn Hall's pads.

In the third period, Sabourin rammed in a goal at the 12:37 mark and Marshall tied it at 13.39.

49ers Can Do Oakland A Favor This Sunday

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco 49ers can do themselves and the cross-bay Oakland Raiders a big favor this Sunday by beating Denver here.

The 49ers would move up to 4-1-1 with a win over the Broncos. Western division leader Los Angeles will take a 4-1 mark into mighty Minnesota Monday night.

A Denver loss would leave them at 4-2 atop the Raiders' division and if the Raiders could then beat Pittsburgh, they would move into the thick of things at 3-2-1.

The 49ers say linebacker Dave Wilcox and offensive guard Randy Beisler will be back in action Sunday, but defensive end Stan Hindman will miss one more game.

CASSIUS CLAY

Clay, Quarry Trade Verbal Accusations

ATLANTA (UPI) — Cassius Clay can always be counted on to add a little life when there is a lull in the pre-fight excitement.

None of the trouble predicted for the last 3 1-2 years during Clay's suspension from boxing has materialized for his comeback bout with Jerry Quarry on Monday night. The Atlanta Police Department has not even made any special plans for the bout, and local posts of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars indicated they don't have any plans to demonstrate.

It has not been the kind of reception that was predicted for Clay since he was suspended for refusing to go into the Army in 1967. However, Clay, who was vocally subdued for most of his training, suddenly brought things to life when he was examined along with Quarry by Drs. Calvin Brown and James Ellison at the pre-fight physical.

"Do you really believe you have a chance against me?" Clay needled.

"Listen," Quarry snapped back, "nobody won a fight because he has a big mouth. I don't like much you've been saying."

"I've beat every man I ever fought," Clay deadpanned. "Men like Patterson, Liston, Chuvalo. I was the champion before anybody ever heard of Jerry Quarry."

SUCCESSFUL OPERATION

Season Over For Sayers

CHICAGO (UPI)—Star running back Gale Sayers of the Chicago Bears should be physically ready for the 1971 season after his second knee operation in three years, Dr. Theodore Fox said Thursday.

Sayers has "no chance" to return to the Bears this season, Fox said after operating on Sayers' left knee to treat damaged posterior ligaments. He also operated on Bears running back Craig Baynham for a "dislocated" tendon in his ankle.

Fox said both operations were "completely successful" and that nothing unexpected was found in the injuries of either player. Sayers, he said, would be in a cast for six weeks and would have to do certain exercises during that time and later.

He said Baynham will be in a cast for four weeks and "a week or two later" should be ready to play again. Thus, Baynham might be able to rejoin the Bears for the last few games of the season.

Fox said the operation performed on Sayers Wednesday was not as serious as the operation performed in 1968, when Sayers' recovery was so complete that he won the National Football League rushing title in 1969 with gains of more than 1,000 yards.

"It's the same operation that was performed on George Seals two years ago," Fox said, "and the same operation on Pat Stapleton of the Chicago Black Hawks." Seals has been a starter for the Bears this year and Stapleton has rejoined the Black Hawks.

MILD HEART ATTACK

Ole Miss' Vaught Resting

OXFORD, Miss. (UPI)—Head Coach John H. Vaught of the University of Mississippi was listed in "excellent condition" late Wednesday after suffering a mild heart attack at his home.

An attending physician said the veteran 62-year-old coach was "doing beautifully, free of discomfort and all symptoms which required hospitalization have disappeared."

However, he was expected to remain hospitalized for further tests at least over the coming weekend.

This means Vaught will not be on hand when the Rebels meet Vanderbilt Saturday night —his 250th game since taking over as head coach at Ole Miss in 1947 and the first one he has missed.

A university spokesman said Vaught suffered the attack at his home late Tuesday night, complaining of pains in his chest and left arm. The spokesman said Vaught at first believed he was catching the flu.

The attack came only three days after Vaught's highly-regarded Rebels, led by quarterback Archie Manning, were upset 30-14 by Southern Mississippi. It was their first loss of the season and snapped a nine-game win streak dating back to 1969.

Ole Miss Athletic Director C. M. "Tad" Smith also was hospitalized with a mild heart attack suffered shortly before the Southern game. Smith's condition also was reported good.

Vaught, a native of Texas, has no record of heart trouble and university officials said the attack was not believed serious.

Two Pro-Ams At Silverado

NAPA (UPI)—Martin Roesink, the long-hitting pro from Holland, won $500 Wednesday for taking one of two Pro-Am preludes to the $150,000 Kaiser International Open Golf Tournament.

Roesink shot a five under par 67 over the Silverado Country Club's South Course and in the best-ball team competition he had a 14 under 58. A team headed by Ken Still won the best-ball and Still earned $400 for the effort.

Chuck Courtney and John Schlee shot five under 67s over the North Course to tie for the lead and each won $462.50. Charlie Sifford's team took the North best-ball with a 17 under 55 and it earned him $400.

Blind Golfer Scores First Hole-In-One

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UP)—Charley Boswell, 16-time winner of the National Blind Golf Tournament, got his first hole-in-one Wednesday.

Boswell, who took up golf shortly after being blinded in World War II, aced the 141-yard 14th hole at the Vestavia Country Club course. He used a six iron.

hole—the 15th—Nicklaus, Casper and Archer remained tied with birds while January fell out of the running.

Darkness set in at that point and play was halted.

The following morning Nicklaus, Casper and Archer went to the 16th hole to continue the playoff and Nicklaus wound things up by running home a 14 foot birdy putt. Archer missed a long putt in a try for a matching bird and Casper wound up in sand trouble.

CRAMPTON

Next year, the exemption scoring system will be changed, according to PGA Commissioner Joseph Dey. The new system, according to Dey, will be based on the money breakdown for each tourney with a player receiving points in direct relationship to money won.

Laker Free Throws Beat 76ers; Pistons Win Again

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

It's not easy to score one more field goal than your opponent and still lose a game by 24 points but that's exactly what the Philadelphia 76ers did Wednesday night.

The 76ers sank 51 baskets compared to 50 for the Lakers but Philadelphia came out on the short end of a 141-117 decision and dropped its first game of the season after posting four wins.

The refs called the 76ers for 34 personal fouls while the Lakers committed only 16 infractions and since the game was played at Philly's Spectrum, the question is, What ever became of the so-called home court advantage in pro basketball?

Jerry West, with 14 baskets and nine of 10 from the free throw line, paced the Lakers with 37 points and teammate Wilt Chamberlain chipped in with 26 in addition to hauling down 22 rebounds. Billy Cunningham's 22 points paced the 76ers.

Los Angeles held only a 55-52 lead at halftime but insured its second win in four games by outscoring Philadelphia 41-25 in the third period with West tallying 16 of his points in the decisive quarter.

Elsewhere in the National Basketball Association, Detroit downed Boston 121-118, Atlanta shaded San Francisco 102-100, Seattle topped Phoenix 110-106, and Baltimore beat Cincinnati 117-105.

Unbeaten Detroit notched its fifth victory thanks to Dave Bing's 35 points and 25 more by were trailing 110-103 with only 4:32 left to play but Walker led a late rally.

Bob Rule tallied four points in the last minute of play as Seattle fought off rallying Phoenix. Rule paced the Supersonics with 25 points and player-coach Len Wilkens had 22 while the Suns were led by rookie Greg Howard's 26 points and 25 by Connie Hawkins.

Baltimore took advantage of poor shooting by Cincinnati to hand the winless Royals their third loss, all at home. Cincinnati connected on only 44 of 111 shots from the field while the Bullets hit on the same number of goals with 15 fewer shots. Gus Johnson led Baltimore with 27 points and Jack Marin had 26 while Norm Van Lier was high for the Royals with 17.

NATIONAL HOCKEY LEAGUE

Montreal Fans Going Other Way

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Not only is the quality of hockey changing in Montreal, but the hometown fans are also swaying with the times.

The Canadiens failed to make the National Hockey League playoffs last season for the first time in 22 years and it was only natural that a general house cleaning follow. General Manager Sam Pollock swept a big broom during the summer as Montreal decided to build with youth.

Three of the discards, plus another young man who spurned the Canadiens organization, came back to haunt the Habs Wednesday night as the Minnesota North Stars won a 3-1 decision at Montreal. Ted Harris was selected the defensive star of the game, Judes Drouin scored one goal and assisted on another and Bobby Rousseau had an assist.

The man who passed up a chance to play with Montreal was goaltender Gilles Gilbert, and he had a sensational night by stopping 46 Canadien shots in only his second NHL game.

The Montreal fans, once among the most partisan in hockey, have reacted to the changing tides by showing greater appreciation for the visiting teams. In the case of Minnesota, this isn't too hard since a good deal of the North Stars came from the Canadiens. On Wednesday night, the Forum crowd of 15,425 saved its biggest cheers for Harris and Gilbert giving both players a standing ovation at the end of the game.

Elsewhere in the NHL, the New York Rangers ran up their fourth consecutive victory by eding the Toronto Maple Leafs, 3-2, the St. Louis Blues salvaged a 2-2 tie against the California Golden Seals by scoring twice in the final period, and the Los Angeles Kings beat the Pittsburgh Penguins, 4-2.

"It feels good to win anytime, but playing against my old team I gave it that little extra effort," said Harris, who spent six years with Montreal. "I just love this Minnesota team. We have the real spirit here and I'm sure we're going to make the playoffs."

Rousseau, who spent 10 years with the Canadiens and received a tremendous ovation at the start of the game, said he "was very nervous when I stepped on the ice playing in front of my old fans, but since it was against my ex-teammates I had to try a little harder."

Goal Line Drills For Cal Bears

BERKELEY (UPI) -- University of California football players concentrated on goal offense and defense in a 2 1/2-hour workout Wednesday in preparation for their home game with Washington State.

Coach Ray Willsey also put the squad through as much passing drills as possible as a hedge against today's possible rain forecast.

Phil Croyle, who was recently named Co-Player of the Week in the Pacific-8 Conference, returned to practice after missing two days with a bruised thigh.

But O. Z. White, the starting defensive guard, was out for a second day with food poisoning, and defensive tackle Sherman White missed contact because of a knee injury suffered in the UCLA game.

Giants' Unusual Pruning Operation

Maybe the Giants were just making elbow room on their 1971 baseball roster when they assigned the contracts of six marginal players to their Phoenix farm club Tuesday.

But it was an unusual pruning operation that reduced the big club's current roster to 33 players, seven under the permissible spring training maximum of 40 and eight above the active season maximum of 25.

FOR YEARS the Giants —and all other major league clubs, for that matter — have carried a maximum of 40 players into spring training. Of the 40, a dozen are just in camp for the experience.

Obviously the order to trim the roster came from Horace Stoneham. Nobody in the Giant organization gives such orders except the president.

What was the reason for trimming the roster now? There was no explanation from the Giants' publicity office which made the announcement. Indeed, the men in the publicity office were puzzled.

IT'S HIGHLY unlikely the seven open spots on the 1971 roster, as it now stands, will be filled by draft choices during the minor and major league meetings in Los Angeles Nov. 30-Dec. 5. The Giants, drafting as low as 16th, will be lucky to find one or two unprotected sleepers in other major league organizations.

And it's unlikely that the Giants have seven additional players in their own minor league farm system ready for a shot at a major league berth at this time.

SO IT DOESN'T make sense to attribute the pruning to maneuverable elbow room for potential draft additions from other major league organizations or callups from the Giants' own minor league clubs.

Perhaps Stoneham is going to send his 1971 Giants into spring training with less than a 40-man maximum roster. The cost of carrying a 40-man roster into spring camp has been getting a second look from all major league owners since they signed a new three-year contract with players last May.

ONE OF THE provisions of the new contract raised major league minimum pay from $10,000 to $12,000 in 1970, $12,750 in 1971 and $13,500 in 1972 with termination pay.

Under the old termination pay agreement, a player got no salary at all if cut during spring training and 30 days pay if cut during the season. Under the new agreement, a player got no salary at all if cut during spring training and 30 days pay if cut during the season. Under the new agreement, a player receives 30 days pay if cut during the training season and 60 days if cut during the regular season. In 1972, players cut on or after May 15 will get their entire contract pay.

Blue Flame Tries Again For Record

The latest delay in a series of setbacks was caused by a lack of fuel after Sunday's ear-popping run that unofficially made Gary Gabelich of Long Beach, Calif., the fastest man on wheels.

Today's run was not expected to get under way until afternoon. Midday temperatures are more conducive to a high-speed run in the liquefied natural gas-powered flame.

Although Gabelich went faster than any racer before him Sunday, malfunctions caused a slower second run and the Flame was not able to come up with a high enough average speed to break the record.

The world record is based on the average of two runs which must be made within an hour. The present mark, set in 1965 by Craig Breedlove, stands at 600.601 miles an hour.

Sunday, Gabelich had a combined average time of 601.700 m.p.h for the measured mile, but the rule books say the record must be bettered by one per cent.

That means the California speedster must run at least 606.607 m.p.h. for the record.

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG

Women should use as heavy a ball as they can comfortably handle. For most women, this would be a 14-pounder (the maximum weight is 16 pounds). Lighter balls simply do not have the heft to scatter the pins. The proper fit is found in this manner: Insert your thumb all the way into the hole; the inside edge of the finger holes should contact the middle of the center finger joints.

Marin Runners Get Stiff Test

College of Marin's fine cross-country team, with a 3-0 record in Camino Norte Conference action, gets its first real test of the season Saturday in the Fresno Invitational.

Marin coach Tony Bailey feels that such opponents as the University of California junior varsity and powerful American River College of Sacramento, both of whom will compete at Fresno, will provide a good indication of the Tars' real strength.

Bailey notes that all the Tars have shown improvement from week to week. The last time out on their home course, Steve Silvey bettered his best time there by more than a minute, Bob Bode by two minutes and Mark Miller by three.

Against Solano last week in a meet at Vacaville, Marin's time — spread among the first five runners on the team was one of the best in the team's history — a mere minute and 21 seconds.

The pleasant surprise for the Tars that day was Seamus O'Reilly. Promoted to the number two spot behind superstar Don Makela when Keith Krieger came up with a bruised foot, Seamus finished second to assure Marin's 25-32 victory.

UNFORTUNATELY, things are not going so well for Marin's football and water polo teams. The Tar gridders were never a factor as they lost last Saturday, 42-7 to West Valley of Campbell, the Camino Norte Conference leader and sixth ranked junior college team in California.

This Saturday the Tars travel to Vallejo for a conference game under the lights with Solano, and, according to coach Dick Read, they have a chance in this one. Like Marin, the Falcons are experiencing difficulties, having won only two of five games. They dropped their conference opener to Santa Rosa last week, 42-8.

At least the Tars will be healthy this time — the healthiest, in fact, they've been all year. Guard Mike Russell, and safeties Pete Carroll and Homer Hall have all recovered from minor injuries that kept them on the bench against West Valley.

SAVING THE worst for last, we turn to the Tars' water polo squad. Two weeks ago, after losing four straight to start the season, the Tars claimed a 19-12 victory over City College of San Francisco. But their good fortune was shortlived. They traveled to De Anza last Friday and got clobbered, 26-3.

Jets-Bills Game Goes Off Board

NEW YORK (UPI)—The absence of Joe Namath at quarterback has prompted the oddsmakers to take this Sunday's New York Jets-Buffalo Bills game off the line.

Namath, who suffered a fractured bone in his right wrist against the Colts last week, will be out of action indefinitely. Second-year man Al Woodall is scheduled to start for the Jets.

The Bills upset the Jets earlier this season in Buffalo. That was their only victory. Both teams have identical 1-4 records.

In other games Sunday Miami is a three point favorite over Cleveland, Minnesota is four over Los Angeles, St. Louis is six over the New York Giants, San Francisco is seven over Denver, Atlanta is seven over New Orleans, Kansas City is 10 over Dallas, Baltimore is 14 over Boston, Green Bay is 14 over Philadelphia and Detroit is 14 over Chicago.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. From what I have read it seems to me that convertible bonds fit my investment needs best. My requirements are gradual appreciation, better than average income and safety of principal. Would you recommend two or three? — W.H.

A. In theory convertible bonds should fit in with your investment goals. In practice, however, careful selection is as vital to success as it is with any other investment vehicle. The merit of a bond as an income investment, exclusive of its convertible feature, should be weighed and if the bond is selling at too high a price in relation to its investment worth it should be eliminated from your list of buy candidates.

Equally important for growth is the premium at which a bond is selling in relation to its conversion value. As for safety, the highly touted downside protection afforded by convertible bonds has been questioned recently by buyers and holders.

The unusual combination of soaring interest rates and plummeting stock prices proved overwhelming for this investment vehicle. As a result, the number of new convertibles coming to market is sharply below record level reached in 1967 of over $4 billion. Since May of this year the number of major new issues could be counted on your fingers. However, both economic and market conditions have become more hospitable recently and public interest in convertibles has resumed.

Two features which are of interest to potential buyers are the lower commissions charged on bond transactions and the 50 per cent margin (65 per cent on stocks) allowed on purchases. Three convertible bonds which are currently attractive (premiums can shift rather rapidly so that recommendations are subject to change) are: American Airlines 4¼s of 1992, Armstrong Rubber 4½s of 1987 and Maryland Cup 5⅛s of 1994. All three currently yield over 6% and sell at conversion premiums below 28%.

Q. Would you print once again the address of the National Association of Investment Clubs? I forgot to cut it out before. — E. C.

A. Gladly. It is: 1300 Washington Boulevard Building, Detroit, Michigan, 48226.

Walgreen Drugs Plans Store In Novato Shopping Center

Plans are said to be in progress by the National Walgreen Drugs chain, headquartered in Chicago, for construction of a large discount drug center in the Novato Fair Shopping Center, Novato.

Preliminary drawings are being prepared by the Robert B. Liles architectural office in San Francisco (Liles is a San Rafael resident) and these should soon develop into working drawings. But there will be long intervals between sketches, necessary approvals, ground breaking and completed construction - all adding up to another 12 months or more before the proposed drug facility has its grand opening.

BANK OF MARIN has had approved its application of last July to the State Banking Department for permission to establish a branch office in Sausalito. The branch is proposed for the vicinity of Bridgeway and Harbor Drive.

WALTER LEPTIEN of San Rafael is manager of the new Cala Foods store which opened last week in Marinwood. He was formerly manager of the Cala store in Novato and before that managed the Fairfax store. He was with the Jolly Markets before they were taken over by Cala.

PHILLIP E. HIARING of San Anselmo has been named a public relations officer at Crocker Citizens National Bank in San Francisco. He joined the bank as publicity manager in July, 1969 and is the son of wine expert Philip Hiaring, also a San Anselmo resident.

NEW ON THE SAN ANSELMO office staff of Gallagher-Sturiale, Realtors is young James D. Draper of Ross (who was once coached in boxing by his boss James Gallagher). Draper, now married, was active in football at Sir Francis Drake High School and College of Marin. He is a graduate of the Lumbleau School of Real Estate and is presently enrolled in business courses at College of Marin.

SAN RAFAEL real estate broker Michael J. Scotto, who organized and heads Capital Planning Associates, Inc. and its wholly-owned subsidiary California West Properties at Northgate Industrial Park, reports that the combined gross in real estate sales, policies written, mergers and other transactions by the two companies for the first nine months of 1970 tops $15 million.

According to Scotto, in less than a year's time their activities have begun to expand into other western states and it is anticipated that branch offices will be opened to handle the business.

HIGH FLYING COUNTY. In 1969, 65,000 Marin households took 134,625 airplane trips - an average of 2.07 trips per household. By comparison, San Francisco averaged 1.78 trips per household.

DARTNELL INSTITUTE OF RESEARCH offers this explanation of the basic difference between a sales manager and a marketing manager, which are often confused:

A sales manager tends to be product oriented, whereas the marketing manager must be customer oriented.

Unfortunately, says the institute, many sales managers show too little interest in market research, production scheduling, finance, accounting similar functions and should gain more competence in them - also in advertising, sales promotion, product development, sales forecasting, transportation and warehousing.

$15,000 Income Growing Market

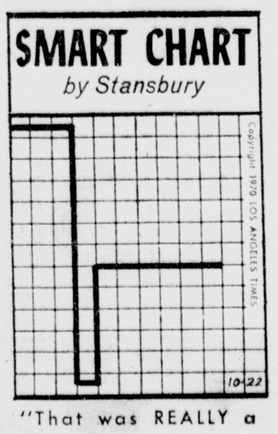
NEW YORK (UPI) — Does your family have an annual income of $15,000 to $25,000?

If so, you're in the fastest-growing family income bracket, says a 10-year survey by Meinhard-Commercial Corp. a factoring and financing company.

The firm's analysis of government figures shows this income group grew from 2.8 per cent of all families in 1960 to 15.6 per cent in 1969 —an increase of 528 per cent. It now embraces more than 7.9 million families.



"That was REALLY a month."

Declines Lead Advances 2-1 On Exchange

Declines outnumbered advances at a ratio of about two-to-one, 852 to 420, and the Dow Jones industrial average was off 1.98 at 757.67 near the final bell.

Turnover amounted to around 9,000,000 shares, down from 11,330,000 shares traded Wednesday.

Closing prices included: AT&T 43 1-4 off 1-8; Bethlehem Steel 21 1-2 up 1-8; Chrysler 24 1-2 up 1-8; DuPont 118 1-2 off 1; Ford 50 3-8; General Electric 85 1-8 up 1-8, and General Motors 71 7-8 up 5-8.

Point-sized losers were noticeable in the electronics, but in general price moves were confined to fractions, with selected issues attracted to corporate news.

Copper issues attracted some selling pressure. On Wednesday, Phelps Dodge announced the first market-dictated copper price cut in nearly 10 years. Anaconda took similar action Thursday.

Steels and motors moved over narrow ranges, as did rails, airlines, chemicals, and aircrafts. Oils traded widely in both directions.

Among the day's most active stocks were American Crystal Sugar, Telex Corp., Philip Morris, Fannie Mae, Natomas, Niagara Mohawk Power, and Southern Co.

Analysts attributed the market's softer tone to disappointment with a number of third quarter earnings statements, the strike at General Motors Corp., the lack of solid evidence that the economy is improving, and a government report indicating that inflation is still running out of hand.

On Wednesday, the government noted that the cost of living rose one-half of one per cent in September, more than double the rate in August when the Nixon administration hailed a 0.2 per cent rise as evidence its anti-inflation campaign was succeeding.

Prices Down In Light Turnover

With about an hour remaining, declines were outscoring advances, 818 to 368, and the Dow Jones industrial average was off a little more than a point at 757.94.

A four-hour turnover of 6,520,000 shares was down from 8,230,000 shares traded a like period Wednesday.

Point-sized losers were noticeable in the electronics, but in general price moves were confined to fractions, with selected issues responding to corporate news.

One analyst said the latest cost of living report and the GM strike mean that the market "is likely to continue to wind down at least until after the November elections."

Backgrounds Important Key In Smallman, Zunino Bidding

Two attorneys seeking the Marin Municipal Court judgeship being vacated at the end of the year by Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. are stressing differences in their backgrounds which each feels makes him more competent.

Both Robert A. Smallman, San Rafael attorney, and Deptuy Dist. Atty. Ernest C. Zunino, running in the Nov. 3 election, also present dfiferent views on problems confronting courts today.

The two men were survivors of a 13-man primary election last June, with Zunino the top vote getter.

Zunino, who has strong backing from law officer, says that he is a "strong believer in punishment being a deterrent to individual criminals and to others."

He adds that his experience first as a probation officer and later as a district attorney has shown him that the overwhelming majority of persons who commit felony crimes are graduates of juvenile and municipal courts.

While he believes probation is good for first offenders, Zunino said that persons who commit new offenses while on probation must receive more severe punishments for subsequent crimes.

Zunio also feels that the importance of municipal courts who deal with 95 per cent of the felonies in the county in their early stages of legal proceedings is underrated.

"Such maters as the setting of bail and preliminary hearings are very important," he said.

Zunino has stressed that he feels he is more competent than Smallman to handle criminal matters, which he says take up most of the municipal court's time.

He has said that he would continue the current practice of referring even first-time drunken driver offenders to the probation department because he feels this offense is a serious problem.

"A straight $350 fine is treating this offense with a rubber stamp and doesn't accomplish much," he said.

As to court decorum, Zunino said that he thinks the behavior of attorneys and defendants is more important than their dress. (Judge Goldstein last week fined an attorney $100 for appearing in court tieless and clad in jeans.)

Zunino, whose wife Sally is also a graduate criminologist, lives in France with their two young children.

He has been in the district attorney's office for six years and also was in private practice for four and a half years. Before becoming an attorney, he was a probation officer and directed the county's first work furlough program.

Smallman's background includes two years in the district attorney's ofifce and five in the county counsel's office during which time he also maintained a private practice.

"There should be some discouragement for every criminal offense," Smallman says. He feels that the probation department should be used to supervise felony offenders and not a referral agency for misdemeanants.

Like Zunino, he views drunken driving as a serious problem, but says he favors a weekend jail sentence as a deterrent.

Smallman, however, stressed that he would work with the other two municipal court judges for "uniform justice" rather than impose sentences unlike those by the other two.

"I can't imagine anything worse than people saying 'I got sent to jail by judge so-and-so when I would have got only a fine or probation from some other judge.' " he said.

Smallman feels that one of the greatest problems facing the courts is that "people are so polarized." He said that despite the fact the courts are getting more confessions and convictions than ever, many persons feel justice is not taking place.

"Unnecessary continuances" must be eliminated, he said, because these allow criminals to commit new offenses while out on bail, make testimony less accurate and make punishment ineffective.

Unlike Zunino who thinks night courts could work in Marin County as he says they do elsewhere, Smallman does not favor night sessions.

"Studies show that only 7 per cent of the people take advantage of night courts in other places, and the cost would be astronomical," he said.

Smallman, whose wife Patricia and four youngsters, ranging in age from 22 to 11 years, are all helping with his campaign, live in Kentfield.

Smallman did a great deal of door-to-door campaigning in the primary election but a broken bone in his foot has prevented him from doing this for the last five weeks.

He has had 55 coffees scheduled, however. Both he and Zunino have relied heavily on signs and posters, a campaign measure Smallman has decried as necessary but unmeaningful.

Water District Is Worth $11 Million, Board Hears

The North Marin County Water District is worth more than $11 million, the district board nas been told by manager Eugene Churchill.

Churchill said that the district land, plants and equipment were valued at $10 million, according to a pre-audit statement presented the board Tuesday night. The district has $1.4 million in cash and accounts receivable, he said.

The district's operating expenses were $52,422 more than the $504,200 budgeted for fiscal 1969-70, he said, but this was met by reserves. The excess expenses were due to purchase of more Russian River water than anticipated and to repair two serious main breaks, Churchill said.

He reported that of $3,790,000 bonds authorized in 1960, the district has sold $2.5 million, leaving $1.29 million authorized but not sold. The district has completed $3.2 million in improvements to the system with the sale of the $2.5 million in bonds. The largest expenditure was $1.25 million construction of the aqueduct to Petaluma to tap Russian River water.

Churchill reported water usage was up 17.8 per cent in September over the same month last year because of warm weahter, he said. This was an increase from 179 million to 210 million gallons.
